N-Ships Join Battle

Carrier, Frigate Off Viet Nam

(Times News Services)

SAIGON—Two nuclear-powered warships, including the biggest one in the world, today joined the U.S. 7th Fleet for use around Viet Nam as a lull in ground fighting stretched into its third straight day.

The huge aircraft carrier Enterprise and the guided missile frigate Bainbridge crossed the 160th degree of east longitude to bring them into the 7th Fleet area which covers a sixth of the globe, from the Arctic to the Antarctic and as far west as the Indian Ocean.

They are the first nuclear-powered ships to serve in the western Pacific.

They were en route to Viet Nam through the South China Sea on a voyage that started in Norfolk, Va., and took them through the South Atlantic and Indian oceans.

The 7th Fleet's Viet Nam striking force usually includes five carriers.

The Enterprise will replace one of the conventional - powered carriers.

JOIN FLEET LATER

The U.S. Navy's other two nuclear - powered vessels are scheduled to join the U.S. Pacific fleet next year, a U.S. navy statement said.

In the air, American attacks continued over both north and south Viet Nam. A reconnaissance plane Thursday night flushed seven 40-foot motorized sampans out of hiding in the Mekong Delta 130 miles southwest of Saigon, and jet bombers promptly destroyed them. Two of them were loaded with fuel and burst into flames.

U.S. bombers hit a North Vietnamese communications centre and a nearby military storage area, northwest of Hanoi.

In the highlands about 160 miles north of Saigon, South Vietnamese troops on a search-and-destroy mission killed 22 Viet Cong and captured four, as well as 650 pounds of rice and salt.

FIGHTING TAPERS OFF

In the ground war, the heavy fighting of recent days tapered off and the U.S. command said the last two days were the quietest in November.

In the Vo Dat Valley, 75 miles east-northeast of Saigon, B-52 bombers blasted a suspected Viet Cong concentration menacing the joint ground operations of several thousand U.S., Australian and South Vietnamese troops.

A U.S. military spokesman indicated the B-52 strike took place on the eastern edge of the 90-square-mile area where the allied forces are trying to rid the valley of guerrillas and protect the rice harvest.

In the bombing raids on North Viet Nam, U.S. planes destroyed a communications site near Dien Bien Phu, a group of 22 small boats further east, and dropped the span of a bridge 105 miles west of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman reported.

VANDERPOLS FINALLY MAKE IT

'A Happy Day for Us' Says Newest Canadian

By JIM HUME

The Vanderpols are Canadian citizens.

To the whirr of television cameras and the flash of cameras, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Vanderpol, 2758 Grainger, today repeated the solemn affirmation pledging allegiance to the Queen and promising to observe faithfully the laws of their new country.

Ross Martin, registrar of citizenship in Ottawa, administered the affirmation as a scarlet-coated RCMP constable stood at attention beside a red-velvet draped painting of Queen Elizabeth.

Judge Montague Tyrwhitt-Drake, the county court judge who had earlier refused their application for citizenship because they refused to swear the oath of allegiance, watched quietly from the rear of the third floor courtroom in the Immigration Building on Government Street.

The Dutch-born couple had refused to swear the oath of allegiance because they do not believe in God.

Following taking of the affirmation Citizenship and Immigration Minister John Nicholson presented the Vanderpols with their certificates of citizenship.

"The granting of these certificates here today is of particular significance," Mr. Nicholson said. "This act represents the last of a series of incidents which has put to test our convictions regarding freedom of thought and religious belief."

UNDERSTOOD REFUSAL

Mr. Nicholson added that as a former lawyer he understood the rightness of Judge Drake's earlier refusal to accept the Vanderpol's citizenship bid.

He said that at the time of the Vanderpol application Judge Drake was unaware that the Supreme Court of Ontario had reversed two decisions of lower courts and in a three-judge ruling had stated "that lack of religious belief is not a ground upon which a citizenship court should decide against an applicant for citizenship."

"As a consequence Judge Drake felt that he could not administer the oath of allegiance to Mr. and Mrs. Vanderpol since they also admitted that they were atheists and could not conscientiously swear an oath in statutory form."

50 ATTEND

About 50 people, immigration officials, friends of the Vanderpols and members of the press were on hand to witness the brief ceremony.

"It's a happy day for us," Mr. Vanderpol said clutching his citizenship papers. "I'm so glad it turned out this way."

EXPLOSION BLACKS OUT COPPER BELT

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — An explosion early today wrecked an electric power pylon and blacked out the rich copper belt in neighboring Zambia. Rhodesia's rebel Premier Ian Smith called it sabotage and said it could have been caused by Communists, "Chinese or otherwise."

The explosion around 2 a.m. destroyed a tower on the line from the Kariba Dam power complex to Kitwe in northern Zambia and interrupted copper belt supplies. The dam is on the Zambesi River which forms the border between Rhodesia and Zambia.

Sugar, Tobacco Ban Effective Immediately

OTTAWA (CP)—A ban on the import of sugar and tobacco from Rhodesia was announced today by Prime Minister Pearson. It is effective immediately.

Last year Canada bought $2,500,000 worth of sugar from Rhodesia, representing about half of this country's total purchases of $4,200,000 from the African nation.

Mr. Pearson said no Rhodesian tobacco is normally sold here but the ban is designed to block any possible efforts to begin making such sales here or shipping tobacco to Canadian points for re-export.

He announced the decision at a press conference following a cabinet meeting.

Mr. Pearson said the cabinet also has banned the approval of federal insurance on exports to Rhodesia.

He said there has been a call for world oil sanctions against Rhodesia but Canada is not involved in this because it does not send oil or petroleum products there.

PLANNING to address the United Nations General Assembly Dec. 13 is President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakiston, who will also visit President Johnson in Washington.

Japanese Strike On

TOKYO (AP) — Last-minute negotiations to avert a major shipping strike, the worst in Japanese maritime history, failed today as the 134,000-member All-Japan Seamen's Union ordered a 10-day strike at 52 major Japanese seaports to begin.

'I Intend To Remain'

SALISBURY (Reuters) — Sir Humphrey Gibbs, Britain's representative in Rhodesia, said today he would not resign as Britain's governor of the territory nor vacate Government House as requested by the new breakaway government.

In a brief statement to reporters, Gibbs said: "I intend to remain at Government House as the lawful governor of Rhodesia until such time as constitutional government is restored, which, I hope will be soon.

After Disaster, New Hope

By CANDIDE TEMPLE

Fifteen years ago the Poombari district was like most others in southern India.

Disease and poverty were rife; hunger was an ever-present phantom haunting the people.

Then a typhus epidemic struck—and brought relief to the Poombari population.

For as the epidemic hit, and spread like wildfire through the district, pleas for medical aid went out.

When the news reached Unitarian Service Committee headquarters in nearby Kodaikanai, the call was answered immediately.

A doctor and supplies of medicine were sent into the district; volunteers, both Indian and Western, did what they could .

STAYED THERE

And USC workers remained in the area after the epidemic had passed, and have been there ever since.

Two-thirds of the budget of the rural medical program operating in Poombari is underwritten by the USC through help from Canadians.

Today the villagers in the area lead a vastly improved life, free from some of the ignorance and superstition

$27.5 Million Donation

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will contribute $27,500,000 to the new three-year food distribution program of the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization, Prime Minister Pearson announced today. The amount is almost four times the $7,000,000 Canada spent on the last three-year food plan.

THOMPSON RETAINS LEADERSHIP

EDMONTON (CP) — Robert Thompson beat back two challengers to his national Social Credit leadership, defeating Bert Leboe and H. A. (Bud) Olson.

EDMONTON (CP) — Social Credit national convention delegates are scheduled to vote on the party leadership at noon today by secret ballot.

A nominations committee spokesman said Thursday party leader Robert Thompson and two other MPs, Bert Leboe, 56, and H. A. (Bud) Olson, 40, had been officially nominated.

A surprise move this morning saw H. J. Bruch, 45, Social Credit member of the B.C. Legislature for Esquimalt since 1953, nominated to contest the national president's position.

Georges Forest, of St. Boniface, Man., president of the Manitoba Social Credit League, said he nominated Mr. Bruch because "we have had organization and financial problems and these problems rest with the president."

Mr. Bruch, national vice-president of the organization in 1960-61, has campaigned extensively for the party in western Canada. He said he hopes to win considerable support from young delegates to the convention

300 TO VOTE

About 300 delegates will be voting for party officers including the leader, a national president and three vice-presidents.

If none of the leadership candidates wins more than 50 per cent of the ballots in the first vote, a second vote will be held immediately.

For the second vote, the man who polled the lowest number of ballots on the first vote will be dropped from the race.

Officially nominated for the vice-presidencies Thursday were Orvis Kennedy of Edmonton, president of the Alberta Social Credit League; J. M. Hattersley of Edmonton, J. E. Mackie of Toronto, Sam Otto of Chilliack, and J. C. Landeryou, Social Credit member of the Alberta Legislature for Lethbridge.

Jack Shaw of Penticton, Gilles Gregoire of Quebec, Creditiste MP for Lapointe, and Robert Kugland of Truro,, N.S., have resigned as vice-presidents.

France Joins Race in Space

86-Pound Satellite 'Working Normally'

PARIS (AP) — France sent a satellite orbiting around the earth today and joined the United States and Russia in the space race.

The defence ministry said the 83-pound satellite was launched successfully from the French base in the Algierian Sahara.

The satellite, called the A-1, is expected to relay radio signals on temperature and other atmospheric conditions for two weeks.

The space vehicle was launched by a three-stage Diamond rocket, under development for four years.

The satellite was first the French have tried to launch.

The Diamond rocket, with a thrust of about 28 tons, lofted the A-1 into an orbit whose apogee is 1,768 kilometres and whose perigee is 528 kilometres.

Each revolution of the satellite is to take one hour and 48 minutes.

An announcement relayed from the launching base at Hammaguir said "everything is functioning normally."

AUTOMATION PRIORITY

Unions Tune In On New Formula

By ROGER STONEBANKS
Times Labor Reporter

The automation formula in this week's settlement of the oil industry dispute in B.C. is attracting the attention of sections of organized labor.

There appears to be a move to keep the provincial government, author of the settlement formula, involved in the subject of technological change.

EXPIRES JUNE 15

The 26,000 IWA members covered by the coast agreement have a contract that expires next June 15.

A few months ago, the IWA said it intends to co-ordinate bargaining on technological change with other unions having jurisdiction in the lumber industry.

The union has also said it cannot rely solely on bargaining, but also public measures.

The oil industry settlement called for a standing committee on automation, six months' notice of automation changes leading to layoffs, government-management retraining of employees displaced by automation and a week's severance pay for every year of service.

EXPANSION

The secretary-treasurer of the 110,000-member B.C. Federation of Labour, E. P. O'Neal, said he hopes the committee proposed in the formula will be expanded into a provincial one.

Such a committee could then work in co-operation with the Manpower Consultative Service of the federal government. It would also work closely with the provincial departments of labor and education, together with labor and management, he said.

"I hope the government, now that it has recognized the problem of automation, will move to implement such a provincial committee," he said.

The oil industry settlement was called a victory in the field of automation by J. R. Duncan, national director of the Oil, Chemical and Aatomic Workers International Union.

RECOGNIZED

He said the B.C. formula recognizes automation is a subject for collective bargaining. The principle had hardly been recognized before.

In another development, an

'Change Image For East'

EDMONTON (CP) — Highways Minister Phil Gaglardi of B.C. says Social Credit needs to change its party image to increase its appeal in Eastern Canada.

He suggested at a public meeting Thursday night during the national Social Credit convention that "trainloads" of businessmen from Eastern Canada should be brought west to examine every facet of Social Credit administrations in Alberta and B.C.

"They'd go back with a different idea about Social Credit. I suggest we get off our fannies and stop monkeying around.

"Let's show these people we are not crackpots on some financial theory. We know the value of the dollar."

The Social Credit party did not need a change in name to appeal to the east. "What must be changed is the party image," he added.

U.K. Begins Big Push To End Viet Nam War

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Wilson pushed ahead today with a concerted diplomatic drive for a world nuclear pact and for a way to end the war in Viet Nam.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart flies to Moscow Monday to probe the Soviet Union's terms for a world pact to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

At the same time Stewart will seek to get the Soviet Union to join Britain and reconvene the 1954 Geneva conference which settled the French - Indochina fighting and divided the former French colony into Cambodia, Laos and North and South Viet Nam. Britain and the Soviet Union are co-chairmen of the conference.

Wilson's aims in the field of nuclear weapons were disclosed Thursday night by high British sources. His preparations for Viet Nam peace soundings were announced by the prime minister in the House of Commons.

PRELUDE TO GREY CUP

Coach Attacked Me, Says Reporter

MONTREAL (CP)—The Star says in a sports page story that its football writer Ian MacDonald is recovering from injuries suffered in a beating in Toronto where football personalities and fans are gathering for Saturday's Grey Cup game.

The Star says MacDonald identified his assailant as Jim Trimble, deposed coach of Montreal Alouettes, and quoted Trimble in a telephone call today to Star sports editor Harold Atkins as saying:

"I am sorry for all this. I wanted to call you. I am sincerely sorry for what happened the other day. I wanted to tell you and I would like to talk to Ian."

The Star story adds:

"MacDonald with both eyes blackened, multiple bruises, rib damage and suspected kidney injuries is resting in his hotel room.

STARTED IN HOTEL

"The incident started in the hotel, and took place early Thursday morning between 1 and 2 a.m.

"It almost overshadowed the Grey Cup game for news value among media men.

"MacDonald explained that he exchanged his first words with Trimble in a hospitality suite of the Royal York Hotel.

"Then he grabbed me by the lapels of my jacket and pushed me against the wall a couple of times. I still don't know why.'

"This incident was witnessed by Hal Walker, a Toronto public relations man.

"A few moments later the two left the hotel on a short taxi ride to the waterfront.

. . . COACH

"Montreal Star photographer Adrian Lunny saw the men leave in a taxi.

"It was at the waterfront, according to MacDonald, where Trimble struck him several times.

" 'I really didn't know what was happening to me,' " MacDonald said.

" 'I couldn't understand it, I asked him (Trimble) why he was doing this. He didn't answer. He hit me again.' "

"According to MacDonald Trimble forced him back into the waiting taxi and the two returned to the hotel. Trimble made it clear to MacDonald that he was taking him to the suite occupied by the former Alouette coach.

"MacDonald said: 'There were a few people with us on the elevator, but I didn't appeal to anyone for help. Maybe I should've. What I did though was to run off the elevator when it stopped a couple of floors below Trimble's suite. I was scared. I ran down a few flights of stairs, went through the exit door—and ran right into Trimble who had followed me by another route.' "

'KEPT HITTING ME'

It was in Trimble's suite, The Star says, that a major part of the beating took place.

" 'He hit me and kept hitting me,'' said MacDonald. 'When I fell he kicked me and I covered my head with my arms as best I could, but a lot of punches landed on my face, my arms and my body.' "

"At one point, according to MacDonald, Trimble promised to knock out all of the writer's teeth. Once MacDonald tried to crawl from the room. Trimble hauled him back.

" 'I kept asking him why he was doing this to me,' " said MacDonald. "But he would not answer, all he did was hit me. I guess he finally got tired of it after about 15 minutes of the beating. He threw me into the bathroom and pulled me up to wash the blood from my face. He warned me not to tell anyone about what had happened.' "

The Star says that in his telephone conversation with Atkins Trimble was asked if he had any animosity against MacDonald. Atkins quoted Trimble as replying:

"No (referring to animosity), I really don't know. I had been with some friends. I decided to go back to the hotel and that's where it happened. I want to apologize. I would like to talk to Ian and let him know."

TORONTO (CP)—It's still anyone's guess what the weather will be for Saturday's Grey Cup game.

The weatherman says a rain disturbance from Michigan should pass through Toronto this evening and overnight, with cloudy skies and colder temperatures following Saturday.

conduct Viet Nam peace soundings on his trip to the United Nations and in discussions with Johnson was that the prime minister meant the remarks for 'domestic consumption'—to placate British anti-war elements.

("The administration attitude is that Wilson knows very well where Johnson stands—that the president is determined to do everything necessary to halt aggression in South Viet Nam but at the same time holds himself in readiness to enter unconditional discussions aimed at negotiating a peaceful settlement.")

When Wilson goes to Washington to meet President Johnson Dec. 17, he hopes to be able to put before the president the first results of British probings of Moscow's views.

FEARS MAJOR WAR

As far as the Viet Nam war is concerned, Wilson made it clear to the Commons that he believes North Viet Nam remains the major stumbling block to the holding of any peace conference.

He said the peace soundings to be made in Moscow and Washington have the aim of staving off "a major war in Asia, or worse."

"In our desire to get negotiations," Wilson said, "we shall continue to probe for any change of attitude which can bring the parties to the conference table."

Fighting Erupts In Athens

ATHENS (AP)—Police were called into the Greek Parliament at dawn today when an outbreak of fighting among deputies threatened the safety of the president of the House.

The incidents occurred toward the end of an all-night sitting on a routine matter of appointing minor Parliament officials.

About 100 members of the parliamentary guard were called by Parliament President Dimitrois Papaspyrou when leftist deputies took away the ballot box.

A melee broke out among government and opposition deputies.

Papaspyrou told reporters later that United Democratic Left (EDA) and Centre Union deputies threatened to drag him from his speaker's seat and beat him.

All deputies of George Papandreou's Centre Union and of the EDA parties walked out.

Deadline Listed On Heavy Water

CALGARY (CP)—A Monday deadline for Dynamic Power Corporation Ltd. of Calgary to submit a draft agreement to Atomic Energy of Canada for construction of a heavy water plant at Estevan, Sask., was confirmed today.

Frank Brown, Dynamic Power president, confirmed in a telephone interview from Ottawa that the Monday deadline has been set but said he would be in a better position to comment on the matter Monday afternoon.

He was commenting on a Halifax report which said Dynamic was running into difficulty in raising money for the proposed Estevan project.

Dynamic received a federal government order last July asking the company to supply 1,500 tons of heavy water—used as a coolant in nuclear reactors—over a five-year period.

The Halifax report had said that if Dynamic failed to go ahead with the project, there was an improved chance the deal would go to Nova Scotia's Deuterium of Canada Ltd. for expansion of a heavy water plant now under construction at Glace Bay, N.S.

REASONABLE OFFER

Gordon Grant, Saskatchewan minister of industry and commerce, has been quoted as saying: "We are interested in any reasonable offer. We will go to almost any limits. But we want to see the color of their (Dynamic's) money."

It is believed Dynamic has run into a shortage of equity capital to put into the project.

Harold Husband, president of Western Deuterium, declined comment. Last August, the Victoria-based company withdrew its bid for the Estevan project.

One Drawback, They Must Get Hair Cut

LONDON (Reuters) — A British army regiment—the 17-21 Lancers—is trying to recruit some of Britain's out-of-work rock 'n' roll musicians to fill 42 empty places in its band.

Regimental Sgt. Maj. George Graham thinks many of them could easily "stop strumming and learn to blow."

Recruits are promised concerts all over the world with the band, which is claimed to be the best dance group in the British army.

But there are drawbacks—they have to do three months of training and get their hair cut.

These Chaps Travel On Stamps

Victoria Y's Men's Club has a bathtub full of postage stamps.

"Not just a bathtub," says club president Jim Clark, "but pots, pans, sinks and basins" — all full of used stamps.

"We soak the glue off them that way, dry them, and send them to YMCA stamp headquarters in New Brunswick where they're packaged and sold to stamp dealers."

Mr. Clarke explains: "The money is put in the Y Bishop's Fund, which is a fund for travel expenses of foreign Y's club members in North America.

"As far as that goes," he said, "Y's club delegates go everywhere on stamps. They travel to and from 700 clubs in 43 countries. The Victoria club put up a Y's club member from Sweden last year with stamp money."

"We have collecting competitions within our own club and have accepted a challenge from the Seattle club."

"We've got a good chance," said Mr. Clark. "As long as we keep getting letters, and have friends in business with a volume of international mail."

All the Y's Men's Club will need then is bigger bathtubs.

Mr. Nicholson said that it was his hope affirmation of loyalty to the crown and the country will be accepted by all citizenship court judges.

"Such affirmations have been accepted by numerous courts in the past," he said. "It is my hope that, in the light of the events that have transpired, they will continue to be accepted without difficulty and without prejudice in every part of Canada."

Following the ceremonies the courtroom took on a tea party air as the Vanderpols were flooded with congratulations and the immigration department served coffee and iced cakes.

Magistrate Quits Post Over Pension

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver senior magistrate Gordon Scott announced Wednesday he is quitting his post in a protest over what he described as an inadequate retirement pension.

His departure from the bench will be effective Dec. 1.

His decision to leave his $17,000-a-year position came after city council refused to guarantee him a $500-a-month pension when he reached retirement age of 75 in 1968.

A lawyer, he was appointed to the city magistrate's court bench in 1953 and if he had remained until retirement age would have received a pension of $261 a month.

Magistrate Scott said he will return to private practice.

Part of the settlement formula was an extra 35 cents an hour over two years. One oil company called this inflationary. Union spokesman said any increase is unnecessary.

The formula is expected to provide the basis for settlement in other parts of Canada.

But in Clarkson, Ont., a union spokesman said the B.C. agreement would reduce job security if applied to British-American's refinery there.

The 419 union workers at Clarkson have been on strike more than two months, but supervisors have kept the refinery running.

FACILITIES AVAILABLE IF RETRAINING NEEDED

McTAGGART-COWAN . . . 'fear of unknown'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Automation, which took British Columbia to the brink of a general strike, signals the need for rapid development of the education system, the president of Simon Fraser University said Thursday.

"The worker must know that educational facilities are at his disposal if he is forced to seek retraining," said Dr. Patrick McTaggart-Cowan.

He told a meeting of the Society of Industrial and Cost Accountants of B.C. that automation is a "very human fear of the unknown."

"Right now we have no way of knowing when the next advancement will come in automation. As educators, we don't know what skills the worker will need 20 years from now."

OAS Vote Halts Debate On Motion Criticizing U.S.

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—The inter-American foreign ministers' conference today voted to suspend public debate on a Colombian motion criticizing United States intervention in the Dominican Republic.

The Colombian motion was sent to a working committee for study on a motion by Chile.

The Chilean move came after delegates from a dozen nations expressed belief the Colombian motion, which was backed only by the Dominican Republic and Uruguay, should be incorporated into a conference statement reaffirming all basic principles of the charter of the Organization of American States.

Diplomatic sources said the section condemning the U.S. action probably would be stricken from the overall resolution.

U.S. chief delegate W. Averell Harriman seconded the Chilean motion to put the Colombian motion into the hands of a working commission.

"Our position is simple," Harriman said. "We are in accord with the basic principles of the inter-American system and do not believe they should be modified with new texts and interpretations."

The Colombian resolution urges the 20-member nations of the OAS to reaffirm the principle of non-intervention. Without mentioning the United States by name, it refers pointedly to "unilateral intervention . . . in the Dominican Republic."

U.S. sources said the resolution amounts to little more than an attempt to embarrass the United States. Several Latin delegates agreed that it appears to serve no useful purpose.

FINAL HURDLE PASSED BY SANCTIONS BILL

LONDON (UPI) — The British government's decision to assume direct control of Rhodesian affairs and to clamp economic and diplomatic sanctions on the rebellious regime of Premier Ian Smith passed its final parliamentary hurdle Thursday night.

With little fanfare the House of Lords approved the series of orders-in-council. The debate lasted less than four hours and the orders were approved without a vote.

Convincing Election Win

BELFAST (Reuters) — The pro - British Unionist government has been returned to power with its most convincing general election victory since 1949.

With only four results outstanding in Thursday's election, the government led by Prime Minister Terence O'Neill held 34 of the 52 seats.

The Nationalists, the main opposition party, won only seven seats. Labor took two, Republicans two, and Liberal, National Democrats and independents one each.

At dissolution, the Unionists held 34 seats, Labor four, Nationalists nine, Liberals one, Republican Labor one, Eire Labor one. One non-party Speaker also was elected.

Only 29 seats were contested. The other 23 candidates, 14 of them Unionists, were returned unopposed.

Questions and Answers

WHEN ADLAI STEVENSON died in London last July he was carrying a heavy burden. He knew that through the offices of United Nations Secretary-General U Thant an offer had been made in September, 1964, to the United States by North Viet Nam to open negotiations in Rangoon on a settlement of the Vietnamese War.

Mr. Stevenson also knew, it has been revealed, that the United States had turned down the offer on the grounds that the terms Hanoi would likely offer would be unacceptable to the United States.

According to the magazine article in which this offer to negotiate was first made public, Mr. Stevenson died believing that the United States' rejection was the work of Secretary of Defence McNamara. Government officials have since indicated, however, that it was Secretary of State Rusk who vetoed the meeting, although it is thought likely that Mr. McNamara was consulted. It is still not clear whether President Johnson was consulted.

Since this disclosure of the 1964 Rangoon proposal was made there have been further developments. It has been revealed in London, for instance, that the British government was not informed of the offer until six months after Hanoi had been rebuffed by Mr. Rusk. Nor, apparently, were any other of the allies of the United States informed even though their support for American aims in Viet Nam was being actively sought.

The question that must be asked, in view of these revelations, is why the United States—no matter how skeptical it may have been of the Hanoi offer—was unwilling at least to sit down in Rangoon to discuss the matter of a Viet Nam settlement.

One reason put forward is that at the time Mr. Johnson was in the midst of his election campaign. Any sign of weakening on Viet Nam could have benefited his opponent, Senator Barry Goldwater, who was for a tougher stand. This does not explain, however, why the United States could not have taken up the offer less than two months later when Mr. Johnson had won a massive victory at the polls.

Another explanation was that American officials believed that North Viet Nam had timed the offer in order to negotiate from a position of relative strength, before United States' forces were expanded in Viet Nam. In this connection it will be recalled that President Johnson's offer of "unconditional discussions" on ending the war was made only after the bombing of North Viet Nam was begun and the commitment of massive American ground forces had been made.

The American theory has been that North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong could be punished so severely they would be willing to accept any terms for peace. This has not happened. Instead, the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong have stiffened their resistance to peace feelers—and so has the United States.

It is not possible, in retrospect, to say whether or not the proposed Rangoon meeting—or for that matter the later proposed Cambodia conference—could have led to a just settlement of the Vietnamese War. It can be said, however, that the United States, for what it considered sufficient reason, backed off from any chance of probing the possibilities when they were offered and chose instead to plunge for an all-out victory.

Despite the advice of some of its wisest military strategists, the United States is now involved in a massive land war on the Asian continent, with casualties mounting rapidly and a meaningful victory as far in the future as ever. There are many people, including Americans, who will wonder if it had to be so.

A Job to Be Done—Now

IT IS GREATLY TO THE CREDIT of the city council that it has decided to proceed with the Bastion Square project in its entirety, including provision of a pedestrian mall entrance from Government Street.

This excellent program has been before the public for at least two years now, it has been received with overwhelming approval, the plan has been admirably conceived and it is an integral part of the overall program of downtown renewal after decades of neglect.

Almost on the eve of breaking ground, two occupants of adjacent buildings had come up with complaints about one small phase of the proposed work—the creation of an attractive pedestrian entrance to the square. At the moment the short lane leading to the square would deter any visitor to the city from entering. An inviting "front hallway" is essential to the plan, and this can only be achieved by making the short length of Bastion Street a decorative pedestrian mall which will be an asset to the project rather than a liability. The entrance design cannot be separated from the square if the full effect of the rehabilitation is to be enjoyed, and closure of this short stretch to motor traffic has been approved by both federal and provincial governments as a necessary part of the plan.

The work has already been delayed many months — so that the turmoil of construction would not spoil the tourist season for one Square occupant, so that federal work funds could be obtained, so that various other problems in connection with the project could be straightened out. It would have been deplorable if the momentum provided by the Centennial Square development had been lost through further delay, through ill-advised nibbling at the approved Bastion plan, or through indecision on the part of the council.

Let's get the work under way as quickly as possible, restore this section of the town to its rightful place as a busy, popular centre—and start plans for further similar projects. We have hardly begun to make Victoria into the city it should be; we have hardly begun to shake off the effects of half a century of inertia.

How to Close the Gates

ON A NUMBER OF OCCASIONS citizens of this community interested in outdoor recreation—particularly hunters and fishermen—have raised serious objection to the action of some logging interests which has closed off parts of the forest from public access.

The critics describe such action as unjustifiable restriction, and contend that they have been improperly derived of enjoyments available in natural settings.

In most instances the logging interests have come to terms with public wishes and have, with some limitations, opened the gates to areas under their control. And in most instances, also, the public going into such holdings has shown a very proper sense of responsibility in them.

Recently, however, a logging company in the Muir Creek district has decided to close the gates against intrusion—and for a very practical reason. Vandals, or a vandal, entered the region where the company is working and caused damage to logging machinery which could run to as much as $3,000. No company is prepared to accept such needless loss.

The instance should stand as a public warning. If our outdoors people want to enjoy amenities available to those who behave properly, they can expect to do so only if vandalism is elimintaed. The destructive actions of a few can injure the many—and underscore one of the reasons why logging outfits are often less than enthusiastic about permitting access to their operations.

Flying on Two Wings?

Western

FROM conversations with returning members of Parliament, it is evident that the struggle between the two wings of the Liberal party has not been resolved by the resignation of Mr. Walter Gordon There are still those who feel strongly, and are no doubt urging on the prime minister, that the party must occupy some of the ground now held by the New Democrats if it is to recover a position of dominance in national politics.

Most of the current speculation about cabinet changes has to do with the future of three Quebec ministers who were controversial figures in the last Parliament and in the recent election. Some Ontario Liberals, anticipating changes, are talking hopefully of a new cabinet so organized as to establish firmly in the public mind the dominance of the "new wave" in the Pearson government. This, of course, is a Quebec term but it is now being used rather loosely to cover other Liberals favoring a leftward trend in politics.

Unrelated Ideas

It is symptomatic of the present confusion that there should be this curious co-mingling of unrelated ideas. If Messrs. Favreau, Lamontagne and Tremblay have become political liabilities, it is because of the roles they played in the scandal sessions, not because of their positions on social and economic issues. Mr. Lamontagne is probably left of centre in his economic views; Mr. Tremblay served the Lesage government as a deputy minister before entering politics; and Mr. Favreau has been rivalled only by Mr. Sauve on the federal scene as an exponent of Quebec's new aspirations.

The interest of some central Canadian Liberals in the "new wave" probably derives from personal experiences in their own constituencies. Roughly half the New Democratic vote in Ontario was concentrated in the block of seats represented by the Toronto and Hamilton metropolitan areas. Well over half the NDP vote in Quebec was accounted for by the Montreal ridings. Although the Liberals carried 38 of the 44 constituencies in these major cities, many of them were shocked by the strong showing of their rivals on the left.

Weak Argument

The political argument seems, nevertheless, to be weak for two obvious reasons. It is conceded, by Conservatives as well as Liberals, that Mr. Diefenbaker remains unpopular in the urban areas of eastern Canada and especially in Toronto.

Various soundings since the election have indicated that the scandal issue was more damaging to the government than seemd likely during the campaign. It was an issue, moreover, which was shared by the Conservatives and New Democrats. A voter opposed to Mr. Diefenbaker could still express his disgust with the scandals by voting for candidates of Mr. Douglas. The absence of other clear issues strengthened this trend and helped to inflate the NDP totals.

Even within the metropolitan areas, the New Democratic vote tended to be concentrated heavily in a few constituencies. In Montreal, for example, five seats of 21 accounted accounted for more than half the NDP total.

Maritimes Disappointment

In any event the position is very different elsewhere in the country. While the Liberals, despite the scandals, did very well in the larger metropolitan areas, they failed in other places to make their expected gains. Their first disappointment came in the Maritimes.

It would be difficult, however, to argue that a more socialist policy would have served them better in a region where only one NDP candidate saved his deposit. The same thing happened almost everywhere in rural Quebec, in much of rural Ontario and in every Alberta seat without exception.

There is a very strong opinion that Mr. Pearson must construct a ministry with greater claims on public confidence. But the argument about new waves seems quite irrelevant. Looking at the nationwide returns, the Liberal problem is, on the contrary, to find support in areas where a new wave would scarcely be recognized and would probably receive a tepid welcome if it was.

Arms Talk Bid to China

FRYE

THE United States has offered to sit down with Red China in a small group to "explore areas of agreement on disarmament." The exploratory parley, if successful, could be preliminary to a world disarmament conference, also including Red China, the United States said. The American move came as the 117-nation Political Committee of the UN General Assembly endorsed a world arms parley, 91-0, invited "all countries" to attend, and set a deadline of "not later than 1967" for it to be held.

The United States, which previously had opposed the parley, reversed itself and voted "yes." France abstained. Nationalist China refused to participate in the voting.

Opportunity for Peking

The net effect of the day's diplomacy was to open wide an opportunity for Peking to enter the world community—and a parallel opportunity for her to rebuff and antagonize that community by refusing.

Most western diplomats and observers believe Peking will refuse.

United States delegate Arthur J. Goldberg told the UN Washington still had "reservations" about the value of a mammoth world arms parley but was prepared to "participate in meaningful talks with anyone if such talks could advance the cause of peace and disarmament."

Goldberg did not name the countries he wanted in the small exploratory group.

He made clear, however, that he was thinking of the five present nuclear powers—the United States, Britain, Russia, France and Red China — plus "a few other countries" with nuclear know-how and/or special interest in the subject. Informants said India and Canada would be two, and that there might be 10 or 12 in all.

If the group is in fact constituted and does meet, it could displace the existing 18-nation disarmament committee in Geneva, observers believe. The net effect, in practice, could be to add Peking to the Geneva group.

However, it is considered doubtful that France will accept an invitation to attend. Paris has boycotted disarmament negotiations in recent years.

Peking has said she would not join a parley made up solely of the five nuclear powers. She has also refused to take part in any organ set up by the UN until after she is seated in the parent organization.

If Peking does refuse, some in Washington will be disappointed but more will be relieved. Inviting Red China to arms talks is viewed as a device to release pressure for seating her in the UN. If Peking boycotts the arms group, or if she attends and seeks to sabotage it, the United States believes much of the world will be disillusioned about giving her a UN seat.

Others have long wanted to bring Red China into arms talks as a first step toward wider contact, and eventual accomodation, with Peking.

The United States felt unable, and in the end did not wish, to resist that drive. Had Washington continued to hold out, excellent sources said, it would have been alone in voting "no."

Policy Switch

Some observers see this as a major breach in the 16-year-old American "policy of boycott" toward Red China.

However, few believe that—whatever happens to what Goldberg called the "small, initial group"—there will ever be a world disarmament conference. Among the hurdles is an unsolved, and quite possibly insoluble, dispute over what is meant by inviting "all countries." Is East Germany a "country"? North Viet Nam? North Korea? What of Formosa, whose seating would provide a precedent for two Chinas in the UN?

Few believe that answers will be readily forthcoming.

Citizens' Thanks

Now that my wife and I have received our Canadian citizenship certificates, we would like to express our sincere thanks to all who have given us moral support, either in writing, by telephone, or in person. It was heart-warming that so many Canadians were willing to express themselves on an issue that did not concern them directly. Also the coverage given to us by the Canadian press as a whole has been of great advantage to our cause.

We will try to behave in such a manner that this country, our country, never will have to regret the decision to accept us.—Martin and Frances Vanderpol, 2758 Grainger.

Home and Away

I wonder how many people felt nauseated, bewildered and insecure after reading accounts of the heinous war in Viet Nam, where probably hundreds of young American youths lay screaming with pain and fear, eventually dying without attention, while the White House enjoyed jubilant celebrations, dancing, feasting and joking?

I wonder how many diplomats', politicians' or members of Congress' sons are over there?—S. M.

For High Rise

Re high-rise at Cadboro Bay. Well constructed and maintained apartments, especially garden apartments and high rise give a prestige to certain areas, not between small homes or in commercial areas.

These apartments contemplated on Haro Road in my opinion would be an asset to the area. On top of a hill where few people care to climb with carriages, bikes, etc., they would bring prosperity to our local merchants. They would be occupied by adults to help pay our school taxes and bring in outsiders to enjoy the grand view they would have.

I have two properties almost adjacent and I know a good apartment building or buildings on 10 acres will not affect us in anyway, except make the area more urban and prosperous (not sleepy valley).

We travel all over the world admiring other cities with beautiful buildings, why not here. We should be glad outside interests are taking an interest in our area.—S. M.

Eugene and Fluoridation

During the past several years the city of Eugene, Oregon, has had the matter of water fluoridation come to vote four times. Last year it was voted in by a small majority. In September of this year we voted it out again. The water was treated with sodium fluoride from April until October. We consider ourselves fortunate to have succeeded in having this chemical removed from our water supply now.

Many of us who have friends and relatives in your fun-to-visit city sincerely hope that you will be able to keep sodium fluoride from your water supply. We enjoy our visits to Victoria but do not wish to drink fluoridated water.—A. B. English, 1107 Warren, Eugene, Ore.

Mr. Mooney and Strikes

A few days ago your paper quoted Alderman Mooney as stating that the worst thing man can do aside from war is strike.

It is incredible to me that we have a man in our city council and one who is seeking the prestige office of mayor of our city whose thinking is such.

Mr. Mooney's thinking—or rather the lack of it—is representative of an era long departed.—A Business Man (not a Unionist).

To Join Or Not to Join the OAS

It is very apparent that the Liberal government under pressure from the United States, will join the Organization of American States and I think that it is very important that Canadians should be made aware of the dangers involved in such a move.

The OAS is at present meeting at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, a country under a military dictatorship. In view of this fact Dr. Raul Leoni, president of Venezuela, a very sincere and upright man, whom I was privileged to know during my years in Venezuela, refused to attend and I am very surprised that other more enlightened South American countries such as Mexico, Chile, Uruguay, Costa Rica, etc., did not take similar action.

The recent attacks on Senator Robert Kennedy and Secretary Rusk in Chile and Uruguay respectively and the attack on vice-president Nixon in Venezuela some years ago are indicative of the feeling in most Latin-American countries to the U.S.A. One cannot just pass this off by saying these attacks were the work of Communists although, of course, everyone who does not follow the American pattern of thought and action must be a Communist.

The recent invasion of Santo Domingo by American armed forces in support of a military dictatorship as opposed to the maintenance of the first elected president in 30 years, has not endeared the U.S. in the minds of Latin America as of course such action could and would be taken against any of them if, in the opinion of the U.S. the regime was subversionist. The only real help given to the U.S. in Santo Domingo comes from Brazil—a military dictatorship.

The U.S. has stated in plain words that they will intervene in any country where, in their opinion, there is the danger of communism or subversion. This is the sure way of perpetuating the military dictatorships which flourish in Latin America and any attempt by the masses, who live in utter poverty, to try and better their miserable lots, is classified as subversion.

Apparently the will of the people is of no consequence in these countries and still the U.S. is the champion of the "free" Western world which, of course, includes the military dictatorships of Latin America and other countries such as so-called Nationalist China, South Viet Nam, etc.

I cannot see that Canada could help to rectify this situation by joining the OAS and consequently I feel very strongly that we should not take a part in supporting such an attitude. In my many years in Latin America I found that Canada was held in very high regard and I would hate to see us lose this prestige.

I feel that all Canadians who feel like I do should write to their Members of Parliament or Mr. Paul Martin.—M. P. B. Wrixon, 2530 Lansdowne.

Target: 'My son'

(A letter from The Cariboo Observer)

To the hunter or hunters who were out after game on the old Skyline Road, now known as Paradise Road, last weekend:

The animal you were firing all those shots at was my son. When you fired the first three, he hit the ground, and if your next volley had been a little lower, you would have had your kill, a blond young man just 21 years old.

When he yelled at you, why did you keep shooting? You couldn't see him but surely you know the sound of a human voice and when you heard him scrambling up that steep hill, did he sound like a deer? Some of your bullets missed him by inches. Today he could be dead, victim of another hunting accident, and no one to say you were "sound" shooting.

You needn't worry. You scared him so badly he didn't stay around to take your licence number. When he got over that hill he circled around to his car, where his girl friend was waiting.

Do you always hunt game by sound? How many men have you killed, or would he have been your first?

Today I thank God I still have my son, but if I knew who you were, I'd be tempted to do to you as you did to him.
—Your Victim's Mother.

Bob Winters 'On the Record' Is Not an Easy Man to Find

By DOUGLAS FISHER
Former NDP MP for Port Arthur

"There's such an over-play of Bob Winters at the moment that one wonders how newspapermen can be so wrong."

This remark was made to me by a former party colleague of the Hon. Robert Winters, MP-elect in York West.

Fisher

He went on, "What has Winters ever said, where has he ever expressed himself on what he wants in politics, or what he thinks the Liberal party should do?"

I couldn't answer him because I neither understand how the Liberal party works in choosing a new leader nor did I know much about Robert Winters. I decided to find out more about him as a politician.

The logical place to begin was the Hansard record from 1945 to 1957 when Mr. Winters was the member from Queens-Lunenburg, parliamentary assistant first to the Minister of National Revenue, then to the Minister of Transport, then successively, Minister of Reconstruction and Supply, of Resources and Development, and of Public Works.

Unfortunately, the Hansard record is relatively unrevealing. Mr. Winters was never prolix as a speaker. Indeed, I had to conclude that he was never a first-line spokesman for the ministry or the party. He was never a rescuer in debate. Neither his short speeches nor his answers to questions are interspersed with interjections or vivid disagreements.

* * *

Obviously, he had a pleasing manner and a soporific effect on the Opposition. Even in his maiden speech, when he extolled the fine apple orchards and the wonderful fisher-folk in his riding, the hyperbole was balanced with a self-deprecating acknowledgment that he knew such an exercise tended to bore or to be trite.

I could not find a single instance in his parliamentary years where he came under intense pressure. Some of this was to his credit in that he never looked for trouble. There was a courtly and considerate quality to his words He was a most moderate man.

The strongest single point that he ever made, and he made it on many occasions, was that critics in the Opposition were too critical, that they should be more fair, that they should possess themselves of all the facts.

I could not find a single speech which expressed any vision or imaginative view of what he wanted Canada to be. His touchstone was invariably that he was "an engineer," that he was dedicated to efficiency, to fairness, to well-thought-out development. His words reveal neither vanity nor any mock humility.

Reading his words gave me the impression of a man with an excellent intelligence, with a very good education in his field, with an adequate, rather colorless vocabulary, and with few doubts, few dreams, and few, if any, lofty national objectives.

This hardly seemed the stuff to merit his sudden blossoming as the hot choice as next Liberal leader. Therefore, I canvassed a number of Liberal MPs. Most of them do not know Winters. Most of them are rather skeptical that the party needs a corporation executive as leader at this time. Almost all of them are impressed with his appearance. Only one had grave doubts about his image. "Too reminiscent of George Drew with that impeccable long head and that tailoring."

* * *

So I went to an old colleague, a man of some stature still in the Liberal party. I asked him, "Where can I find some record which will show what kind of things Bob Winters stood for as an MP and politician?" I explained how unrevealing Hansard had been. The gentleman replied that I wouldn't find anything. Mr. Winters had never been interested in the policy side of politics. To him politics was not a matter of policy and program but of sound administration.

He went on, "Winters had it rather easy. He was moved ahead because he had little competition within the caucus from his own area. He did a thorough job. He was a good administrator. He was not a schemer. He didn't show much interest in or understanding of party affairs. He was not a giant in the cabinet nor a leader in the House.

"When he was defeated he took it very badly. It seemed that he would never sully himself again with political participation. In time, this attitude changed and recently he has been more and more interested in getting back in. He had kept contact with a few of the leaders in the party and that's about all."

I asked about the big buildup Mr. Winters was getting now as the next leader of the party. He replied with the comment which began this column.

Far East Is Curious Mixture Of Prudery and Prurience

By DENNIS BLOODWORTH

SINGAPORE—The hot, alluring East often turns out, somewhat disconcertingly, to be a zone of unexpected prudery, in which simple matters are not spelled out for the uninstructed.

And now from Manila comes the latest news of further legal restraints designed to keep the body in bounds and the mind on higher things.

In Rizal province on the northern Philippine island of Luzon, bikinis, backless dresses and all garments "tending to show any part of the body from the breast down to the middle of the thigh" have been outlawed, and wearers may be sentenced to between 20 and 30 days in jail.

To Westerners this may sound odd, but it is an Asian philosophical argument that the space between may be considered more important than the points it separates (is it not the hollow of the bottle that holds the Scotch, not the glass that encompasses it?)

Exotic Curbs

In these waters it is not uncommon for authorities to neutralize exotic curves with exotic curbs, as 13 budding Miss Malayasias found to their chagrin earlier this year.

Competing for the honor of representing the young federation at the Miss Universe contest at Miami Beach, they were suddenly informed that they would not be permitted to parade in swimsuits as such exposure would be offensive to the religious susceptibilities and national culture of their fatherland. They therefore presented themselves before an astonished audience of 8,000 Malaysians in "baby-doll" nighties (which proved to be a knockout just the same).

The problem arose against last month, however, when a Miss World pageant was organized in Kuala Lumpur, the Malaysian capital, but the Muslim chief minister of state of Selangor (in which the city stands) made life easier by generously allowing the girls to wear T-shirts and shorts.

There was uproar in Hong Kong after the bare-bosomed dancers of Les Ballets Africains were allowed to perform in the ebony, and when they subsequently arrived in Kuala Lumpur, their Chinese sponsor was quick to describe the dances as "purely cultural" — emergent Asia's irrefutable proof of respectability.

No Alternative

Nevertheless, police and district officials were careful to attend an undress rehearsal before finally sanctioning a public performance of the dances before the prime minister and the cabinet. There was really no alternative for, like honest witnesses testifying at the trial of their traditions, the girls said: "We're not covering up for anybody."

Authorities in Taipeh have puzzled over the seemingly subtle distinctions that make Botticelli's "Birth of Venus" Western art but girlie-magazine nudes pornographic. Last year the postmaster-general of Manila, Belarmino Navarro, raised a storm in the press when he warned off a local paper that reproduced the Venus, and banned as "obscene" an issue of Time magazine that carried a color print of Goya's "Naked Maja." He later described journalists who objected as "public enemies of civilized society who simply want to cater to the animal instincts of the lascivious."

Usually puritanism is associated less with the anti-Communist communnties of the Far East than with the Asian left. The Chinese are being constantly warned by Peking against the "rotten cultures of the West," the Indonesian Embsasy in Canberra asked Radio Australia in August to stop beaming rock 'n' roll broadcasts to Indonesia, and almost at the same time a Filipino singing group was assaulted in Djarkarta after one of its members had danced the twist.

Chinese producers even in Hong Kong hesitate to put kissing scenes into their films for fear of offending the public. And there are constant reports of staunch anti-neo-colonialist prostitutes in various parts of Indonesia who have see nthe light and registered themselves of volunteers to "crush Malaysia."

Only Human

Nevertheless, one month ago when an enraged mob of Muslim youths sacked the house of Mr. Njoto, deputy-chairman and distinguished theortician of the Indonesian Communist Party, local newspapers reported that they had found and allegedly burned not only strong drink, American cigarettes and western yeah-yeah disc "not in accordance with Indonesian identity," but numerous pornographic magazines and photographs. Communists are, after all, human, and only different from others in that they are Communist also.

In the clandestine left-wing Hukbalahap movement in the Philippines, "extra wives" were de rigueur even for leaders — provided the Communist Party of the Philippines passed each candidate as "within the confidence of the party and the family, although not necessarily a Huk."

Thwarted young Chinese in South-east Asia whose parents take advantage of stern old tradition to forbid them to marry sometimes regard Communist China as a haven of free love to which they can flee.

Which First?

Which came first, the phoenix or the ash? The moral laws that invite contravention, or the profligacy that calls for moral laws?

Prudery in the East is certainly matched by prurience, and the anti-guerrilla struggle against sex is rarely won by established non-Communist governments. Both South Korea and South Viet Nam have virtually capitulated by organizing "red light" districts or houses to keep the girls out of the American bars and off the streets.

But there will be no cure for venery until Asia can eat, until Chinese can no longer leave their concubines destitute, and Muslim Malays cannot divorce and abandon wives by the simple process of saying "Talak" thrice.

The Chinese proverb says: "A woman married to one may not eat the rice of two." But what is the sound of one clapping? How does the woman married to none eat?

The answer is too often to be found on the street-corners of this entire continent.

Evolution 'Explosion' Discounted

By HOWARD SIMONS
The Washington Post

WASHINGTON — Scientists have reported three new fosil discoveries, one of which challenges a long-held notion that there was an "evolution explosion" 600 million years ago.

These are discoveries announced here and at a meeting of the Geological Society of America ni Kansas City, Mo.:

—Brachiopods or small, clamlike creatures from a barren, cold stub of land in the Canadian Arctic which are 720 million years old—120 million years older than any other known advanced form of life.

—Bits and pieces of an ancient ostrich egg whose parent apparently dwarfed the seven-foot, 300-pound ostrich that now roams the sand flats and graslands of Southwest Africa.

—Chemical remnants of primitive and tiny biological systems that are at least three billion years old.

First Forms

It is the brachiopods found by a team of Dartmouth College researchers on Canada's Victoria Island that may push back the evolutionary timeclock. This is so because these fossils are the first forms of relatively advanced life found in sediments older than 600 million years.

Hitherto, in the absence of such fossil remains some scientists speculated that there must have been a catastrophic change in the earth's environment that gave sudden rise to advanced forms in an "evolution explosion." The new information, Dartmouth's Andrew H. McNair said, now casts doubt on this assumption and suggests that evolutionary development took place over a longer time.

Bennett's Labor Formula Result of Japanese Trip

By JOHN MIKA
Times Legislative Reporter

The government's precedent-making proposal that settled the oil industry dispute this week was born almost six months ago in Tokyo.

Mika

That's where Premier Bennett, after numerous tours of Japanese plants, gave a press conference to about 30 newsmen of various nationalities which had a strange mixture of "hard" and "soft" news.

The premier gave only a sketchy outline of potential trade deals between B.C. and Japan and as the reporters pressed him for more and more details he shifted instead into lengthy observations about labor peace in Japan and how impressed he was to find such a monumental upheaval in industry through automation without a corresponding upheaval or unemployment in the labor force.

At the time, most of the newsmen took the view he was just trying to dodge giving too many details about the trade deals but, in the light of Wednesday's formula, it's clear now he was being as straightforward as he could be. And while the B.C. formula doesn't bear a "Made in Japan" imprint, strictly speaking, it was greatly influenced by the Japanese system.

Premier Bennett, above left, during a tour of a Japanese auto factory this summer, was highly impressed with close union-industry co-operation in Japan to cope with changes brought on by automation.

Co-operation

The chief similarity is the close union-industry co-operation in surveying the problems involved in introducing new automation techniques, and even closer government-industry co-operation in training and retraining workers to fit in with the coming changes.

Plant after plant visited by the premier in Japan boasted a school of some sort where workers received training while on the payroll and this became one of the chief aspects of the tours that interested Mr Bennett.

The generous severance pay in the government formula for persons who actually lose their jobs to automation goes as far as is possible in B.C. towards the virtually absolute job security workers have in Japan as a result of a number of historical and social reasons.

Ever since his return from the Orient, Mr. Bennett has emphasized his interest in convincing British Columbians that job re-training is the key to future industrial peace and prosperity and there is little doubt that he has been fervently searching for a formula to achieve it.

Only Way

Up until this week, it looked as though the only way he could persuade unionists to abandon all opposition to automation would be through legislation that compelled the companies somehow or other to re-train workers where possible, and give economic protection to those who would have to find new employers.

It's possible that he was planning to tackle this thorny problem at the coming session, and if that is true, then lady luck herself gave him the oil dispute and general strike threat.

Because Mr. Bennett achieved his goal with the oil companies' acceptance of his formula, it undoubtedly will become the foundation of a whole new trend in labor contracts. And although the companies appear to have given a great deal in their agreement, the union's promise not to try to block automation also is a vital concession.

The Pacifier

And all this was done with Mr. Bennett cast in the role of a statesmanlike pacifier instead of an overly-aggressive politician trying to dictate his solution to everyone's problems without being asked.

Anyway, that's one way of looking at this week's events but there are other interesting sidelights too.

One of these is the question of what will happen now to Mr. Bennett's favorite theme and main justification for bristling at the rest of Canada, whether the federal governmen, big business, big unions or anything else.

This theme goes something like: We have to punch hard at Canada because the eastern establishment always clobbers us with its "branch manager" approach that prevents B.C. from being master of its own destiny — whether in banks, newspapers or anything else.

The oil industry dispute, which involved companies and a union with head offices in Toronto, was a classic example of his complaint and both the premier and Labor Minister Leslie Peterson repeatedly made the point during the crisis. They regularly referred to the likelihood that whatever happened in B.C., the real settlement of the dispute would be reached in Toronto.

Cabinet Crossed

But both labor and management and even government crossed up the B.C. cabinet —everyone decided settlement of the issue would take place here. The companies' brass and the union's executive came to Vancouver to thrash out the differences not only for their B.C. operations but for the industry generally.

In the final days, the government of Ontario phoned Victoria for advice and the latest news!

And even the federal government agreed in advance to help with a made-in-B.C. solution, by assisting the provincial education department in any job training schemes it may launch to cope with automation, something that will spread throughout the nation.

So the whole thing was settled in a hotel room in Vancouver — not Toronto or Montreal or Ottawa—and on Premier Bennett's terms.

It will be pretty hard to argue now that on really important matters, B.C. is left out of the picture by easterners who can't see beyond the Rockies.

An 'Or Else'

Another sidelight is the question of how far the provincial government had determined to go. Mr. Bennett said, significantly, that the government of B.C. Wednesday had accepted its responsibility to act in the crisis. The "recommended" proposal then followed and both sides accepted. But if one side or both had rejected it? The language employed by the premier suggests an unspoken "or else."

It may be a long time before it becomes known what else was planned if the recommendations failed but there is a possibility that it may have included invocation of the Civil Defence Act to stop the oil strike with a promise that legislation would be introduced at the January session of the legislature for compulsory arbitration of the automation question.

This still could happen.

The dispute shook the province violently, particularly because of the general strike threat (which, by the way, may have been a labor ploy to prevent the government using the CD Act against a union for a second time—had it been employed against every worker it could jeopardize the Socreds' political future—and it seems unlikely that we have seen the last twitch yet.

Pope's Poland Visit Is Highly Political And Controversial

By GODFREY BLAKELEY

ROME—The Pope wants to visit Poland. The Polish Communist government is willing —at a price. The Primate of Poland, Cardinal Wyszynski, opposes the plan, Next May is mentioned; the occasion, the thousandth anniversary of the foundation of the Catholic Church in Poland; the place, the shrine of the Black Madonna at Czestochowa.

It would be the first time a Pope has visited a Communist country. Hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions, of Polish Catholics, would make the pilgrimage to Crestochowa. It would dramatically illustrate the survival of the Catholic Church in a Communist state.

Paul Anxious

For these reasons Pope Paul VI is anxious to make the journey. He wants to increase the international role of the Vatican. But Cardinal Wyszynski thinks this is not the best moment to "defreeze" relations with the Warsaw government. In this he is somewhat isolated among the rest of the Polish bishops, most of whom are anxious to see a papal visit.

At one time Wyszynski supporter Polish Communist leader Gomulka and favored a closer understanding between church and state. He was then at the "left" of Pius XIII, now he is on the "right" of Paul VI.

Furthermore, the Cardinal has enjoyed the position of mediator between the Polish government and the aVtican. He would lose this if direct agreement between the Polish government and the Vatican. was reached (e.g. a modus vivendi similar to that between the Vatican and Hungary reached last year).

Nationalistic

Against this background certain political actions of Wyszynski (who is a consummate politician) must be judged. On September 1 this year at Wroclaw (formerly Germany's Breslau) he made a strongly nationalistic speech, stating that the new frontiers of Poland (including several ex-German territories along the Oder-Neisse line) must remain fixed. The German press and clergy condemned his statement as "chauvinistic," while the Polish government felt that the ground had been somewhat cut from beneath its own feet, as this is one of their own "popular" policies.

Cardinal Wyszynski wished to show the Communists that on certain basic international questions they must value his aid, just as on certain national questions (such as signing a church-state agreement with the Vatican) they must reckon with him too.

Meanwhile, the Polish government is continually raising its price before agreeing to a papal visit. If this goes on the Vatican will be unable to pay it. Part of the price would seem to be a lessening of the Cardinal's personal power. The church in Poland under Wyszynski's leadership has become so strong that it is the Polish government rather than the church which feels persecuted and on the defensive.

Today there are 16,908 priests compared with 11,239 in 1937, 69 bishops as against 46. Catholics form 95 per cent of the total population— partly owing to the ceding of the Polish eastern provinces, largely populated by Orthodox believers—to Russia after the war, and the extermination of most of the Jewish population by the Nazis.

1956 Alliance

In 1956 Wyszynski formed a patriotic alliance with the Polish government against Moscow domination. As a result the church obtained greater freedom. Religious teaching in schools was reintroduced. But once the Polish government had reconsolidated itself it became less liberal. The Polish church, in past centuries among the most reactionary and rigidly Catholic, became the only bastion of freedom in Poland.

Today the struggle between church and state in Poland is greater than ever. Religious teaching in schools has been revoked, heavy taxes put on church property, and young priests at seminaries are made to do military service. Cardinal Wyszynski is determined to get these restrictions removed as the price of a Papal visit to Poland.

No repair job ever looks too big to Finning's Norm Ruffle

The 25 tons of power in our picture is a Caterpillar D8 track-type tractor. It's in for a complete overhaul . . . a job that calls for even the big components to be handled with a watchmaker's precision.
To do it right you really need two things.
A service supervisor like Norm Ruffle, and an organization like Finning's. Norm's confidence comes partly from twenty-five years of experience and partly from knowing his team of specialists and their equipment are simply the best.
So under Norm's watchful eye, the giant Cat D8 tractor will be stripped. Then the overhaul will get under way with each part . . . engine, transmission, fuel injection, control unit, turbocharger, electrical system, tracks and rollers . . . being sent to its own expert.
But just as important is this question..
What kind of pride do these Finning men take in their work?
Well, you could talk to Norm Ruffle for five minutes. Or put the reassembled machine through its paces.
For it's true . . Finning is the company big enough to handle the smallest job efficiently. . personally . . willingly.

STEPS UP COLUMN PACE

Fisher Busier Than Ever In Retirement From House

By KEN CLARK

OTTAWA (CP) — Douglas Fisher is settling into a new life outside Parliament. He seems destined to add to his reputation as a gadfly.

Now that he's stepped down as a member of Parliament, the 46 - year - old former schoolteacher says he'll have more freedom to write what he thinks.

His twice-weekly syndicated newspaper column has been stepped up to three a week. It's one of three jobs he will hold down in his post-parliamentary career.

He'll continue a television interview show which he also conducted while he was the NDP member for Port Arthur. His third role will be in imparting knowledge to Carleton University students here as a "visiting fellow."

FISHER
. . . no longer MP

Nobody stopped him from expressing his viewpoint while an MP, Mr. Fisher told an interviewer. But he imposed some restictions on himself because of his position. Now he will have more freedom of expression.

The dictionary definition of gadfy is "one who torments or worries another."

This is what the six-foot-six, 260-pound son of a locomotive engineer has been doing ever since he took Port Arthur riding from the late Liberal trade minister, C. D. Howe.

SCORES BIG UPSET

His 1957 victory over the Liberal political giant ranks as one of the biggest electoral upsets in postwar years.

He'd hardly taken his Commons seat when he jumped right into the Commons fray terming the prime minister of the day, Conservative Leader Diefenbaker, "a sonorous Saskatchewan songster."

From the outset he declined to sit back and feel his way in the Commons. He spoke 134 times in the first session.

In the ensuing eight years, he attacked everything from the "high-level Babbitts" on the back benches to Parliament itself, "a creaking, senile, inefficient institution."

When the Nov. 8 election was called, he announced that he was quitting his seat, but campaigned for his party's candidate.

In partial testimony to his personal hold on the riding, the seat returned to the Liberal fold. When he retired, Mr. Fisher was his party's deputy leader.

He still insists that his departure was primarily to allow himself more time with his family. He and his wife have five sons, from one to 13.

"I wasn't dissatisfied with the party," he says. "I was not fed up with my constituents. I was not worried about losing my seat."

'Business Revolt Slowed Campaign'

OTTAWA (CP) — Douglas Fisher says "the most intriguing untold story of the federal election" is what happened to the Liberal party's campaign fund collections in the late stages of the campaign.

He said an expected late rush of financial donations did not materialize and apparently hampered the Liberals' advertising program.

Speaking to the Canadian Club of Ottawa, the former New Democratic Party MP for Port Arthur said he has heard stories that a "big figure" went around to all the big political supporters to warn them off contributing to the Liberals or Conservatives.

It was a move "to teach the government party (the Liberals) a lesson."

Mr. Fisher, who did not seek re-election this time, said all the opposition parties were braced for a deluge of Liberal advertising late in the campaign but it never appeared.

Defeat Forecast On Hospital Tax

Inadequate Time to Explain Issue To Voters, Edgelow Tells Council

By AB KENT
City Hall Reporter

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow Thursday predicted the Dec. 11 hospital bylaw will be defeated.

He made the statement as Victoria city council gave final approval for the question to be put to ratepayers at the civic elections.

Ald. Edgelow said the proposal is doomed because there isn't time to explain it to the voters.

Other members of council feel there are still many questions to be answered.

Ald. Edgelow suggested delaying the referendum to April, perhaps calling a special vote on the question then.

MEETING DEC. 3

Meanwhile, Mayor R. B. Wilson said a council meeting has been set for 3:30 p.m. Dec. 3. The meeting will discuss a letter from Municipal Affairs Minister Campbell in which he answers a number of questions on the issue.

After this discussion aldermen hope to be able to advise ratepayers how to vote.

So far, there is agreement only in principle that capital hospital financing should be on a regional basis, the most economic, logical way to provide services.

Greater Victoria councils have had no assurance that the ratepayer will not be the one stuck with a heavy portion of the tax burden to make the scheme work.

Solicitor T. P. O'Grady told council he is satisfied the interpretation of ballot wording suggested by the municipal affairs department embraces unorganized areas with municipalities.

Council had been afraid the basis of cost sharing—up to two mills per year—would be different in areas outside the municipalities.

But hopes for a uniform ballot throughout the regional district are dashed. Mr. O'Grady said Oak Bay's form of ballot would be different from the city's, although Saanich would adopt the Victoria form.

He said any differences would only be in the wording and would not affect the intent.

The Victoria ballot will ask property-owning voters:

"Are you in favor of the city of Victoria sharing in the cost of the granting by the proposed 'Regional District of the Capital City of British Columbia' of aid for purchasing, building, enlarging or equipping hospitals in the said proposed district on the following basis;

"The annual cost shall be apportioned among the member municipalities liable to share in such cost as follows:

1. One-half such costs shall be apportioned on the basis of assessed values which may be taxed in the immediately preceding year for school purposes (excluding the property of the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority) in the case of the electoral areas and for general municipal purposes in the case of the incorporated municipalities and one-half on the basis of population.

2. The total annual cost to be requisitioned in any one year pursuant to this function shall not exceed the product of two mills levied on the total of the assessed values referred to above."

HOUSEWIFE NOMINATED

An Oak Bay housewife, Mrs. Dorothy May Ellinor, 2427 Nottingham, has filed nomination papers for a seat on the Greater Victoria School Board.

Mrs. Ellinor will contest the seat now held by trustee Peter Bunn which becomes vacant in the Dec. 11 municipal elections.

FOR MONTREAL, TORONTO

Special Fraud Squad Formed

Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Stepping up its drive against fraudulent bankruptcies, the federal government will soon appoint special investigators in Toronto and Montreal.

The new investigators to be appointed in Canada's two largest cities will have power to make spot checks on records and inventories prepared by trustees. If necessary they will also have authority to seize files.

The men will be employed primarily as investigators. They will concentrate on inventories prepared by court appointed trustees in bankruptcies. They will make spot checks in large bankruptcies to ensure the inventories are properly valued an official said.

Empress' Tiara Gone

LONDON (AP)—A tiara presented by Napoleon Bonaparte to his second wife, Empress Marie Louise, was among jewelry worth an estimated £750,000 ($2,250,000) stolen in London last weekend, it was disclosed Thursday. Lady St. Oswald, wife of Lord St. Oswald, a former agriculture ministry official, reported she had left the £5,000 tiara at Carrington's, the royal jewellers, to be evaluated for insurance purposes.

BUSINESS VIEWS

Fraud Squad Studies Bond Lottery

By JIM HUME
Times Buisness Editor

It's incredible, but it works.

A gentleman with more than average larceny in his soul invites the holders of $50 Canada Savings Bonds to participate in a lottery with a grand prize of $6,000.

Hume

The system is simple. All you do is mail in the bond with your name and address. At some future date a draw will take place and, if you are the winner, you will be sent $6,000 in Canada Savings Bonds.

One elderly gentleman in Victoria responded to the invitation to make $6,000 overnight by sending in six $50 bonds. And he thought he was on to a good thing until he realized that several weeks had gone but that no receipt had been forwarded for the $300.

Thursday he telephoned the Better Business Bureau to ask manager Bill Tindall what could be done to get his money back.

NO RECEIPT

Sadly Mr. Tindall informed the gentleman that it might be as well to forget his $300. With no proof that he ever sent in the bonds in the first place, and no receipt from the illegal lottery operator, he's way out on a snapping limb.

The BBB did what it could. First it passed on the alert to the Vancouver office which in turn passed the report on to the Vancouver fraud squad.

"Why," I asked Mr. Tindall, "would a man part with $300 when he knows the lottery illegal in the first place, he has no guarantee that a draw will ever take place and no legal recourse if the organizer just pockets the money?"

"If I could answer that my job would be a lot easier," he answered. "But I can't. I don't know whether it's the climate or what but it doesn't appear too hard to get some Victorians to part with their money.

NO ASSURANCE

"This lottery business is typical. Here's a man with no idea of the character of the person he's dealing with, no assurance that he will even get his name in an illegal draw. All the fellow running this thing has to do is pocket the money and say nothing or, if he wants to carry the act a little further, to just inform the people who have sent in bonds that he's held the lottery and that they were unlucky."

During the hour spent in Mr. Tindall's office the ring of the telephone was almost constant.

A doctor called in. He had paid $27 for a book several months ago and had not yet received it. Could the bureau check.

An elderly gentleman with mortgage troubles. Would the bureau help him untangle what had the earmarks of some double-dealing.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

And a steady stream of ladies who during the past few days had signed for magazine subscriptions they didn't need.

This latter complaint would be funny if it were not so widespread.

Nobody forced these ladies to hand out cash or cheques for amounts from $10 to $20. They were just given a smart sales pitch which varies from door to door. At one time the neatly dressed young fellow is taking a public speaking course and has to give a two-minute speech to a householder. The speech starts smoothly on world affairs, switches to magazines and an awareness of world affairs and, presto, the unsuspecting lady has a five-year subscription to a half-dozen magazines.

RAISE MONEY

At other times the salesmen or salesgirls are raising money for a youth organization and sometimes they still trot out the ancient "working my way through college" routine.

The growing file of complaints on Bill Tindall's desk testifies to their eloquent efficiency.

"One day we are going to convince people that the time to telephone us is before they are committed," said Mr. Tindall. "If they would just ask the salesman for his credentials, ask him bluntly if he is selling magazines and then call us while he's still at the house we could do some good. But most complaints come in after a contract has been signed and the lady wants to know how she can get her money back."

The number is 386-6348. But do Mr. Tindall and his staff a favor. Call before you sign.

GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Trading in barley and oats dominated activity today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Export interest was good. Other commodities were moderately active.

However, today's action in barley and oats fell below the volume set Thursday when barley trade was estimated at about 9,000,000 bushels.

Shippers and exporters were reported to be making purchases in order to get in a position to offer feed grain in the winter season. The sale of a cargo of Canadian barley to Italy was also reported.

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat tumbled into stop-loss selling orders today and prices extended their recent declines another two cents or so in the grain futures market.

Broker said the continued weakness appeared still to have been related to the U.S. Government's offer to sell high protein grain from its surplus stocks to the milling industry. Speculators were fearful, too, they said, that the action would pul out more liberal offerings from producers.

Firm Wins Gas Pact

REGINA (CP)—A multi-million dollar contract to supply Saskatchewan with up to 700,000,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas during the next 25 years at a firm price has been awarded to Trans-Canada Pipelines Ltd., it was announced today.

D. B. Furlong, general manager of the Saskatchewan Power Corporation and D. G. Steuart, health minister and chairman of the SPC board of directors, made the announcement in a joint press release.

"The contract gives us the assurance of supply at advantageous prices," Mr. Steuart said.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Wall St. Has Scramble Look

Wall Street displayed a scrambled pattern late this afternoon although airlines, electronics, some aerospace defence stocks and rails were strong. Trading was moderately active.

AT VANCOUVER gains outnumbered loses on the mining section shortly before noon today with two issues touching 1965 highs.

Bornite moved up .03 to .52 for a new high and International Bibis gained .08 for the second high of $1.42.

Mt. Pleasant dropped to .50, a 1965 low. Dynasty gained .12 cents to $13.37 and Pyramid increased the same amount to $16.12.

Torwest put on .10 to .78. Rodstom rose .06 to .84 and Trojan put on .06 to .31.

In the oils, Royal American increased .12 to $1.37 and Prosper lost .04 to .91 on 115,800 shares.

AT NEW YORK volume for the day was estimated at 6,600,000 shares compared with 7,890,000 Wednesday.

A generally lower tone prevailed among chemicals, nonferrous metals, utilities and oils.

AT TORONTO industrials continued to hold fractional gains in moderately active mid-afternoon trading today.

Pulp and paper stocks paced the main list with Price and MacMillan, Bloedel ahead ½ each to 39 and 25¾, while Abitibi and B.C. Forest were both unchanged at 10¾ and 22. In other issues Trans-Canada Pipeline was up ⅞ to 37, Distillers Seagram ⅜ to 37, Quebec Natural Gas and Bell Telephone ¼ each to 13½ and 57, and Slater ⅛ to 14⅜. Moore Corp. and Du Pont ran against the trend, both dropping ⅝ to 79⅜ and 44.

AT MONTREAL papers were off but most other sections moved fractionally higher in moderately active trading.

Used Car Dealers To Be Controlled

REGINA (CP) — Legislation aimed at curbing wayward used car dealers will be introduced at the spring session of the Saskatchewan legislature, Attorney-General D. V. Heald said Wednesday.

Mr. Heald, speaking to a Liberal association meeting, said, "this legislation has been requested by the automobile dealers to help eliminate fly-by-night used car salesmen and questionable used car sales operators."

WINDFALL PROMOTERS SEEK MINE

VANCOUVER (CP) — George and Viola MacMillan, president and promotor of Windfall Oils and Mines Ltd., said here Thursday they are looking for a mine in British Columbia.

"Right now, we need a mine more than ever," said Mrs. MacMillan.

She and her husband were charged with fraud last Oct. 7 in connection with the boom-bust cycle of shares of Windfall on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

They have been remanded to Dec. 3, at which time a date will be set for a preliminary hearing. Mrs. MacMillan said she still has interests in the Slogan area of the Kootenays.

Joint Pulp Ventures Proposed

TOKYO (AP)—Canadian and Japanese business men have agreed on the desirability of exploring joint ventures in the paper and pulp industry, lumbering, auto manufacturing and industrial use of coal.

A joint communique was issued at the end of a week-long session of the third Canadian-Japanese businessmen's conference.

The 26-man Canadian group was led by Maj.-Gen. R. H. Keefler, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. The 40-man Japanese panel was headed by Kogoro Uemura, vice-president of the Federation of Economic Organizations.

The parties agreed to hold their next conference in Canada in 1967, the communique said.

Informed sources quoted the Canadian delegates as saying the conference helped them gain "deeper understanding" of Japan's economy.

TO SEND VIEWERS

Points mentioned in the statement were:

—Canadian businessmen intend to send observers to a 1966 meeting in Sydney of Japanese and Australian businessmen.

—The ratio of Japanese export-import trade with Canada has steadily improved over the last decade.

—The Canadian delegation urged more diversified Japanese exports of products which Canada imports in large quantities and a decrease in voluntary quotas now being exercised by Japan by certain goods at Canada's request.

Atlantic Under New Management

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Management of Atlantic Acceptance Corporation Ltd., which went into receivership in June in a $135,000,000 financial debacle affecting business interests in the United States and Canada, was granted General Acceptance Corporation Wednesday.

A Supreme Court of Ontario order, signed by Mr. Justice W. D. Parker after a four-hour court hearing at Windsor, approved an application by GAC to take over management of Atlantic relating to the receivables and acquisition of new sales finance and personal loan paper.

GAC will act on behalf of Montreal Trust Co., the receiver and manager of Atlantic. Since July, GAC has been consultant to Montreal Trust on Atlantic affairs. GAC also has submitted an offer to purchase Atlantic assets and this has had court approval, now under appeal.

WINTER WORK NOT POPULAR

Labor Drain Slows Oil Drive

CALGARY (CP) — The oil drilling industry and National Employment Service have undertaken a program to counter the falling number of men willing to work on oil rigs in winter.

With 325 rotary drilling rigs operating in the West, 260 men will be needed to man them for the winter, industry spokesmen say.

In an attempt to make certain that men are available, western NES offices plan a recruiting drive starting Dec. 1.

The drive is one of several steps—including pay increases—being taken to combat manpower shortages troubling drilling contractors.

The Canadian Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors call it "an integrated program," designed to at least reduce such shortages.

Drilling in Western Canada has always had labor problems because of geography and climate. In some areas, especially those plagued by musket and permafrost, rigs can be moved only during the winter. And these areas, for the most part, are remote.

Even though drilling crews have been well paid and well fed, there has always been a turnover. Every year, experienced men decide they have had enough of isolation, primitive living conditions, hard winters and long periods away from home.

SEEK OTHER JOBS

Other projects, such as hydro dam construction in British Columbia and potash development in Saskatchewan, draw some men away.

A year ago, an unusually large number of men failed to return to their winter jobs. Drilling contractors were unable to accept several contracts.

Oil and gas companies see an advantage in programming manpower. Some companies already are talking of five- or 10-well programs to be carried out by one driller, rather than letting a separate contract for each well.

The drilling industry also looks for benefits from the Petroleum Industry Training Service, which offers drillers and other workers the opportunity to upgrade their qualifications.

In October, the drilling industry adopted a new wage scale for rotary drilling crews, representing an increase of 40 cents an hour across the board, and bringing the wage of the top hand, the driller, to $3.60 an hour.

There are signs already, the CAODC says, that this move has stopped the labor drain.

There is a 100-rig service section of the industry which has had similar problems, although to a lesser degree. In this section a 30-cent increase brought service driller's wage to $3.00 an hour.

Thomson Shares Interest Public

TORONTO (CP) — The first public offering of shares of Thomson Newspapers Ltd. is being well received, underwriter Wood, Gundy and Co. Ltd. says.

The offering is 720,000 common shares from the treasury at $15.50 each.

THINK

"Thinking machines" and "giant Brains" do not really exist. But Computers do exist for the benefit of mankind. They are very real in the day-to-day world of business. They can take over and change many of our jobs simply because they can do some things better than we can. In fact, new uses are being found for computers every day. They have great speed, accuracy and a tremendous memory. However, they lack the ability to think—they need some one to do this job for them. THEY NEED SOMEONE BUT NOT JUST ANYONE. They need MEN and WOMEN with imagination and ingenuity. They need MEN and WOMEN able to analyse problems and perceive solutions. They need TRAINED PEOPLE able to convert information into a form they can take in and understand. In other words, the computer needs someone to converse with it; NOT JUST ANYONE, but MEN and WOMEN with APTITUDE and TRAINING. Perhaps "YOU CAN THINK YOUR WAY" to a real future in data processing. PIRATE CACHE

Attack Intensified For Hidden Treasure

OAK ISLAND, N.S. (CP) — A 39-year-old fortune seeker from California, whose mechanized approach to the 170-year mystery of this tiny island has brought him further towards discovery of its fabled wealth than any other searcher, sharpened the teeth on the buckets of his digging machine Thursday for an intensified attack on layers of old wood slowing the operation.

Robert Dunfield is maintaining an exhausting supervision at the "money pit" where legend says a treasure thought by some to be worth about $50,000,000 was buried by pirates two centuries ago.

Two crews of four or five men work the digging machine that now has burrowed to at least 150 feet in the clay soil of this island off Nova Scotia's south-eastern shore. Dunfield toils more than 16 hours a day with few breaks.

His father, Robert Dunfield Sr., said Thursday the bucket teeth were welded to sharp points in an effort to claw away thick layers of old spruce and some oak, probably put there by some unknown engineer to guard whatever lies below or to shore up the original pit.

The blackened wood slowed Thursday's work, but the elder Dunfield said the digging should "pick up on the next shift."

He estimated the 70-ton machine, called a "digging clam," had reached a depth of 12 feet earlier this week, but had been held to "a foot or two" of headway in the last two days because of the wood. His son's first objective is 155 feet. A 180-foot depth is the deepest the young petroleum geologist is prepared to go.

Mr. Dunfield Sr., said the current operation has gone deeper in the money pit than any other treasure-seeking expedition, although a Texas oilman drilled to 190 feet before quitting. However, "it has been proved he was not in the money pit," he said.

The previous record level was 118 feet.

Adventists Create Rare Church Supper

The flavor of Chinese chow mein, Russian cabbage rolls and Australian nut-meat still lingers in the memory of parents who attended an international supper in Hill Memorial School, 1462 Hillside, Monday night.

Appetizing dishes originating from eight different countries were displayed on tables, each decorated with national flags, posters and souveniers.

The supper was cooked by members of Victoria Seventh-day Adventist Church and sold to parents in aid of Hill Memorial School, which is operated by the church.

Ireland was represented by shamrock, potatoes and gravy; Hawaii by leis, coconuts and pineapple; Canada by home-made rolls, totem poles, moccasins, baskets and Indian blankets; Australia by nut-meat pot pie, model kangaroos and a boomerang.

The U.S. table, decorated with the American Eagle and the Stars and Stripes, offered coleslaw salad. Chinese chow mein was served from a table decorated with lanterns and Chinese water lilies.

Germany was represented by various desserts, including a chocolate torte, and a pyramid turned by the heat of candles.

Handicrafts of Holland, Latvia, the Phillippines and Africa were on display.

PARIS ART SALE SEES HIGH BIDS

PARIS (UPI)—The sale of 80 modern paintings, including works by Braque, Picasso and Modigliani, brought $2,345,500 in an auction last night at the Palais Galliera. Braque's 1914 canvas "Man With a Guitar" brought the highest price—$312,000.

ART OBSCENE

Eros '65 Show Was In Error, Court Rules

TORONTO (CP) — Former art gallery proprietor Dorothy Cameron was found guilty Thursday by Magistrate Fred Hayes on seven charges of displaying obscene pictures.

The magistrate fined Miss Cameron $50 on each charge. At defence request she was given two weeks to pay, with an alternative of five days in jail on each count to run consecutively.

In a 40-minute judgment, the magistrate said he considered that all the paintings, which had hung in Miss Cameron's gallery, unduly exploited sex.

MIDDLEMAN

The community standards by which the pictures must be considered, he said, are "the standards of the middleman," not those of people with an intense interest in art.

Miss Cameron declined comment on the verdict. Her lawyer, Meredith Fleming, said he hoped she would appeal, but "the decision is hers."

The magistrate said the human form is a legitimate subject for art but he felt the artists in question had portrayed attitudes involving male and female figures that went beyond the bounds of decency.

GALLERY CLOSED

Charges against Miss Cameron were laid by morality officers after the public viewing of her Eros '65 exhibition last May in her Yonge Street gallery, which has since closed.

The pictures that were the subject of the magistrate's ruling were by artists Robert Markle, Lawrence Chaplin and Fred Ross. The judgment said they "did not serve the public good."

You Can't Tell Boys From Girls ...And It's Dangerous (?): Stars

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Beatle-inspired hairstyles have been catching on with some teen-age boys, to the despair of their parents and teachers.

Those lads would be shorn, if a group of film stars had their way.

The stars, interviewed on sets of movies and television series, gave these opinions:

Elke Sommer (Boy, Did I Get a Wrong Number): "Long hair no a man is too effeminate. I think men should be allowed to do more than part their hair and comb it to one side; think of the things we women do with our hair! But men's hair should not get too long. I see to that by cutting my own husband's hair."

Patty Duke (The Patty Duke Show): "I think the length of boys' hair has been carried too far. I like a long cut on small boys like John Kennedy. But on bigger boys it just looks dirty."

Greer Garson (The Singing Nun): "I find long hair rather attractive on certain men—in the profession, that is. Next door to our set were Herman and his hermits, and they looked charming — like Tintoretto angels. But long hair must be cared for: Washed, combed, brushed. I'd hate to see the beauticians gain control of men, as they have of us women."

DOESN'T UNDERSTAND

Anne Francis (Honey West): "I don't understand it. I suppose girls find long hair on men a safe image; it removes the element of sex. But it's unhealthy for girls to admire men who are female-looking. I like thick, clean hair on a man, not a crewcut. I enjoy running my hands through a man's hair—but not down to his shoulders."

Jane Russell (Johnny Reno): "When a boy's hair hangs over his ears or is long enough for bangs, it's time for a cut. If my sons don't get it done, I'll cut it for them."

Julie Andrews (Torn Curtain): "I don't mind long hair on men, as long as they have a good comb."

Debbie Reynolds (The Singing Nun): "With a shortage of men still prevailing, it's unfair for them to wear long hair. That makes it tougher for girls to find them."

Janet Leigh (Three On A Couch): "If I were dating, I certainly wouldn't want to go out with anyone who had longer hair than I have."

Martha Hyer (guesting on Beverly Hillbillies): "Long hair looks too feminine on men. It's getting so bad that on the Sunset Strip these nights you can't tell which are the girls and which are the boys. It's not only confusing; it can be dangerous."

DIRTY-LOOKING?

Local Vocals Make It Big

Victoria record stores have received copies of the record just released across Canada featuring Bobby Faulds and the Strangers of Victoria.

The songs Walking Away and Where Can I Go are the first ones recorded by the local group for national sale. The songs will also be featured Dec. 6 on the CBC national television program Music Hop.

FOR ACTRESS

It's 30 But Only The Start

By VEERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Are spring chickens on the way out? Yes, says Martha Hyer.

According to the blonde beauty, American men are finally catching up to Europeans in their taste for mature women. The young girl as a sex image is losing ground to her older sister.

"Women, not girls, are the style now," said Martha during a noontime interview. "I've certainly found it true in my case.

"I've just returned from making a movie in Italy where people think our movies and television shows are oriented for teen-age audiences. I tried to convince them otherwise.

"I was never a really successful actress until I matured. Now that I'm over 30 I'm playing more parts than ever — five movies in the past year and another one coming up next month."

Martha's busy schedule is enough for her that the male libido is indeed swinging away from youthful cuties to sophisticated females.

HAS POINT

And she has a point. Audrey Hepburn, Liz Taylor, Shirley MacLaine, Doris Day and most of the other top actresses have long since departed their 20s.

"Besides, there are more men than boys in this country, and when they go to a movie they like to see someone they can picture as a date for themselves, not as a partner for one of their young sons."

Missile Co-operation

OTTAWA (CP) — West Germany will join Canada and Britain in development of a Canadian-designed picture-taking jet missile, the industry department announced Wednesday. Germany will shoulder one-third of the cost.

LONGEST hair in Montreal is the claim of Gary Eisenkraft, 20, who sings in his own coffee house. He has been folksinging his way around college campuses and an assortment of cafes in Canada and the United States for the past five years.

TEACHING CHANGES ASKED

'Books Slanted Against Indians'

OTTAWA (CP) — An appeal was made this week for fair teaching of the history of the Canadian Indian.

It came from most of the dozen speakers invited to Indian Week sessions at Carleton University, which conclude today.

Several said text books are so derogatory their children come home ashamed to be Indians.

Indians were often depicted as savages.

"We had formed the Six Nations Confederacy 400 years before the League of Nations," said Howard Staats, 26, a Mohawk about to be admitted to the Ontario bar.

The Mohawks had probably gained their fierce reputation through the fact that in the confederacy of tribes, they were the "keepers of the eastern gate." They were defending their land against colonial invasion.

Rev. David Bauer of the University of Saskatchewan said this was the defence of a civilization.

The colonist adapted nature to man, but the Indian adapted himself to nature.

The Indians had been intimate with their natural environment, knew it perfectly and accepted it. Tribal life tended to be communal, not competitive.

The onslaught of the European destroyed the environment of this culture.

Father Bauer said the school system won't be doing the Indian much good until it takes his heritage and nature into account. Text books had to present a fair picture of Indian history.

"It isn't what is taught that creates prejudice but what isn't taught," Father Bauer said.

Another theme of the five days of discussion was how relations between Indians and whites can be improved.

Indian speakers consistently referred to the suspicion and distrust treaty Indians have for intruders.

Duke Redbird, 26, Chipewyan now living in Toronto, said forums like the one at Carleton were probably the best means to increase understanding.

Other Indians said student demonstrations and uninvited intrusions into reserves were probably the worst.

Allen Jacob, 32, of Alberta's Cold Lake reserve, said "do-gooders" only created more division and confusion on reserves.

3-WEEK BLITZ

They'll Finish Briefs Bi-and-Bi

OTTAWA (CP) — The royal commission on bilingualism and biculturalism, out of the public eye since June, launches a three-week blitz Monday to hear 200 briefs in six cities.

The commission will split up to hold simultaneous public hearings in Montreal and Toronto next week and in Regina and Edmonton the following week.

MASSIVE INQUIRY

Hearings will follow in Winnipeg Dec. 9-10 and in Ottawa Dec. 13-16, winding up the public phase of the massive inquiry.

Next year the 10 commissioners will analyze the 400 highly-opinionated briefs they have received in all, plus the research reports of social scientists, and begin drafting their final report.

The commission's first report, published Feb. 25, said French - English tensions had reached a critical stage but did not make any recommendations.

The final report is not expected for at least another year and the proposed solutions likely will be based more on the commission's vast, confidential research program than on emotional briefs from pressure groups.

A team headed by co-chairman Andre Laurendeau, editor-in-chief of Montreal Le Devoir, will sit in Montreal Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to question spokesmen for 29 organizations about their briefs.

Another team led by co-chairman Davidson Dunton, president of Ottawa's Carleton University, will open a four-day hearing Tuesday night in Toronto, where 45 groups and individuals will submit briefs.

MOVE WEST

The Laurendeau team moves to Edmonton Dec. 6-7 while the Dunton team sits in Regina Dec. 6.

Briefs will be submitted by such national organizations as the Canadian Labor Congress and National Farmers Union and a wide variety of cultural and business groups.

These range from separatist groups in Montreal to the Saskatchewan grand lodge of the Loyal Orange Lodge Association.

Lacoste Promoted

OTTAWA (CP)—Paul Lacoste, co-secretary of the royal commission on bilingualism and biculturalism, was named a member of the commission Wednesday to replace Jean Marchand

Mr. Lacoste, 42, is a Montreal lawyer, part-time lecturer at the University of Montreal and a writer on education problems.

High-Rises Favored 2-1 Survey Claims

Cadboro Bay ratepayers support high-rises two to one, according to a survey conducted by a group seeking a high-rise apartment building near the University of Victoria.

An application from Sherwood Oaks Estates and Bay Meadows Estates to rezone 10 acres on Haro Road now is before Saanich. The term "high-rise" in Saanich means between five and 12 stories.

A spokesman said most of the 500 residents in households contacted expressed an opinion, and this opinion favored the application.

$96,710 IN TAXES

The president of Sherwood Oaks Estates, J. B. Price, said the Saanich assessor, using the developer's construction costs and estimates of land value, showed taxes of $96,710.

"No municipality needs money for development more than Saanich," said Mr. Price. "Very little of its tax assessment is, or will be, from industry."

The pollsters said taxes on high-rises are between five and 10 times that of an equivalent area of single-family dwellings.

Prisoner Urged to Fight for Freedom

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mr. Justice Angelo Branca urged a man sentenced to a lifetime of preventive detention to appeal to a higher court.

He said Thursday he was powerless to grant a writ of habeas corpus to Francis Sanders, convicted criminal sexual psychopath who has been fighting for a release for eight years.

The Supreme Court justice was highly critical of Magistrate John Hunter of Surrey police court who sentenced Sanders in 1958 to two years for gross indecency involving another male and to preventing detention.

Mr. Justice Branca said the magistrate, now retired, abdicated his duty in the conduct of the trial.

The justice urged Gordon Dowding and George Trasov, Sanders' lawyers, to take the case to a higher court to "correct the injustice done in this case."

Sanders was not represented by a lawyer when he was convicted.

The Justice said the unsworn evidence of psychiatrists was most prejudicial to Sanders. Sanders did not receive the degree of care normally given by a court to safeguard the interests of an undefended accused. The magistrate had failed to make formal declaration that Sanders was a criminal psychopath although the prison warrant for committal listed him as one.

Ministers To Address Peace Rally

Three local ministers will be among speakers at a Viet Nam peace rally to be held tonight at the University of Victoria.

Rev. R. J. D. Morris of First United Church, Rev. Marvin Evans of the Unitarian Church, and Rev. Dr. John Sandys-Wunsch, assistant at St. John's Anglican Church, will address the rally at 8 p.m. in the student union building on the university's Gordon Head campus.

Sponsored by the Committee to End the War in Viet Nam and several student peace groups, the rally is in support of a peace march on Washington, D.C., on Saturday.

It is one of several meetings being held across Canada to support the American march.

Also speaking will be Uvic professor Joseph S. Schwartz, student Drew Chatterton and a local high school student.

Several well-known Americans named as sponsors of the peace movement include playwright Arthur Miller, theologian Dr. Edwin Dahlberg, authors Saul Bellow and John Hersey, actor Tony Randall, sociologist Erich Fromm, and Dr. Benjamin Spock.

Indian Protest Pays Off With Action, Study

KENORA, Ont. (CP)—A protest march by 450 Indians earlier this week resulted in one of their requests being approved Thursday and further meetings are planned to consider the rest.

G. Lapp of Fort William said the Indian affairs branch has agreed to provide a telephone communications link between Kenora nad five reserves in the area which had lacked this service.

He said the Indian affairs branch would pay the $3,000 installation charges but the Indians would be responsible for monthly rental—$7.50 to $28 a month—and long distance tolls.

JOINT MEETING

He made the statement after provincial, federal and municipal officials met with Indian representatives in a closed meeting Thursday faternoon.

It was understood other topics discussed included employment for Indians and improvements in their living conditions. Another meeting is scheduled for Dec. 17.

The Indians marched through Kenora and five reserves in the town council meeting where they presented a brief complaining of discrimination, poor housing and lack of employment opportunities.

One of the complaints was that many reserves in the Kenora area of northwestern Ontario were far from telephone communications. The brief said by the time help was obtained in times of emergency, it was often too late.

Computer Age Hits Barnyard

A farm management computer program has been launched by the provincial government.

A. H. Turner, deputy minister of agriculture, told the annual convention of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture here Wednesday the program will provide the farmer with information to improve business management.

It will analyze all aspects of a farm business and show the operator where he can save money and increase profits.

Three agricultural experts, including a research economist from New Zealand, are in charge of the program, Mr. Turner said.

He said the federal economic division is helping out and the federal department of labor is expected to supply an expert to assist the analysis program.

"The farm management goal is a business goal of trying to insure that you know where you stand in relation to what is the most profitable operation under the conditions over which you have control," he explained.

He said management analysis relating to individuals will be confidential.

"We have more than 300 farmers on the program this year," he stated. "We are hopeful that we can extend this to 500 next year."

Mr. Turner said ever since the Second World War agriculture has been changing rapidly.

"In the 1950 agriculture made great, if not the greatest, advances in productivity of any industry."

He added farmers would have to think big if the industry is to continue advancing.

Mothers.
Now an Effective Cough Syrup That Children Love to Take

Pleasant-tasting Jack & Jill Cough Syrup with added Vitamin C Works wonders—children love it.

One of the most disturbing sounds a mother can hear is her child coughing at night. A nagging cough from a cold seems so much worse when it's irritating a child. The throat membranes of children are more sensitive, more easily hurt.

This is why W. K. Buckley spent years perfecting his special cough syrup for children. His time and trouble have been well rewarded. Today, Jack & Jill Cough Syrup helps more children's coughs than any other product in Canada. There are a number of very good reasons why Jack & Jill Cough Syrup is preferred by most Canadian Mothers.

The carefully selected ingredients in Jack & Jill Cough Syrup are double-acting. They relieve the congestion that causes so much trouble, and they relieve irritated throat membranes, making it easier for the child to swallow. Jack & Jill eases the irritation and lets your child rest comfortably.

Children like Jack & Jill. The mild, wild-cherry taste gives this cough syrup the pleasant flavour that children like so well. Jack & Jill Cough Syrup is both a treat and a treatment. And every dose of Jack & Jill contains added Vitamin C . . . the vitamin children specially need when they are feverish.

Jack & Jill Cough Syrup for children is sold everywhere. Ask for it by name.

LIBERALS STRANGLING CANADA

EDMONTON (CP) — Highways Minister Gaglardi of British Columbia said on Thursday Canada is being "strangled," despite its vast natural resources, by a lack of proper leadership in government.

"The time has come that the people of Canada should take a page out of the histories of Albert and B.C. and elect a Social Credit leadership," he said.

Alberta has had Social Credit administration for 30 years and B.C. for 13.

Back No-Confidence If 'Morality Matter'

EDMONTON (CP) — Social Credit leader Robert Thompson said Thursday his group in the House of Commons will not support any non-confidence motion designed only to promote a party's political fortunes.

Thus, he said, if the Progressive Conservatives move a motion of non-confidence in the Liberal government on grounds that the Liberals won't raise old age pensions to $100, the five Social Credit MPs will vote against the motion.

He said that in such a situation it would be clear that the Conservatives were only trying to promote their own political fortunes, perhaps through another election.

He said Social Credit would support any motion of non-confidence based on the issue of morality in government.

SOCRED RESOLUTIONS

Handicapped Aid To Help Parents

EDMONTON (CP)—Financial aid for parents of handicapped children is advocated in two resolutions to be considered today by the national Social Credit convention.

Both resolutions say parents of mentally or physically-handicapped children are faced with unusual costs for medicine, education and other items.

One recommends a doubling of the family allowance paid by the federal government in cases where children are handicapped. The other recommends a special income tax exemption of $1,000 for parents of handicapped youngsters.

The Social Credit convention also will consider a resolution asking that panels of "legal advisers" be set up in major cities to provide legal aid "for a nominal fee."

These panels would ensure that justice is not denied a person solely because the individual can't pay legal costs, the resolution says.

The legal advisers would be "persons familiar with court procedures who could, after passing a test of competency, plead both criminal and civil cases for their clients."

Another resolution asks that contributions of children to their parents' incomes be made tax deductible up to a level of $1,500 a year.

MARTIN SCORES FEDERAL STAND

EDMONTON (CP) — Eric Martin, British Columbia health minister, Thursday said the federal government discriminates against Canadians suffering from mental illness and tuberculosis.

Speaking at the national Social Credit party convention, Mr. Martin said toe federal government had "stubbornly refused" to bring mental and tubercular patients under the federal-provincial hospital insurance plan.

"It doesn't make sense. Why Why discriminate against anyone?" Mr. Martin asked.

Sluggish Kidneys May Bring Restless Nights

If you "fight the pillow", toss and turn all through the night and don't really know why — perhaps here's news and help for you! One cause of such restlessness may be traced to sluggish kidney action. Urinary irritation and bladder discomfort may follow. The result can be backache and restless nights. This is when Dodd's Kidney Pills can help bring relief. Dodd's stimulate kidney action, helps relieve the irritated condition that causes the backache. Take Dodd's, and see if you don't feel better, rest better. Used successfully by millions for over 70 years. New large size saves money.

THIS EAGLE PREPARED TO SETTLE ANYWHERE

CALGARY (CP)—Eagle Day, veteran quarterback for Calgary Stampeders of the Western Football Conference, says if the Stampeders decided to trade him he would "certainly show up" at the camp of the club he was traded to.

Day, 33, was commenting on a report from Toronto that if the Stampeders didn't want him back next year "I will go anywhere in Canada."

In an interview Thursday night, Day said he doesn't feel he's ready to retire and has a deep desire to play in a Grey Cup game.

Stampeders lost the WFC championship to Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

"I'm not going to retire just yet, my first choice is to play in Calgary, but if the club decided to trade me, I would certainly show up," he said.

MAN TO WATCH

Handy Henley Hard to Handle

By BOB TRIMBLE

HAMILTON (CP)—Garney Henley might not look like a football player off the field, but the brilliant Hamilton Tiger-Cats backfielder has given many opponents little more than an optical illusion to hit at on numerous dazzling punt returns the last three years.

In fact, the six-foot, 175-pound import has won acclaim at just about every aspect of the game he's attempted since going to Hamilton five years ago from Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

He was named to the Eastern Conference All-Star team for the third consecutive year this season and was runner-up to fullback George Reed of Saskatchewan Roughriders as Canada's outstanding football player.

There's little doubt Winnipeg Blue Bombers, who meet Hamilton in the Grey Cup final Saturday, have done extra homework on how to handle Henley.

Ralph Sazio, Hamilton coach, said Thursday that Henley has become so valuable on defence and punt returns, he can't afford to use him on offence.

Runs Well In Grey Cup Tilts

However, a peek into Grey Cup files might change his mind as the Ticats try to snap a four-game losing streak at the hands of the Bombers in the East-West football final at CNE Stadium.

The Western Conference Bombers know first hand the wide swath Henley has cut in four previous Grey Cup games—two touchdowns, eight pass receptions for 170 yards, four carries for another 100, 14 punt returns for 92, one pass interception and one kickoff return for 29 yards.

In 1962 he equalled an EFC single-game record of four touchdown pass receptions and in the Grey Cup game that season against Winnipeg he was the outstanding ball-carrier with a total offence of 219 yards on five receptions and four carries. But they lost this one 28-27.

Former coach Jim Trimble thought Henley was looking for a clerical job when he reported in 1960. Later he found plenty of work for him on the football field, both on offence and defence.

However, Sazio, who took over from Trimble three years ago, has all but restricted Henley to defence, but occasionally—about 10 times a season—Sazio throws Henley in to the offence either as a decoy or to get key yardage.

Key Man of Punt Suicide Team

Still it's on the suicide or punt return squad that Henley has gained his greatest attention in recent years. His 8.5-yard average on 69 punt returns was by far the best in the Canadian Football League in 1965.

Sazio said it's an aspect of the game Hamilton has worked on for three years. "A lot of people have criticized us for using players of Henley's and (Tommy) Grant's calibre back there, but I think we've proven exploitation of this area has helped the club get good field position.

"That's been vital this season while we waited for our offence to get untracked."

Saturday's game will bring together Canada's top two punt return squads. While Henley and Grant have the edge in season statistics, Dick Wozney and Billy Cooper of Bombers, are not far behind.

NEXT WEEK

Esquimalt Queen Feted at Arena

The new queen of Esquimalt Hockey League will don her regal robes in a between-periods ceremony on Friday, Dec. 3.

The four candidates for the beauty crown will be feted and judged at a pre-game banquet and piped to seats in the arena.

The judges' choice will be announced between the second and third periods of the game. League Hockey Queen of 1964-65 Heather Main will assist league president A. Loft with investiture of the chosen girl.

The four contestants are Gayle Laurie, 16, Queen's Own; Sandra Neilson, 18, Navy; Mary-Ina Bryant, 19, Pontiacs, and Bobbie-Jean Burns, 20, University Vikings.

The main event tonight, though, will be the Navy-Pontiacs match.

Navyman Ray Gregoire might be king of the scoresheet whether or not his Navy princess ends up with the gold crown next week.

Gregoire has four goals and as many assists to share the early scoring lead with Ted Sarkissian of Victoria University. Both have eight points, but Sarikissian has played in one more game.

'NOW, THE WAY I FIGURE IT . . .'

Study in contemplation are Bud Grant, left, coach of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, and Nobby Wirkowski, former coach of Toronto Argonauts. Grant may have been picking up tips from Wirkowski on the strength of Hamilton Tiger-Cats, Bombers' opposition in Grey Cup game Saturday at Toronto.

NAMED to four-man committee chosen to guide development of B.C. Sports Hall of Fame was veteran Victoria rugby official Dick Ellis (above). Three Vancouver sportsmen—Frank Read, Lyall Barr and W. H. Day—round out board.

Victoria United plays a Pacific Coast League game with UBC Thunderbirds at UBC Saturday at 2 p.m.

Twelve seats on the Victoria team bus, leaving Royal Athletic Park at 10 a.m. game day, are available to fans. Cost is $5 return.

Schools' Crown To St. Michael's

The Hughes Trophy, emblematic of inter-private schools' soccer supremacy, was presented to St. Michael's School Wednesday by Ian Simpson, former headmaster at Glenlyon School.

St. Michael's won the trophy after season-long competition with Glenlyon and Cliffside.

LOTS OF SNOW FOR PLANKERS

Green Mountain is white this week and Vancouver Island skiers are glad of it.

Green Mountain Recreation Ltd. says four feet of snow has fallen in the past few days.

The new lodge, named the Purple Onion, and T-bar are nearly ready for snow-happy hordes. The T-bar will be lifting them up the mountain about Dec. 18; a rope tow will fill in until then.

CUP RUNNETH OVER

Ottawa Seeks Game in '67

TORONTO (CP)—Vancouver made a bid Thursday to stage the 1966 Grey Cup game and Ottawa applied for the 1967 final.

Herb Capozzi, general manager of British Columbia Lions of the Western Football Conference, said Vancouver also expressed interest in the 1967 game.

Canadian Football League executives suggested Ottawa Mayor Donald Reid submit a formal brief to the CFL annual meeting in Calgary in February.

Mayor Reid made three points in his preliminary bid: The game should be played in the capital in the country's centennial year; Ottawa plans a new stadium with 28,000 fixed seats; and the city's hotels are expanding.

CFL officials asked him to include in his brief a rundown on weather conditions in Ottawa on Grey Cup Day during the last 10 years.

Back to the lighter side—and prettier fronts—the ladies are setting the pace for Saturday's classic.

Miss B.C. Lion Thursday won a curling victory for the West.

Brenda Ann Bryan of Vancouver skipped her western rink to a 4-3 victory over the East in an abbreviated match between contestants for the Miss Grey Cup title. She raised a front stone in for the winning shot with her last rock.

None of the nine girls had curled before, said Bob Morrow, Terrace Club manager. "But none had any trouble throwing the stones."

The master of ceremonies at Thursday night's Miss Grey Cup skating party in front of the new City Hall asked the beaus among some 1,000 spectators "not to handle the merchandise."

They didn't.

The nine Miss Grey Cup contestants spent 15 minutes skating together, alone or with children.

Mayor Philip Givens did a few turns with Petra Burka, Canadian figure skating champion. The crowd applauded.

Controller William Dennison, advertised as making his skating debut, floundered a few feet, fell and got more applause than the mayor.

Then the girls left for a City Hall reception.

Veteran football official Ray Boucher said in Ottawa he will retire after working in Saturday's game.

Boucher, 46, apparently is upset over strong criticism of Eastern Football Conference officials during the last season.

"But I don't want to talk about it now," Boucher said before leaving for Toronto.

More ways than one to lose your shirt . . .

Fans looking for sweater No. 21 in a bid to spot Ken Nielsen, Winnipeg Blue Bombers' sensational rookie end, in Saturday's game won't find it. It is gone.

A souvenir hunter made off with it after the talented 23-year-old became a football hero by catching two touchdown passes to spark Winnipeg to a 19-12 triumph over Calgary Stampeders in the third and deciding game of the Western Conference final last Saturday.

"It was stolen out of his bag in the dressing room," said equipment manager Bob Jones.

Nielsen, obtained in a trade with Hamilton Tiger-Cats last August, will wear No. 28 Saturday.

Fletcher Back As President

Doug Fletcher is again president of the Sports Council of Greater Victoria. He was re-elected at meeting Thursday night at the YMCA.

New vice-president is Gary Taylor, Bob Maddocks was made secretary-treasurer and Busher Jackson, Art Burgess, Gar Taylor, Bert Richman and Bob Reid were elected councillors.

Alderman Millard Mooney gave a report on plans for Royal Athletic Park at the meeting, and Pat Frumento, chairman of the stadium sub-committee spoke on the proposed centennial stadium. Thirty-two city organizations were represented.

ANNUAL SHOW

Cagettes Cut Loose Tonight

The annual girls basketball tournament unrolls this weekend at Vic High.

Mainland and Victoria area teams will start the fray tonight, with deciding games played Saturday.

Queen Elizabeth High of Surrey will be pitted against Esquimalt tonight at 7:30. The two other contestants, Mount View and the resident team, Vic High, will follow at 8:30.

The two losers will play at 7:30 p.m. Saturday with the finalists for the Morrison Cup matched at 8:30.

NY Fracas Was Co$tly

Campbell Gives Rangers $1,800 Pain In Wallets

MONTREAL (CP)—Emile Francis, peppery New York Rangers' general manager, and 12 of his players are $1,800 lighter in their pockets today.

Clarence Campbell, National Hockey League president, Thursday fined Francis $250 and a dozen of his athletes a total of $1,500 for their part in the fracas that erupted during the third period of the Detroit Red Wings-New York game in Madison Square Gardens Sunday night.

Campbell's assessment was the biggest mass fining in the NHL since Toronto Maple Leafs and Chicago Black Hawks were clipped a total of $4,775 for a brawl they staged in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens two years ago.

The New York fireworks exploded after the Rangers and their coach Red Sullivan had vehemently protested to goal judge Arthur Reichert that a Detroit shot had not crossed the goal line.

After play resumed, Francis left his seat in the stands and approached the goal judge to further dispute his call. The pair exchanged angry words and then a unidentified fan joined the hassle.

TRADED PUNCHES

Suddenly the fan and Francis began throwing punches and the crowd closed in around the group.

Several Ranger players then entered the stands by scaling a 10-foot glass-and-wood barrier separating the spectators from the playing surface. Others entered the seats through an end-zone gate.

It took a force of arena police five minutes to separate the players from the milling fans, and Francis received a two-stitch cut over his left eye during the melee.

NOT ATTACKED

The goal judge was not attacked by anyone and he took up his regular duties as soon as the game was resumed. The Detroit players were not involved.

In assessing the fines, Campbell said the facts concerning what happened are not in dispute.

"The principal problem has been to identify the individual players, who took part in the melee, and the degree of their participation in the episode," Campbell said.

The league president received verified reports from his game officials and statements from individual players, before levying the fines.

STAYED CLEAR

He fined five of the six players on the ice at the time $100 each. Only Ed Giacomin, Rangers' netminder, did not participate.

An additional seven players were fined $150 each by the league president—$100 of which is for invading the spectators' seating area—and the additional $50 for leaving the players' bench to engage in a fight.

Fined $100 were defencemen Harry Howell and Arnie Brown and forwards Vic Hadfield, Earl Ingarfield, and John McKenzie who were on the ice when the flare-up occurred.

Players nicked for $150 are alternate netminder Don Simmons, defencemen Mike McMahon and Wayne Hillman, and forwards Larry Mickey, Rod Seiling, Gary Peters and Lou Angotti.

Bruins Rub It In Good

By The Canadian Press

New York Rangers had a rough time both on and off the ice Thursday.

Emile Francis, New York general manager, and 12 of his players were fined a total of $1,800 by Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, as a result of last Sunday's brawl in New York.

And a few hours later Boston Bruins added to New York's wounds by walloping the Rangers 6-2 in one of two scheduled games. Chicago Black Hawks downed Detroit Red Wings 3-1 in the other contest to move back into a first-place tie with the idle Montreal Canadiens.

Reggie Fleming got the first of his two goals midway in the first period and 47 seconds later Tom Williams connected for his fifth goal of the year.

The Rangers quickly tied the count on Bob Nevin's 10th goal of the campaign and Garry Peters' third.

BRUINS BEAR DOWN

But in the second period, the Bruins came back and Bob Woytowich and Don Awrey, the only healthy members of Boston's regular defence corps, scored.

Parker MacDonald, a former Red Wing, and Fleming added third-period markers.

Woytowich and Awrey teamed as a defence pair as defencemen Ted Green and Al Langlois were sidelined with injuries. Barry Ashbee, summoned from Hershey of the American League, and Ed Westfall, normally a right winger, formed the other pairing.

BOIVIN HURTS KNEE

Veteran Leo Boivin sat on the bench with a bruised knee after the first period.

A crowd of 13,909, the third straight sellout at Boston Garden, gave the Bruins a standing ovation for the final minute of the game.

At Chicago, Stan Mikita, last season's scoring champion, paced the Hawks' third-period scoring attack with two goals. The other Chicago scorer was Eric Nesterenko.

Andy Bathgate, traded to Detroit by Toronto in the off-season, scored the Wings' lone goal.

Hank Bassen replaced Roger Crozier in the Detroit nets, for the game.

Jayvees Squeeze Chinooks

VANCOUVER (CP) — UBC Jayvees took sole possession of first place in the Intercity Junior Men's Basketball League Thursday night with a 93-43 win over North Shore.

The win gave UBC a 6-1 season record, compared to second-place Victoria's 5-0. Victoria meets CYO at Vancouver Saturday.

Joe Kainer led UBC scorers with 24 points. Ken Kern picked up 20. John Hart was best man for North Shore, getting 14.

HE'S OUTSTANDING 'MUDDER'

BOMBERS HAVE BEEF UP FRONT

Ticats Better Keep Eye on 'Peg's 'Pearly'

By WALTER KREVENCHUK

TORONTO (CP) — Winnipeg Blue Bombers will watch out for Tommy Grant and Hal Patterson in the Grey Cup game Saturday.

Hamilton Tiger-Cats, if they remember a Sunday in October, will keep an eye on a fullback nicknamed Pearly.

On Oct. 3 the Tiger-Cats held a 20-0 lead over the Blue Bombers in a Canadian Football League interlocking clash. Then Art (Pearly) Perkins started to catch short passes and run—27 and 24 yards for touchdowns in the fourth quarter, one with one minute and 54 seconds left to play—to give Winnipeg a 26-21 victory.

Hamilton likely will see a lot of Perkins in the 38th East-West final if it rains or snows. The 24-year-old, 225-pound import is the man the Bombers depend on to lead their offence on wet, slippery fields.

HAL PATTERSON

The weather office, studying a winter storm developing in the central United States, said Thursday there is a threat of precipitation.

Winnipeg coach Bud Grant says a slippery field will take away the Bombers' halfback sweep, a potent weapon in 1965 as executed by Dave Raimey and Leo Lewis.

"We'd have to go with straight-ahead handoffs."

That's where Perkins, who compiled a modest 4.2-yard rushing average during the season, excelled on weather-beaten fields during the Western Conference playoffs against Saskatchewan Roughriders and Calgary Stampeders.

Bombers held their first Toronto practice Wednesday, held a 75-minute workout Thursday and plan a loosening up session today.

Grant said the Tiger-Cats made it to eight Grey Cup finals in nine years with hard-hitting clubs that eventually wore down opponents to gain control on the line, "where most football games are usually won."

"But they haven't been able to achieve the same effect on us," he said, referring to Winnipeg triumphs over Hamilton in Grey Cup encounters in 1958, 1959, 1961 and 1962.

"We'll be facing pretty well the same thing," Grant said, mentioning John Barrow, the Ticats' 255-pound middle guard, and Angelo Mosca, 272-pound tackle.

JOHN BARROW

Grant made major adjustments this season to resurrect a team that won just one of 16 games in 1964 and direct it in search of the West's 13th Grey Cup victory, Winnipeg's eighth and Grant's fifth.

One task was to add extra pounds on the line. He came up with centre Paul Desjardins, 256; tackle Norm Winton, 245; defensive end Bob Taylor, 245; linebacker Phil Minnick, 225; and linebacker Al Miller, 225.

Grant said the extra weight should give the Bombers a better chance to avoid Hamilton domination on the line in the contest to be televised on the CBC and CTV national networks at 10 a.m. (PST).

HOWE'S HOCKEY

By GORDIE HOWE

Question: Do you think the new National Hockey League rule calling for a $200 fine for stick swinging actually will be a deterrent?—J. M., Calgary.

Answer: I think it is a very good rule. You know, you can get angry enough sometimes to swing a stick and there are a few players in the league who are more exciteable than others.

However, with a couple of hundred dollars on the line, I think they'll think twice before they swing.

Actually the rule says:

"Any player who swings his stick at another player in the course of any altercation shall be subject to a fine of NOT LESS than $200, with or without suspension, to be imposed by the president."

There's an added note in the rules book that the referee shall report the matter promptly to the NHL president.

* * *

The referees still will penalize as "slashing" any player who swings his stick at any opposing player, whether in or out of range, without actually striking him.

It also is "slashing" if a player, on the pretext of playing the puck, makes a wild swing at the puck with the object of intimidating an opponent.

* * *

With the new rule in effect, you're not getting any free cuts any more, it's starting to cost you money.

I sincerely don't think there is anyone who would deliberately aim at a head. Nobody deliberately swings at the head.

I think they go for the arms and the shoulders. That's why you see that wild flailing.

However, in my opinion, this wild flailing is dangerous. If a fellow ducked into one of those swings or if a player did get mad enough to hit another on the head, he could maim him for life. No one in his right mind would do that.

COLTS, BILLS WIN

Johnny, Jackie Clock-Watchers

Baltimore Colts' Johnny Unitas and Buffalo Bills' Jackie Kemp won races with the clock Thursday, giving their teams ties in U.S. professional football's two traditional Thanksgiving Day games.

Unitas rallied the Colts—leaders in the National League's Western Conference—to a 24-24 tie with Detroit Lions nd Kemp led the defending American League champion Bills to within one victory of another Eastern Division crown, tying San Diego Chargers 20-20.

John Mackey caught two touchdown passes from Unitas in the final quarter, the second with just 1:15 left to play as the Colts rallied to tie the Lions. Detroit had led 21-10 at halftime.

Kemp drove the Bills downfield in the final minute against the Chargers and set up Pete Gogolak's 22-yard field goal that gained the tie with six seconds to play. The veteran quarterback hit end Paul Costa with a 35-yard pass and then scrambled to the Charger 15 before Gogolak's second field goal of the game tied it.

TIE CLINCHED

The deadlock enabled Buffalo to clinch a tie for its second straight AFL division title. The Colts, meanwhile, remained one game in front of Green Bay Packers in the NFL's Western Division. The Packers can halve that margin by whipping the last-place Los Angeles Rams Sunday.

In Sunday's other NFL action, Chicago Bears play the Giants at New York, Cleveland Browns are at Pittsburgh Steelers, Dallas Cowboys meet Washington Redskins, Philadelphia Eagles take on St. Louis Cardinals and Minnesota Vikings entertain San Francisco '49ers.

In the AFL Sunday, it will be Boston Patriots at New York Jets and Houston Oilers at Kansas City Chiefs.

Blond Bombers Lead Cajun

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Two blond giants who hit a golf ball a country mile were in the spotlight today as the $30,179 Cajun Classic—traditionally the final tourney on the PGA national circuit each year—went into its second round.

One is Jack Nicklaus who has won two Masters' titles. The other is Paul Bondeson, 25, an ex-paratrooper who has never won a tournament.

Bondeson cut six strokes off par for a 66 and the first-round lead Thursday.

Nicklaus remained in contention with a 69.

Tied with others at 72 were Al Johnston of Montreal and Al Balding of Toronto. Frank Whibley of Waterloo, Ont., was at 74 and Bob Panasiuk of Windsor, Ont., at 76.

Met Midgets Just Do It

Metropolitan took St. Louis College by a point Thursday night at S. J. Willis Junior High School when George Hyne swished a free throw in the final 10 seconds. Score in the midget boy's basketball game was 14-13.

St. Louis edged Optimists, 33-31, in a juvenile match and College defeated Central 35-30 in a bantam contest.

Canucks Get Fat In South

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vancouver's third-place Canucks downed Los Angeles Blades for the third straight time this season Thursday night with a 3-1 Western Hockey League victory at the Sports Arena.

The win gave Vancouver 18 points. Los Angeles remained tied with Seattle for the cellar, each with 10 points.

Bruce Carmichael broke a 1-1 deadlock at 9:26 of the third period to shoot the Canucks into a 2-1 lead. Ron Hutchison clinched the victory by scoring his second goal of the night into an empty Los Angeles net.

The Blades had pulled goalie Marcel Pelletier with 25 seconds left to play, giving themselves an extra forward on the ice. Hutchison's goal came with two seconds left to play.

Vancouver's Howie Hughes, the second top scorer in the league, twisted a ligament in his knee early in the second period in a collision with Blades defenceman Ray LaRose. He didn't return to action.

Use Your Noggin . . . . . . Under a Helmet

TORONTO (CP) — Professional hockey players should wear helmets as an example to young players as well as for their own protection, Dr. Charles Drake of London, Ont., said Thursday.

Speaking at a symposium on the medical aspects of sports, Dr. Drake, a brain specialist at the University of Western Ontario, said serious brain injury can result from little or no evidence of head injury.

He also said motorists should wear helmets.

Best preventive measures against head injuries in sports are emphasis on fair play, good coaching, a team physician to evaluate injured players immediately and protective devices, he said.

Dr. Edward C. Percy, a Montreal orthopedic surgeon, said dimethyl sulphoxide (DMSO), once greeted as a "miracle drug" in treatment of muscle and joint inflammations, isn't as useful as at first believed.

Although it reduces pain and swelling, use of the drug — derived from a waste product of the pulp and paper industry—has been discontinued because of a report from the United States that it causes eye damage.

'Remove Guards'

Dr. Richard C. Schneider, a neurosurgeon at the University of Michigan, advocated shortening face guards or removing them from football helmets. There might be a few more minor facial injuries but broken necks from players being tackled around the head or having their face masks rammed into the ground would be eliminated.

Dr. Schneider said one football coach who had guards removed from helmets told him dental bills had dropped 90 per cent because players adopted better tackling techniques.

Helmets should be more resilient to dissipate the force of head blows, chin straps should snap open automatically if too much force is applied to them, the backs of helmets should be cut higher to protect the neck if the head is forced back in tackling, he said.

Dr. W. J. S. Melvin of Queen's University said in an interview all Queen's players now wear bird-cage face guards.

Neck Can't Snap

Such guards have a nose protector running vertically and a guard below the jaw. If a player's head is forced forward, the new guard strikes his chest and prevents the neck from being snapped.

Arthur Sargeant, head trainer of Ottawa Rough Riders of the Eastern Football Conference, said he'd seen "awful things" in high school football there with "no one knowledgeable" supervising.

He didn't name any schools, but said he'd seen a boy lugged off the field with a badly fractured and dislocated ankle.

"The only person there was some dear old nurse putting a wet bandage on his forehead, if you can imagine that," Sargeant said.

Knee injuries among football players are increasing at the University of Michigan, Dr. Robert W. Bailey of Ann Arbor, Mich., reported.

More Surgery

Dr. Bailey said that of 45 men who went out for the Michigan squad this year, 10 have needed knee operations. He said past university records show the figure used to be two or three a year.

Today's youth might be weaker because of the softness of civilization, but Dr. Bailey also thought ankle taping might have a bearing on the injuries.

Dr. Bailey also blamed inexpensive motorcycles for causing injuries.

He said six students at his university in the last three months had severe ankle damage caused by accidents on $200 motorcycles that lacked protective footplates.

About $2,000,000 worth of these inexpensive bikes already have been sold in the Detroit area and a child of 14 is allowed to ride a motorcycle there without a test, he said.

Cup's Just Not the Same Without Calgary in Town

By JIM CRERAR

TORONTO (CP) — Where's all the Grey Cup whoopee?

Toronto was wondering today if it will materialize at all.

There were a few signs Thursday night of impending merriment as fans arriving from out of town lined up at hotel desks to claim rooms.

But Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Winnipeg Blue Bombers clash in the East-West football final here at 1 p.m. EST Saturday and that means the fans will have to pack their pre-game high-jinks into tonight.

Youngsters peddling team ribbons hit downtown streets Thursday night and reported sales slow. They were about the only Grey Cup enthusiasts outside the hotels.

A man waving a white 10-gallon hat led a knot of luggage-laden western invaders into the Royal York Hotel and shouted: "Where's the bar?"

He found it and disappeared quickly, bringing an end to one of the few spontaneous outbursts of gaiety so far this week.

The Toronto Junior Board of Trade, organizer of the Grey Cup Festival which started Wednesday, staged a skating party in front of city hall Thursday night and attracted a crowd of about 1,000 which politely applauded world figure skating champion Petra Burka of Toronto.

It was a far cry from 1948 when Calgary Stampeder supporters set the pace for Grey Cup celebrating when they stormed Toronto and whooped it up, starting a couple of days before the game.

A special Air Canada flight from Winnipeg arrived Thursday night with 139 fans on board. Another, carrying 131 fans, is scheduled to arrive tonight. But special trains from Winnipeg, Hamilton and Ottawa aren't due until Saturday morning.

Western fans who drifted in before Thursday began lining up to claim game tickets they reserved with Western Football Conference clubs. The Blue Bombers had 3,040 tickets to dispose of and business manager Terry Hind said all but about 100 will be snapped up. Any left unclaimed will go on public sale at the stadium just before game time.

Rain hit Toronto Thursday afternoon and the weatherman said a storm could bring rain, or even snow, for Grey Cup day.

Groundskeepers at CNE Stadium got the tarpaulin down on the field just before Thursday's rain started and said it will probably stay there until Saturday morning.

Meanwhile, Toronto bookies reported a "load of money" was bet on the Blue Bombers Thursday but the odds on the game remained unchanged. The Tiger-Cats are favored by four points.

VOTERS WILL TRY AGAIN

DUNNOTAR, Man. (CP)—Voters in this resort community about 35 miles northwest of Winnipeg will go to the polls again Dec. 15 to elect a reeve. In the Oct. 27 civic elections, incumbent Reeve Fred Frogley and his opponent received the same number of votes. A recount failed to break the tie.

MISS CANADA, Diane Landry, of Winnipeg, will arrive in Dusseldorf, Germany, Tuesday, for a goodwill tour of hospitals and schools in West Germany.

FORCES CORRECTS FIGURE

66% Engaged in Flying

OTTAWA (CP) — Of 4,308 qualified aircrew in the armed services, 2,862, or 66 per cent, are engaged in flying duties, the defence department said today.

The department issued a statement saying that it gave The Canadian Press erroneous figures earlier in the week on the number of fliers holding down ground jobs.

A Nov. 23 CP story from Ottawa, based on information from the department, gave the figure 4,308 for the number of qualified aircrew occupying ground jobs in the armed forces. The breakdown was RCAF 3,794, navy 308 and army 206.

"The figure of 4,308 in fact represents the total number of qualified aircrew in the three services," the department said in today's statement.

The statement said that its original information to CP reported there were 5,000 fully-qualified fliers in the RCAF but that 3,800 held ground jobs.

"In fact, the number of fully-qualified aircrew in the RCAF is 3,794. Of these, 2,589 are engaged in flying duties."

The navy had 308 aircrew, 199 of them on flying duties. The army had 206 aircrew, 74 of them on flying duties.

'DEFORMED FOR AGNOSTICS'

Textbook Squabble Erupts in Quebec

QUEBEC (CP)—A new voice was added Wednesday to the verbal battle over whether Quebec school textbooks are processed correctly or placed in the hands of a "small group of agnostics."

Le Comite Catholique du Conseil Superieur de l'Education (the Catholic Committee of the Higher Education Council) said in a telegram it deplores the fact that authors of school textbooks do not show their books to the proper authorities before printing them.

The battle was touched off by a statement by Chief Justice Frederic Dorion of Quebec Superior Court who said "school readers have been deformed to please a small group of agnostics."

He attacked "the handful of agnostics who are trying to make children forget everything concerning religion and the existence of God."

First and second grade readers have been totally deformed, he said

Education Minister Paul Gerin-Lajoie said the chief justice was engaged in a "witch-hunt" as the books referred to were modified this year to conform with "opinions and wishes" of the cathechism committee "created by the Roman Catholic bishops themselves."

But, the Conseil Catholique said in its telegram that it is supposed to approve books submitted to it by the department of education "from the moral, religious and teaching point of view" when the textbooks are intended for Catholic schools

However, it could do nothing if the department and authors did not make the books available to them.

Queen Mother Liked If Queen Can't Come

By ELIZABETH FORBES

During a question period at a Women's Canadian Club meeting in the Empress Hotel last Tuesday, Robert F. Shaw, deputy commissioner-general of the Canadian Universal and International Exhibition (Montreal 1967), was asked who would open the mamouth project, planned to mark Canada's centenary.

In his answer he pointed out that the Canadian government is the host. It is the government's right, he said, on behalf of the Canadian people, to chose the person who will open the six-month-long event, to invite that person to attend and to announce the name, when an acceptance has been received.

Forbes

Mr. Shaw was careful to give no inkling as to whom that person might be.

It's reasonable to suppose however, that any plans for 1967 considered by the prime minister of Canada and the Canadian government, would centre around a wish to have a member of the Royal Family in this country for some part of that year.

What better time to start such a visit than at opening of the exhibition?

It's also reasonable to suppose that if royalty is to be invited, first choice would be Her Majesty the Queen.

Trouble is—British Columbia has asked the Queen to visit here in 1966, a centenary that marks joining of the mainland colony of British Columbia and Vancouver Island into one province.

You will remember Premier Bennett personally gave this invitation to Her Majesty at Ottawa on Thanskgiving weekend last year. It was later announced that a formal invitation was going forward through the proper channels.

So far there has been no news as to whether Her Majesty has accepted.

It's not realistic to suppose that the Queen will come to Canada in two successive years. Therefore, it is reasonable to wonder, if Her Majesty accepts British Columbia's invitation for 1966, who will come for the 1967 centenary.

* * *

I did hazard a guess in this column awhile back, that it might be the young Prince Charles. I'll stick to that prediction and qualify it by saying that even if the Queen does not come to this province next year, it could still be the royal youth.

In November, 1966, Prince Charles will be 18 years of age. No doubt, by then, he will be named the Prince of Wales. It would be perfect timing to have the prince visit Canada in its centenary year and, as his first grown-up duty, to open Expo-67.

Now let's turn the question around another way. If the Queen does not accept Premier Bennett's invitation for 1966, will another member of the royal family take her place?

If so—I can think of no one the people of British Columbia would welcome with more love and enthusiasm than Queen Elizabeth, the Queen Mother.

* * *

On several occasions the Queen Mother has "dropped down" for a short stopover in Vancouver, en route by air to official engagements on the other side of the Pacific. Each time she has endeared herself to those privileged to meet her.

A year or so ago, plans were made for a visit to Victoria but the Queen Mother became ill and the visit had to be cancelled.

Once or twice this royal lady has voiced a wish to really visit British Columbia and to see and do some of the things her royal daughters have seen and done on visits here.

If Her Majesty the Queen does not accept the premier's invitation, what better time for such a visit than next year?

It has already been announced that the Queen Mother will visit Australia and New Zealand in March and April and that her plane will, as usual, "drop down" in Vancouver for a brief stopover, en route.

Royal decree could stretch that brief stopover, going or coming, into an official visit.

We'll have to wait and see.

LAD, 2, DIES FROM ULCER

DAWSON CREEK (CP) — Doctors in this northern B.C. centre said Thursday a two-year-old child died as a result of internal hemorrhage from a gastric ulcer, rare in a young person.

Young Gordon Paradowski was admitted to hospital a week ago with third degree burns suffered at his home when he fell into a washtub filled with scalding water.

Doctors said the boy was recovering satisfactorily from the burns when he developed a gastric ulcer, which began to hemorrhage Wednesday.

'Wrong Impression' On Protest

A Bastion Square business leader Thursday said aspects of suggested changes to the square entrance have been misunderstood.

Bruce Humber, of Humber's furniture store, said it was not intended that city council consider allowing vehicles into the redeveloped square.

His firm, supported by other businessmen in the area, objects only to the proposed closing of one-way Bastion Street between Government and Langley in order to make it a pedestrian way.

This would harm business in the area, defeating one of the purposes of the square, it is claimed.

Mr. Humber said Bastion Street should remain an auto access to Langley. Business will be lost if drivers are asked to use Fort and Yates to reach the square, he said.

"What we are asking is that an attractive entrance be made which would allow both cars and pedestrians to reach the square," Mr. Humber said.

A council decision on the suggested change has not been reached.

Book Tugging Highlights Driving Trial

A lawyer and a policeman had a tug-of-war in central court Thursday over the officer's notebook.

The lawyer, Dermod Owen-Flood, won when Magistrate J. A. Byers told Constable Ted James to let go of the book.

Const. James was testifying on a dangerous driving charge against Bert G. Howard, 151 Battleford. He referred to his notebook to check the name of a witness.

Mr. Owen-Flood asked to see the book and Const. James held it out to him, open at the relevant page. Mr. Owen-Flood said "My eyes are a little myopic" and grabbed the book.

Const. James held on and objected, "This is my duty book. There is a lot of information in it and you aren't entitled to see it."

"I just want to see that one page," said Mr. Owen-Flood, still holding on tightly.

The magistrate then said the lawyer could read the page that was open.

Mr. Owen-Flood scrutinized the page closely and at such length that Magistrate Byers finally said, "I hate to be suspicious but I'd say you're reading the whole thing."

The lawyer then handed back the book.

The case ended with Howard being convicted and fined $75. Evidence was that he was pursued by police at low speeds but his driving caused two pedestrians to jump out of his way and he once nearly had an accident.

Sick MPs to Be 'Paired' for Voting

LONDON (Reuters) — The late-night mustering of sick members of Parliament in ambulances and wheelchairs to vote in crucial debates will end under a gentlemen's agreement reached Thursday night.

Parliamentary whips of the ruling Labor and opposing Conservative parties have agreed that sick members need no longer be brought to the House of Commons to vote.

Illness is an important matter because of the Labor government's working majority of only two seats in the House of Commons.

Sick MPs now will be "paired" not only with members of the opposite side who are sick, but with those who for any other reason wish to be absent. "Pairing" is the parliamentary term for an agreement to cancel out a vote by balancing it with one from an opposing party.

Political observers said the agreement will remove some of the drama and tension from the current political scene and there will be less likelihood of a sudden government defeat in the middle of the night.

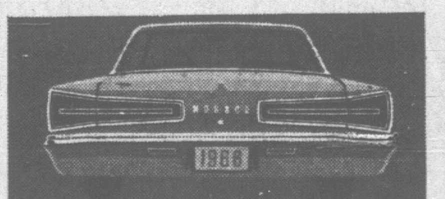
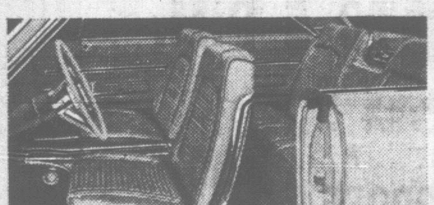
When we say Dodge is a lot more car for your money we mean more ... a whole lot more



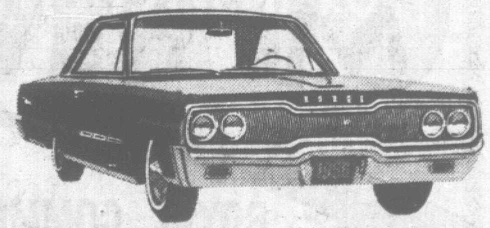
Big car ride. The bigger a car, the better it rides. Dodge is big. Dodge stays flat and steady through turns due to its Wide Stance wheel tread—over five feet wide. Dodge always rides smooth and level due to its long 121-inch wheelbase. This is inches longer than the so-called standard cars. Yet Dodge is priced right with them—right in the popular-price field. Don't settle for the merely standard. Don't settle for less than a Dodge.



Big car luxury. Dodge luxury is lots of things. It's the comfort of extra stretch-out room and the ride only a big car can give. It's a private kind of quietness where the outside world stays . . . outside. It's the rich beauty of fine fabrics and glove-soft vinyls. Most of all, Dodge luxury is a special feeling of pride. Dodge looks like a . . . Dodge. Not like a "me-too" version of another make or a smaller model parked down the block.

Big car features. Dodge has big helpings of those extra things that can make driving truly pleasurable. For example: you can virtually custom-design your own seating position with a six-way seat and an optional Tilt-Telescopic steering wheel. With Dodge's huge trunk you'll never again have to juggle luggage like a jigsaw puzzle. Then there are little things like two-position door checks, new safety door handles and on, and on.

Big car performance. Today, everybody talks about big engines. We've got one in the stable, too. A 440 cubic inch V8 scorcher. But performance is more than engines. It's a choice of transmissions to get the most out of that power. (We've got three of the best including a Torqueflite automatic that's smooth as butter.) It's also handling. (We've got the same kind of torsion bar suspension you'll find on $15,000. sports cars.)



Plus the best warranty in the business. Dodge gives you a lot more protection for your money. Dodge protects your investment with a 5-year or 50,000-mile power train warranty. It covers full parts and labour for defects in materials or workmanship.

This warranty says more about the quality of Dodge than thousands of claims ever could. It is more than just talk. It is black and white proof of dependability.

If you want a lot more car for your money, come on over to Dodge. And get the big bonus of a 5-year or 50,000-mile power train warranty. Makes a lot of sense. See your Dodge Dealer soon. He'll make a lot of sense, too.

French Harness Tide For Power Generator

By CLIFF SEDBON

SAINT MALO, France (Reuters)—French engineers soon will realize man's age-old dream of harnessing the untapped power of the tides.

Underwater generating sets in a dam built across the 820-yard-wide estuary of the Rance River, near here, are due to swing into operation early in the new year.

The Rance tidal power station will produce 544,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity annually for the national grid, equivalent to the consumption of an industrial city of 250,000 inhabitants.

The first four of 24 submerged tide-driven "bulb unit" turbines, each capable of producing 10,000 kilowatts, will go into operation in April with a progressive commissioning of the others, in groups of four "bulb units," by the end of 1966.

The 475,000,000 francs ($95,000,000) project is France's biggest post-war civil engineering enterprise, ranking amongst its nuclear achievements, the building of the Tancarville suspended bridge, the digging of the Mont Blanc tunnel and France's space satellite program.

ATTRACTS ATTENTION

The size of the Rance project and the technique employed are already attracting world-wide attention and visits by engineers from many countries, including Canada, the U.S., Britain, Japan, Australia and Russia, working on similar developments.

Work which began at the end of 1960 is going ahead on schedule reports Electricite de France, the national electricity authority which is constructing it.

The engineers' main feat was cutting off the Rance from the sea July 19, 1963. The northern coffer dam gates and the estuary were closed the next day and the southern coffer dam gates were closed Oct. 24, 1963.

More than 1,500,000 cubic metres of sea water has since been pumped out of the great cigar-shaped enclosure and the dried-out area of the granite bed of the estuary covers about 30 acres.

The power house, built in a vast "cathedral-grotto type chamber" 282 yards long, 65 feet wide and 48 feet high, was completed in September this year.

The "bulb units," the design. of which is the key to the success of the Rance project, are being fitted in horizontal shafts. They will generate both as the reservoir is filling and as it empties. They can also be used as pumps to raise the level of the reservoir at off-peak hours for electricity consumption, drawing surplus electricity from the national grid for the purpose.

CAN SAVE CURRENT

The power complex can thus "save up" current from the national grid at off-peak hours, storing it in the form of water in the Rance reservoir and releasing it when most needed. This is one of the most valuable features of the Rance project, securing partial mastery over the inconsistencies both of the tides and the demands of electricity consumers.

It will be just as easy to turbine from the sea to the basin by reversing the flow altogether—hence, the idea of the "double-way" operation.

The Rance flows into the sea between Saint Malo and Dinard in the vast Channel coast bay formed by the Cotentin and the Finistere peninsulas, at the lower end of which stands the famous Mont Saint-Michael.

It is a natural selection for a tidal-power plant because of the exceptional range of the tides along this section of the Breton coast. The range between ebb and high tides reaches as much as 43 feet in the estuary. The flow then amounts to 18,000 cubic metres a second, or three times the annual flow of the Rhone, France's biggest river.

The engineering work involved the construction of a lock for shipping which was commissioned in November, 1962, and a gate dam commissioned in March, 1963. The whole project will be finished in 1967 with the building of a road on top of the power house linking the two cities of Saint Malo and Dinard

PROVIDES EXPERIENCE

The Rance project is providing invaluable experience for another ambitious French plan—the harnessing of Saint Michael's Bay, which would entail a dam power-house 20 miles long to ensure an annual output of some 20,000,000,000 kilowatt-hours.

In addition to the coffer dam cutting off the Rance from the sea and the "bulb units," detailed research involved long and tedious mathematical developments and costly model tests. The studies included compactness, tightness and durability of concrete, durability of paints and metal corrosion.

Russia is already experimenting with French equipment for a project in the White Sea and the Barents Sea.

GOV'T WAIVES TAXES

The provincial government this week waived 50 per cent of the property taxes due it from three non-profit summer camps in unorganized territory surrounding Victoria.

It cut $73.27 from the Boy Scouts' Barnard Camp taxes, $44.62 from the Girl Guides' camp and $207.91 from the YMCA's Camp Thunderbird, in line with previous practice.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

Three Named To First Regional Board

Victoria's first regional board representatives were confirmed by city council Thursday.

The decision enables regional parks functions to get under way.

Mayor R. B. Wilson appointed aldermen Geoffrey Edgelow, Cecil Parrott and Clyde Savage to have four, four and three votes respectively as city representatives on the new board.

Advisory planning commission's recommendation with regard to viewpoint property off Fairfield Road was turned over to zoning committee for study.

The bid is from lawyers on behalf of owner Doretta M. Stewart, 1471 Fairecliffe Lane.

She wants to turn the 2½ acres overlooking Ross Bay Cemetery and Dallas Road into an apartment site.

APC recommended buying the property to reserve it for park purposes, which was supported by Ald. M. H. Mooney and Ald. Lily Wilson.

Mrs. Wilson said there is a "gorgeous view from the top. All that property should be park."

Adjoining land up to Memorial Crescent already is city-owned. On the other side are private dwellings of recent construction, and Ald. Robert Baird said the acreage should also be zoned for single family use.

* * *

Council referred to the same committee for interim study an APC report on special commercial uses in Cathedral Hill Precinct.

The report suggests special uses for limited and public service buildings, apartments, offices, hotels, theatres and auditoriums, together with site, setback, building, parking and sign requirements.

Aldermen endorsed Greater Victoria school board's supplemental $1.7 million school expansion bylaw going before ratepayers Dec. 11.

* * *

A public heairng into a rezoning application for Begbie Street property whose developers wish to erect garden apartments was postponed to Dec. 16 due to shortness of notice for Thursday's meeting.

A court of revision on local improvements was set for hearing appeals Jan. 10, 1966.

Vote Cost $5 Million

NEW YORK (AP)—The officially reported cost of the 1965 election campaign for mayor of New York rose to nearly $5,000,000 Wednesday, making it by far the most expensive in history. Reports filed with the board of elections boosted the expense figures for the Nov. 2 election to: $2,577,212 for the winner, Republican John Lindsay; $2,174,118 for Democrat Abraham Beame; $245,003 for Conservative William Buckley.

DIRECT DIALING ONLY 2½ YEARS DISTANT NOW

Victoria will get its long-awaited Direct Distance Dialing system by mid-1968.

A. A. Higinbotham, district manager for B.C. Telephone Co., in Victoria, said the initial cost of the system would be approximately $500,000.

The equipment necessary for the change will be manufactured by Automatic Electric Company, Brockville, Ont.

It is scheduled for delivery early in 1968 and will take about five months to install.

Victoria is one of the last cities in North America to get DDD which enables telephone users to dial long distance numbers without the aid of an operator.

Three-Step Climbers Called Chosen People

Bastion Square restoration project will proceed as planned originally, a closed session of Victoria city council decided Thursday.

The move rejects a bid by some business to have Bastion Street between Government and Langley retained as a dual vehicle-pedestrian entrance to the square, which is being redeveloped under the urban renewal program.

The street will be closed to traffic to make an attractive pedestrian mall leading into the square, where B.C. Maritime Museum, a restaurant, other commercial development and beautification will transform the historic site.

Mayor R. B. Wilson said he had been in touch by telephone with Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation executive following a square committee meeting earlier in the day.

It was established that CMHC would not likely accept the proposed change to permit traffic to remain in the pedestrian mall, having signed an agreement with the city to provide funds (at 50 per cent of cost) for the plans that were submitted.

In any event a change at this point in the planning would have delayed construction and completion by May 31 1966, in time for the tourist season.

Maritime Museum is also concerned about the project since it depends on the redevelopment for patronage.

Lowest tender for the work from R. A. Hall Ltd. is for $176,418. Total cost, including fees and contingency fund would be $199,000, or 70,000 over estimate.

Federal and provincial governments will be asked to share in the increased cost.

Fine Replaces Jail for Nazi

LONDON (Reuters)—A three-month prison sentence on Colin Jordan, leader of Britain's Nazi party, was quashed Thursday and replaced by a £50 ($150) fine. Jordan, 42, appealed against a conviction of using insulting behavior likely to cause a breech of the peace outside the prime minister's residence during last month's visit by Rhodesian premier Ian Smith.

"Good" people climb mountains.

Most people never get past the foothills.

Addressing a Rotary Club of Victoria meeting Thursday, Rabbi Marvin Hier of the Schara Tzedeck Congregation in Vancouver said "the 'chosen people' are those who have climbed three steps to the top of the mountain.

"Judaism describes these three steps as justice, righteousness and love. Jews, though, are not the only people who can be just, righteous and truly loving. Anyone, of any faith or even without a faith, can be of the 'chosen people.'

"But the 'chosen people' are few."

Rabbi Hier explained his allegory.

"The first step, justice, is a negative virtue, a restraining one. He who does not kill, or steal, is just.

Righteousness, the second step, is positive and active; it involves concepts like mercy and sympathy. If you give up your seat in a crowded bus, thinking often of what others will think of you if you don't, then you are at this second step.

"Love is at the summit of our mountain. If you give up that same seat on the bus selfelessly, not under the dictates of society, then you have made the third step."

Speaking specifically of the annual Jewish holiday of Hannukah, which this year will be observed from Dec. 18 to Dec. 26, the rabbi said man needs "emblems" such as religious holidays to remind him of "the classics of his faith."

"It is these classics," he said, "that will make a man a finer human being."

May Trial for $45,000 Kidnap

TACOMA (AP) — Trial of the three men accused of kidnapping Charles H. Hyde for $45,000 ransom a week ago probably will be held next May or June, prosecutor John Mecutcheon said Thursday. Tilford Baker, 34, James Evans 31, and Dean Bromley 20, all of Tacoma, have been charged with first degree kidnapping in connection with the abduction in which the 13-year-old boy was returned to his parents nine hours after he was kidnapped on his way to school.

Arthur Mayse

Back when television was first poking its puss into the Canadian scene, I predicted confidently that the newcomer would put radio out of business. So did a good many other people who saw the intrusion of a capsule motion picture theatre into the home as competition against which the voicebox couldn't survive.

That was a considerable time ago. Today, it seems to me that radio is not only gaining back lost ground, but frequently forces TV into second place.

Lest anyone be surprised that a newspaperman should speak well of another communications medium, let me make it plain that we are rivals only in a mild and rather amiable fashion.

While we tend to keep to our own turf, we have never had any real difficulty in co-existing.

Since my purpose here is to say mostly nice things about radio, I'll keep my criticisms brief.

With a very few exceptions, among which Barry Clark's show rates high, I don't like the way radio handles its open-line programs. The basic idea of public participation is excellent — after all, we here set much store by our letters-to-the-editor — but too often, the commentator-referee simply isn't up to his job.

I also wish that radio hadn't followed television's lead and virtually dropped the good plays it used to give us. Those were once frequent, but today they're few and far between, and I think that's a pity.

★ ★ ★

Apart from these beefs, I have only kudos to offer.

Where TV today seems to be wallowing helplessly and hopelessly in a mess of audio-visual pablum, radio in general is quietly reaching toward a balanced maturity.

The loss to its big, noisy neighbor of the soap opera which was once its daytime mainstay has helped it enormously in that direction.

Soap opera, for any too young to remember it in radio version, got its name from the tendency of soap companies to back tear-drenched series of episodes based usually on the antics of a fictitious family or small town.

If you want to encounter soap opera in its new feathers, you have but to twirl a TV dial.

In its role of housewife's friend, radio now offers an infinitely more nourishing diet.

The CBC's afternoon programs are the best in the business, and the range of these is considerable.

In recent months, the ironing-board trade has been regaled with readings from the novel, "Tom Jones," out of which a hilarious motion picture was tailored, and with a lively and recent success titled "How to be a Jewish Mother."

There is music—good music—offered with explanations which add to the listener's appreciation.

A discussion of low-cost foods and how to use them may be interpolated between a study of the "Vinland maps" which trace viking exploration and settlement in North America, and a panel on parent-child relations.

★ ★ ★

And, of course, there are the open lines.

Evenings when I'm home I now find myself spending more time listening than viewing, and not merely because radio offers a pleasant accompaniment to any number of pokev round-the-house jobs.

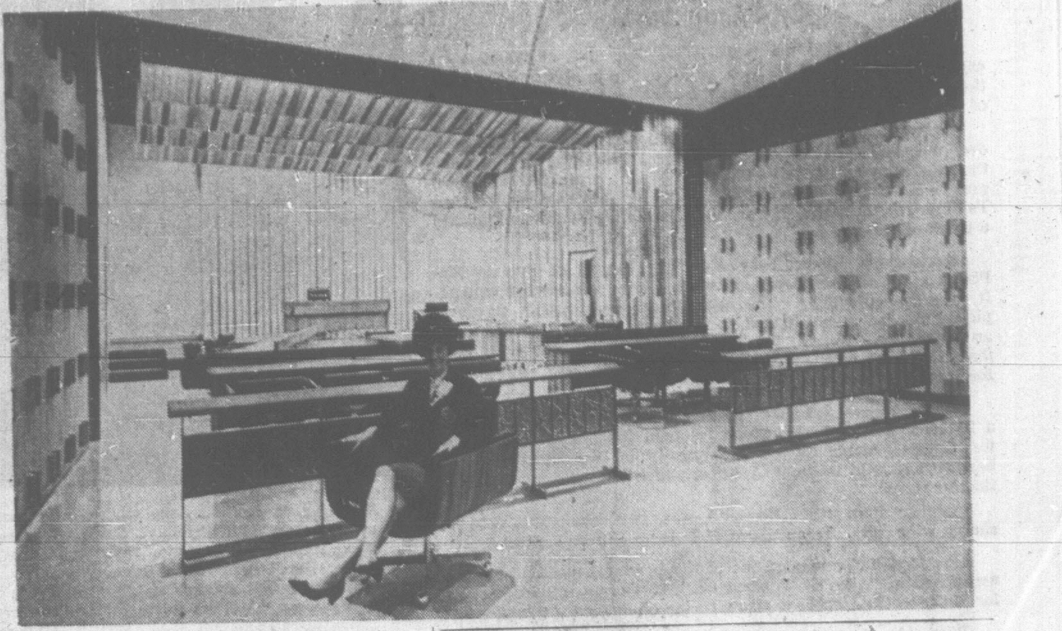
The plain fact is that a great many people want better fare than television offers them, and are receiving it in generous measure from the box that needs no picture tube.

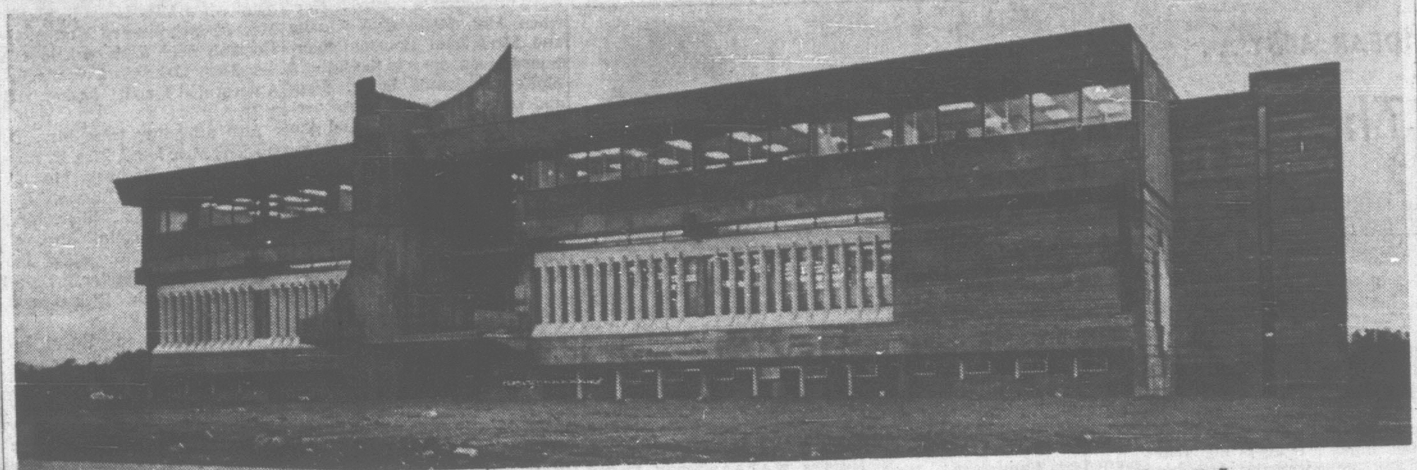
Radio isn't going to put television out of business; any such prediction would be nonsensical.

But it's more than holding its own — and superb though television can be on occasion, it betrays its early promise by getting worse each year.

Burning Bee Set For Francis Park

The intermediate section of the junior branch of the Victoria Natural History Society will meet on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Douglas and Hillside for a burning bee at Francis Park.





Royal Oak to Swan Lake . . . A World of Change

The new Saanich municipal hall will be officially opened next Wednesday by Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes.

But the Vernon Avenue hall is already in use and being well received by the 150 employees who gave up cramped quarters at Royal Oak last weekend.

The new hall is between the health and welfare building and the fire-police station, just off Patricia Bay Highway.

The old hall and land is up for sale with one stipulation—the army huts moved there after the Second World War must be removed.

The new hall cost roughly $800,000, has three floors and looks out across Swan Lake.

The pictures above show some of its impressive features.

On the spacious main floor, deputy collector Ken Middleton and clerk Jane Kennedy (top left) display blazers and grey skirts/pants worn by staff.

Natural wood panelling is used extensively in interior.

New furnishings at the council chamber are demonstrated by Miss Kennedy (top right). Chairs and desks are of teak with lighting recessed in the ceiling.

The first council meeting will be held there Monday, Dec. 6. The chamber provides a vast change from the cramped and poorly-ventilated chamber at one end of an army hut at Royal Oak.

Landscaping will be added around the hall. View in lower picture is from Vernon Avenue.

Prowlers Hit Again In Oak Bay

Oak Bay had another outbreak of house break-ins overnight Thursday.

Three homes were entered and cash and articles are missing.

H. L. Williamson, 787 Transit, lost a $100 women's watch and a .38 revolver valued at $25. Entry was made by an unlocked door.

Dr. D. E. Alcorn, 2620 Lansdowne, lost $25 to a thief who climbed in the house through an upstairs window from a balcony. Between $50 and $75 was taken from the home of W. J. Roper, 161 Beach, by a prowler who broke a window to gain entry.

Two weeks ago three other homes in Oak Bay were rifled by prowlers in one night.

Major Revamp Facing 'Archaic' Act

Canada's Citizenship and Immigration Act will get a major revamping at the next session of Parliament.

At a press conference here this morning Citizenship and Immigration Minister John Nicholson said that early in the new session his department would present a white paper on the existing act.

"Basically it was written in the time of Queen Victoria," he said. "Some changes are needed."

The only change the minister would discuss was the clause which bars an epileptic or any member of his family from becoming Canadian citizens.

"ARCHAIC"

"That is archaic and must be changed," he said. "With modern drugs and modern medical practices there is no reason why epileptics and their families cannot become good Canadian citizens."

Mr. Nicholson said that during the past year 17,500 men and women and children had come to B.C. as new immigrants.

Among them were 8,000 skilled workers to plug holes in the province's booming economy.

"A manpower survey in British Columbia revealed immediate shortages for 10,000 professional and technical workers," he said. "Before the year is over we will have brought 8,000 skilled workers in to relieve that shortage."

The minister said that even with the new arrivals British Columbia's demands for skilled men would be just as great next year.

The immigrants brought to B.C. this year mark the largest single group of immigrants to come west since the Hungarian and Suez crises of 1956-57.

$50 MILLION

Mr. Nicholson said that "value of training" brought to B.C. by the skilled workers was in the neighborhood of $50 million.

"That's what it would have cost had we tried to train people to do these jobs," he said.

Vote Delay Requested On Hospitals

Women Aren't Happy With Sales Tax Split

Organized women today added their weight to pleas for postponement of the regional hospitals vote next month.

They want the vote delayed until early in 1966.

Mrs. Hazel Hodson, president of the Association of Women Electors of Greater Victoria, wrote Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell expressing A.W.E.'s dissatisfaction with the government's explanation of how sales tax revenue is used.

"In view of the serious and irrevocable change in policy in this particular aspect of municipal-provincial as it pertains to the capital city area, the postponement seems all the more imperative," she wrote.

Two others have stated their support for a delay in putting a referendum to ratepayers—Victoria Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow and Oak Bay Coun. Frances Elford. Oak Bay Reeve Allan Cox felt there should be full negotiation of terms before a vote is taken.

AUTOMATIC

The minister's consent would be needed to withdraw the matter at this stage because without an area vote, the various municipalities become part of a regional hospitals district automatically after Dec. 17.

Mrs. Hodson said the association is under the impression that the whole electorate believes that since 1954, 2 per cent of the sales tax has been applied to hospitals.

Health Minister Eric Martin has said the revenues derived from the 2 per cent portion are applied to consolidated revenue to meet government needs.

He said if it were intended that the money should be earmarked for hospitals, legislation would have to state just that.

DIVERTED

Perhaps, as provincial government spokesmen say, the federal government should increase its share of hospital capital costs, now at about 11 per cent, Mrs. Hodson wrote.

"However, when the federal government started to pay one-half of the operating costs of hospitals (1957-58) it would seem that this relief was not passed on to the municipalities."

Man Awakes Early, Flees Fire

Laziness saved Bruce Lloyd and his family today.

The 28-year-old Courtenay logging trucker was too lazy to get out of bed and take a tranquilizer Thursday night.

As a result he woke up at 6:30 as usual this morning—and found the house on fire.

Before flames engulfed the $12,000 home on Powerhouse Road, Mr. Lloyd was able to usher his wife and five children to safety.

But he was too late to save the dream home he has been modernizing for the past six years.

Said Mr. Lloyd at his father's Headquarters Road home: "It's lucky I never took that tranquilizer.

"My wife tried to talk me into taking one last night when I said I had a sore throat. But I could not be bothered."

The house was smoke-filled when Mr. Lloyd awoke.

His wife Verdelle, 25, bundled the children, aged seven months to eight years, out through the sunporch while Mr. Lloyd connected a hose to a tap in the basement.

Despite his efforts the fire, situated in the hallway, had a good hold by the time Courtenay firemen arrived.

Mr. Lloyd finished building a new bathroom only two days ago.

On Sunday he and his wife celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary.

The home was insured.

NEW PHONE DIRECTORIES OFF PRESS

New editions of the telephone directory are being delivered to customers on southern Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands.

The B.C. Telephone Company said today it will take about six days to complete delivery of 82,000 copies.

The new book contains 66,000 listings compared with 59,360 in the old book. Ninety-five tons of paper were needed for all the new books.

The cover pays tribute to the union in 1866 of the colonies of Vancouver Island and mainland British Columbia.

'Bundles' Campaigner Dies at 86

Mrs. Letitia Jean Pease, a resident of Victoria for the last 57 years, died Thursday in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Mrs. Pease, 86, was the leading spirit in the establishment of the Women's Workroom during the hungry 30s and instrumental figure in the "Bundles for Britain" campaign during the Second World War.

The widow of the late Algernon Henry Pease, she had come to Victoria as a bride in 1908 and with her husband occupied the Cadboro Bay farm at the top of Sinclair Road for years.

Born in Nova Scotia, she was the granddaughter of Andrew Allan, head of the Allan shipping lines.

DANCE SPOT

In addition to her charitable work, Mrs. Pease and her husband won wide popularity in this community through their establishment of Hamsterley Lakeside, during the 30s the popular Elk Lake dance spot and recreation area for young Victorians.

She is survived by a son, Frederick, at one time an all-star Victoria rugby player, now residing in New York, a daughter, Mrs. Rosalind F. Terry, of Victoria, and one grandson.

Private funeral services will be conducted Saturday in Hayward's Funeral Chapel, with Rev. Dr. Emma Smiley officiating.

'GEORGE' LOCATES OWNER

George is back home.

Or rather Trix is back home.

George (Trix) is the dog who made headlines in Thursday's Times for his home-roving exploits.

As a result of the story, George (Trix) was reunited today with his rightful owner, army private Melvin Lewis.

Mr. Lewis, 25, of 2500 Garden, last saw his dog over a month ago when he moved to his present address from 524 Kelvin.

Said Mr. Lewis, father of two: "I guess he didn't like the new location. He just took off."

Since then the brown and white mongrel has adopted several families.

His last adopted home was that of Mrs. E. Schofield, 1065 Lodge. She named the two-and-a-half-year-old mongrel George.

Mr. Lewis revealed today that his real name is Trix.

Man Admits Burglary

City police have arrested one man for the break-in earlier this week at Economy Steam Laundry, 607 John Street.

Allen R. Badenoch, 900-block Pandora, pleaded guilty this morning in central court.

Detective - Constable Lorne Shandley said Badenoch entered the premises by a skylight and removed clothing and sheets valued at $1,500.

The officer said Badenoch threw away most of the stolen goods near a dump in James Bay and they were recovered. Police Thursday night recovered a further $90 worth of stolen articles from a home on Maple Street, he said.

Badenoch, who has previous convictions for theft in Nanaimo 12 years ago, was remanded to Dec. 4 for a pre-sentence report.

4 Esquimalt Ships Chosen For Caribbean Exercises

Four units of the Pacific Command will take part in massive spring manoeuvres of the Royal Canadian Navy and Air Force starting Jan. 4.

Code named "Maple Spring," the three-month cruise will involve approximately 14 ships. The fleet will conduct the majority of its exercises in the Caribbean.

Representing the Pacific Command will be the destroyer - escort HMCS St. Croix, the ocean escorts HMC Ships Antigonish and Stettler and the submarine HMCS Grilse.

The Esquimalt-based units will meet on location with the ships from the Atlantic Command, which will include the aircraft carrier HMCS Bonaventure, six destroyer-escorts, two supporting ships and a British submarine on loan to the Eastern Command.

Also taking part in "Maple Spring" will be 12 Maritime Command Argus aircraft from the East Coast.

The fleet and its air support will also exercise with United States naval forces from the Atlantic seaboard.

In addition to visiting various ports in the West Indies the ships will make informal calls at several South American east coast ports.

The joint manoeuvres will be the first held since 1956.

They were Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell, Education Minister Leslie Peterson, Land, Forests and Water Resources Minister Ray Williston and Mines and Petroleum Minister Donald Brothers—all who attended the cabinet session.

Mrs. Judy Nyquist, who organized the petition and stood outside the cabinet door, said she hoped to obtain Premier Bennett's signature along with at least 5,000 others before sending the petition to Ottawa.

Three B.C. school districts today were given government permission to build vocational wings on high schools which will cost them only 10 per cent of the total $1,760,000 price.

Education Minister Leslie Peterson said the provincial government will pay 75 per cent and the federal government 15 per cent of the cost for wings estimated at $1 million for Prince George Senior Secondary; $600,000 for Vernon Senior Secondary; and $160,000 for Mission Secondary School.

A man who earlier pleaded guilty to assault on his wife was let off with a suspended sentence today in central court.

A condition of the sentence imposed on William Falconer, 3931 Rainbow, was that he stay off liquor for 12 months and be of good behavior towards his wife.

A Chemainus man fell to the ground when he got out of his car at a service station east of Sooke, Nov. 11.

He got back in and drove off but was stopped later by Colwood RCMP. He again fell to the ground when they asked him to step out of his car.

And today Cheslie Harris pleaded guilty in central court to impaired driving.

Crown Prosecutor Cecil Branson said Harris was in a state of intoxication.

Harris, who asked to keep his licence so he could drive to work, was remanded to Dec. 6 for sentence.

Weird and Wonderful Found on Market Day

By Penny Saver

Food stores are the most interesting places. Whenever I catch sight of an unusual food, or an exotic import, my imagination works overtime. Sometimes, I am even tempted to buy some of these mysterious delicacies.

On my last market day, I was shocked to find canned reindeer meatballs offered so close to Christmas. The label claimed that there were 15 meatballs in the can, preserved in brown gravy. An import from Norway, these sell for 89 cents the can. To improve the game flavor, reindeer fans are advised to add a touch of cream.

Snatches of Robert Service's "The Haggis of Private McPhee" raced through my mind when I saw one Scottish import. It was canned haggis. The instructions were simple enough—pierce the can, place it upright in a pan of water, and boil for an hour. Then, remove the lid, drain off the fat, and serve with the traditional mashed potatoes and turnips. This haggis sells for $1.05 the can.

Whole grouse, preserved in port wine, is priced at $3.79 for a 20-ounce can. Grouse, which frequent the moors and hills of the Scottish highlands, exist primarily on the tips of purple heather and wild mountain berries, which accounts for their distinctive flavor.

Another item from Scotland was partridge, preserved in sherry wine jelly. This sells at $4.25 for a 15½-ounce can.

One foodstuff reminded me of the beautiful mock-turtle soup mentioned in "Alice in Wonderland." It was turtle meat, selling for $2.65 the can. There is also a recipe on the can for turtle soup.

With this, the gourmet in me disappeared. I came down to earth again, and began planning my family's meal. There was still a faint trace of those succulent delicacies in the back of my mind, as I decided to create their favorite dinner—mock duck.

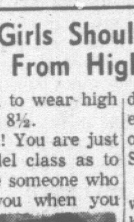
WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Tall Girls Shouldn't Shrink Away From High-Heel Shoes

Q. Am I too tall to wear high heels? I am 5 feet 8½.

A. Of course not! You are just barely in the model class as to height. If you date someone who is shorter than you when you wear high heels and this makes you or your date feel self-conscious, then wear low heels on those occasions. Otherwise you should wear high heels whenever you wish.



Lowman

Q. All of a sudden I have developed brown spots on my hands. These just seem to have popped out. I never had any before. What could have caused them?

A. You noticed these at the end of a summer. They were no doubt caused by exposure to sunlight. Were you in the sun more this summer than usual? Did you garden or stay at the beach for the first time recently?

Exposure to sunlight is the most usual cause. Also as a woman grows older she sometimes seems to be more susceptible to these spots. From here on wear gloves when gardening and take your outdoor exercise either early in the morning or late in the afternoon.

Q. What can I do to take the puffiness from around my eyes after crying. I have been going through unhappy times and cry a lot. One person told me to use hot applications and another cold. I do not know which is correct.

A. I think you will find alternate hot and cold pads best. I have recently mentioned in this column the theatrical trick of dipping a tea bag in hot water and then placing it over the swollen area. Leave it here until it begins to cool and then repeat several times.

I hope that your trouble will soon be over. In the meantime don't ruin your looks while enduring it. You are evidently still interested in the way you look since you asked the question you did.

Q. My friends and I are reducing by holding our calorie intake to not more than 1200 a day. Would it really make any difference if we left something else off and had a candy bar or a sundae on Saturday or Sunday?

A. One breakover during the week wouldn't be too serious but the psychology is bad. Once you begin cheating on your diet you are likely to be in trouble.

Why select such calorie-rich items? For the calorie cost of a heavy candy bar or sundae you could have a small baked potato, a piece of lean meat and a vegetable, all of which would do you much more good. If you are craving something sweet let one of the little hard candies melt in your mouth two or three times a day. These have only about 15 calories each.

If you would like to have the isometric exercises I have selected especially for women send 20 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

DEAR ABBY . . .

The Long and Short of It

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Don't you think a guy should be able to wear his hair the way he wants? I am 17 and ride a motorcycle to school. It gets cold here in the winter, and that's one of the reasons I want to keep my hair long. Also, a lot of guys at school have even longer hair than mine. I keep my hair nicely combed all the time, but my parents say I should get it cut shorter. What do you say?

STEVE S.

DEAR STEVE: If your hair is kept clean and nicely groomed at all times, I see no reason why you shouldn't be able to wear it the way you want to, providing it's not so long, it intereferes with your hearing. But if you are thinking of growing your own fur hat for the winter, forget it. You'd be ahead to buy one, if your parents go on the warpath every time they look at your overgrown pelt.

DEAR ABBY: You said that if a man suddenly stopped dating a girl, he owed her no explanation. Abby, men are irresponsible enough without your advising them to love 'em and leave 'em. If a man thinks enough of a girl to take up her time, then he should be man enough to tell her why he does not care to date her any more. It would help her to know if he's had a change of heart, met some one else, or maybe because she wears too much make-up. I've had many men break off with me without so much as a "kiss my foot." Since none of them were kind enough to tell me why they dropped me, I'll probably just go on making the same mistakes.

KELOWNA.

DEAR KELOWNA: I agree, it would be very helpful for a girl to know why a man dropped her, but the question was, "Does he OWE her an explanation?" I maintain, if she was only a date, he does not. (If the man promised marriage, that's another story). For a candid "What's the matter with me" session, recruit a man who's only a friend. He'll level with you. But don't expect that kind of criticism from a currently snuffed-out flame.

DEAR ABBY: Your column, in which you neatly ticked off the immature husband for stuffing a towel down the toilet of a motel because he was awakened by noise at 5 a.m., reminded me of my trip from Calgary to Toronto. My wife and I were returning home from a relative's funeral, when we decided to spend the night at a motel. We'd almost dropped off to sleep when the shrieking sound of a locomotive whistle split the air, and a train, full speed ahead, went thundering past, shaking our bed. My poor wife, whose nerves were already frayed, shouted, "What's happening?" She was nearly hysterical from the fright. I had to hold her in my arms all night to comfort and quiet her. All through the night, trains zoomed by, disturbing us. It turned out that the motel was built right beside the main railway line to Montreal. We got no rest that night, but we sought no retaliation from the motel owner. We selected that motel and our judgment was poor. An overt act, such as stuffing a towel down the toilet to "get even" for a sleepless night, gives one the impression that the vandal is an unmitigated ass. Keep going, Abby. You've scored again.

GREY CUP STALLS WEDDING

TORONTO (UPI)—The Grey Cup game has caused a delay in the marriage of Toronto actor and announcer Bill Kemp and Lady Iris Mountbatten, a cousin to Queen Elizabeth.

Kemp said the wedding, originally scheduled for this Saturday, has been postponed because there is no room in Toronto hotels for 40 out-of-town guests.

The Grey Cup, also slated for Saturday, attracts thousands of visiting football fans and hotels always are booked solidly.

Kemp said he has known Lady Mountbatten for 12 years so they "can wait another two weeks" before marrying.

Lady Mountbatten, 45, is a great-granddaughter of Queen Victoria.

Kemp denied the marriage was being held up because of a delay in Lady Mountbatten's divorce proceedings in the United States.

Both of Lady Mountbatten's previous marriages ended in divorce.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Michael, 1252 Pembroke Street, have announced the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Sandra Mae, to Mr. Ronald Robert Simpson, son of Mrs. R. H. Simpson, Edmonton, and the late Mr. Simpson. The wedding will take place on Saturday, December 4, in the Church of St. Andrew. (Meyers Studio.)

AT IODE TEA

Guests Hear Pianist

Miss Margaret Brown, bursary winner of Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter IODE, was a special guest at the group's bazaar and tea, held in King Arthur's Round Table restaurant. Miss Brown entertained with piano selections.

The affair was convened by Mrs. R. Benson and opened by municipal regent Mrs. Elsie Lowthian. The latter was introduced by regent Mrs. G. A. Vantreight, who presented Mrs. Lowthian with a corsage and water color painting.

Seated with Mrs. Vantreight, Mrs. Lowthian and Miss Brown at the head table were Mrs. Peter Bell, Mrs. R. L. Brain and Mr. and Mrs. C. Brown. Chrysanthemums set the table decor.

In charge of various stalls were: Fancywork and aprons, Mrs. R. W. Jeffs and Mrs. R. Benson; home cooking, Mrs. F. Smith, Mrs. F. Dodsworth and Miss J. Roberts; candy, Mrs. A. Drysdale and Mrs. S. Pritchett; mystery table, Mrs. S. Thomas and Mrs. M. Cochram; grocery hamper, Mrs. A. J. McQueen; fortune telling, Mrs. W. Boyes.

Approximately $150 was realized.

Emphasizes Necessity of Early Treatment

THERAPIST TALKS ON ARTHRITIS

"When dealing with arthritic patients, the most important ones to be reached and cured, if possible, are the young."

This was emphasized by Miss Louise Bartlett when she addressed the annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, Wednesday, in Red Cross House.

Miss Bartlett, chief physiotherapist of the Victoria CARS Clinic, continued by saying "It is important to reach the young before the disease can cripple. Only with our help can the child grow to find himself."

Miss Bartlett's address dealt mainly with auxiliary help. "Visits to patients in the home mean so much to the patient. They mean the same in the clinic, too, where through being alert, it can also save lives.

"People and electrical machines are unpredictable — we need people who, though they cannot use the machines, can warn us if the instrument does not sound right or doesn't seem to be doing its job. With so many complex machines which could prove dangerous if faulty or used incorrectly, alertness of an aide can save lives.

"It's the same with the patients themselves — one has to look out for them, too." She continued, "We work constantly with pain, spelled with capital letters. There are varying levels of pain, depending on whether, generally, the person, who is constantly in pain, is happy or unhappy. There are many who have developed courage and pride from the disease and others whose keenness and enthusiasm make them try too hard. We have to hold them back, to bring them along in therapy slowly."

Mrs. J. Bowering was elected president of the auxiliary by acclamation. Also elected by acclamation were Mrs. N. B. Fatt, first vice-president; Mrs. A. Futcher, second; Mrs. G. Steele, recording secretary; Mrs. Evan S. Jones, treasurer, and Mrs. L. J. Moore, corresponding secretary.

Named as honorary president was Hon. Nancy Hodges. Honorary vice-presidents are Mrs. E. C. Carson and Mrs. R. B. Hutchison.

Mrs. Moore, retiring president reported that 2420 clinic treatments had been given during the year and 700 visits had been made by WA members.

Acting treasurer Mrs. W. Redford reported that receipts from donations, wishing wells, bridge cards, teas and other miscellaneous items amounted to $3,477 and disbursements were $2,696.07. Cash on hand, which included a bond value of $550, was $1,330.98.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. T. B. Mathison and Mrs. L. E. Poupore.

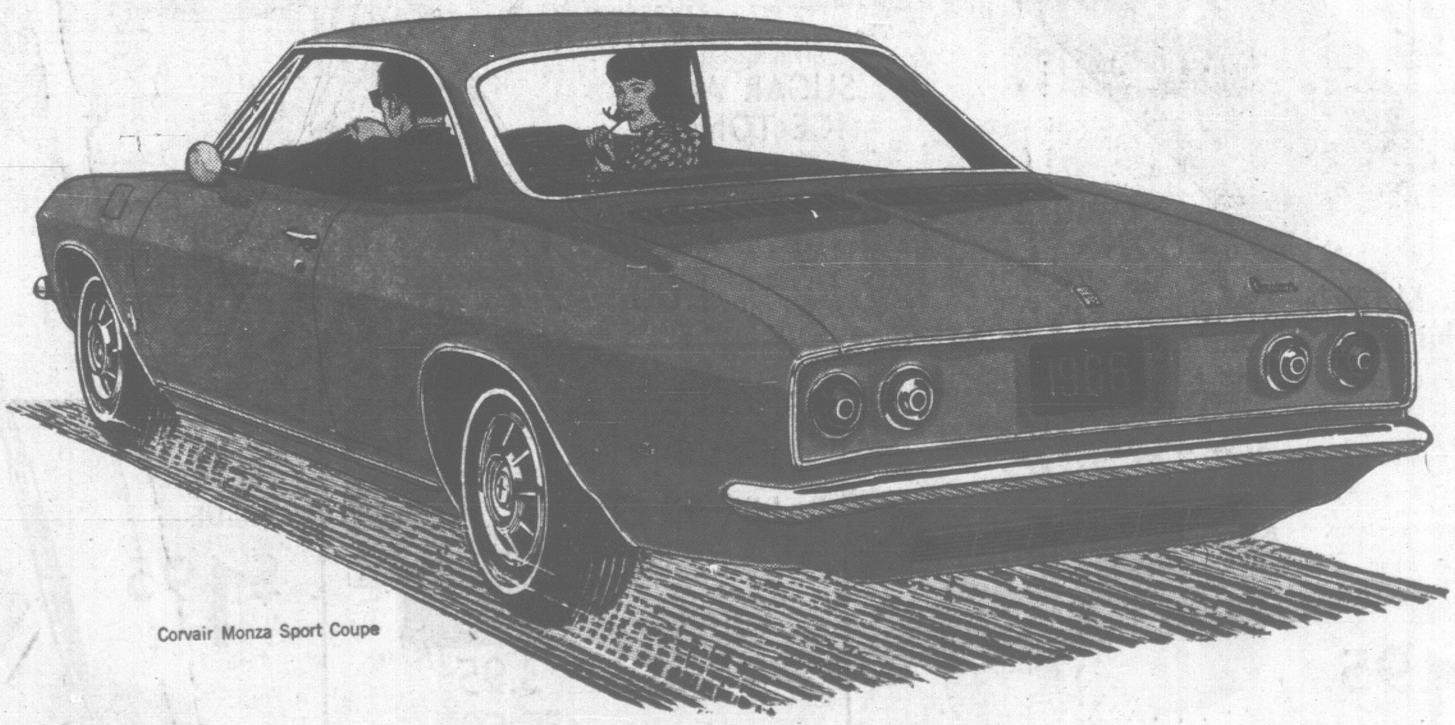
LIVE WIRE! '66 CORVAIR



Corvair Monza Sport Coupe

Exciting! As always. And now Canada's most popular fun car is sportier than ever. There's a choice of power . . . up to 140 hp on the Monza and 500 Series and up to a Turbo-charged 180 hp on Corsa. There's a choice of three transmissions. You can get the standard fully synchronized 3-Speed, or the 4-on-the-floor or Powerglide on some models. Bring on the curves. Corvair's rear-engined traction and 4-wheel independent suspension turn 'em into fun. Now take a look at Corvair's "grand touring" good-looks. They're internationally-inspired. Looking at Corvair's sporty and luxurious options is an inspiring pastime, too. Especially when they're goodies like a sports-styled steering wheel, telescopic steering column, new thin-line whitewalls, Positraction rear-axle (winter's coming!) and AM/FM pushbutton radio. All this can only add up to one thing: "Corvair fever!" And you can catch it from any of seven models in three series: Corsas, Monzas, and 500's. So give a Corvair a sporting chance. Take a test drive. Now.

CARRIES WHITE ROSES AND GOLD CHRYSANTHEMUMS IN BOUQUET

Brenda Jane Wolf Makes White Velvet Gown to Wear at Marriage Ceremony in Esquimalt

Wearing a gown of white velvet which she made herself, Brenda Jane Wolf became the bride of Ronald George Grant in Esquimalt United Church. The gown was styled with a bell-shaped skirt. The sleeveless bodice featured a white lace jacket. Her cap-style veil of illusion net was highlighted with pearl and lace appliques. White roses and gold chrysanthemums were in her bouquet.

The church was decorated with arrangements of chrysanthemums in fall tones when Rev. H. B. Illsey heard vows uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wolf, 2870 Austin Ave., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grant, 2421 Cedar Hill Road. Mr. Wolf gave his daughter in marriage.

Soloist Mrs. T. Dixon sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "I'll Walk Beside You," accompanied by organist Mrs. W. H. Powell, during the signing of the register.

Matron of honor Mrs. J. Swanson and bridesmaids the Misses Catherine Blackmore of Burnaby, and Laraine Jones, wore floor-length gowns of gold velvet styled in similar design to that of the bride's. Their headpieces were of velvet flowers. They carried bouquets of chrysanthemums in gold and bronze tones.

Flower girl Susan Coulombe was in a floor-length gown of gold velvet, and wore a matching head-band. She carried a basket of bronze and gold chrysanthemums.

Ron Griffis was best man and guests were ushered by Russell Leech and Ken Grant.

At the reception in the Olde England Inn, the bride and groom cut a three-tier wedding cake made by the bride's mother. It was topped with an open Bible.

Bill Wolf was master of ceremonies. Gerald Scott of Millet, Alta., proposed the toast to his niece.

For travelling on honeymoon to California, the new Mrs. Grant chose a green knit dress with matching hat and black accessories.

Fawcett is in charge of adult entries and supervising students' entries is Mrs. L. E. Booth. Last date to enter is Monday, December 29. Alderman Lily Wilson will award prizes to the winners.

Accompanied By Many 'Twin Sisters'

MARY POPPINS STARS AT BAZAAR

Mary Poppins came to town Wednesday. She came in the form of a delightful doll. She and dozens of "twin sisters" (the creations of convener Mrs. Marie Adkisson) were among scores of dolls offered on a stall at the annual bazaar and tea, held by the Ladies' Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital.

Some of Mary Poppins' magic must have rubbed off on her exquisite counterpart for an unusually large crowd attended the affair in the nurses' residence and helped raise $5,495 for hospital expenses.

The bazaar lasted all day, being officially opened by Mrs. George R. Pearkes at 10 a.m. Mrs. Pearkes was introduced by president Mrs. Connie Baker. The latter assisted Mrs. Ralph Adams, wife of the hospital's medical superintendent, in receiving guests.

Covered with a huge cloth of delicate lace, the head table was attractively centred with a floral arrangement of white chrysanthemums, Japanese lanterns and ivy, accented with tiny colorful Japanese parasols.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. W. J. Mosedale, Mrs. Percy B. Scurrah, Mrs. W. A. C. Bennett, Mrs. E. T. W. Nash, Mrs. W. G. Ingram and Mrs. D. Campbell. Tea convener was Mrs. A. D. Blair.

Helping to serve the many guests were Mrs. H. C. Carruthers, Mrs. S. Avren, Mrs. S. G. Ruskin, Mrs. R. Lane, Mrs. R. L. Wiggins, Mrs. A. F. McGill, Mrs. C. M. Ennals, Mrs. A. N. Reid, Mrs. C. R. Pronger, Mrs. W. R. Critchley and Mrs. W. Brand.

Early in the day, turkeyburgers were served under the convenership of Mrs. W. Rothery, assisted by Mrs. F. Sedgwick.

Appetites needed no coaxing after their owners had caught traces of the tantalizing food displayed on a home cooking and delicatessen stall manned by Mrs. A. J. Shipley, Mrs. E. J. Michaux, Mrs. E. Taylor, Mrs. E. Marden, Mrs. E. G. Barraud, Mrs. M. Steele, Mrs. J. A. Lindsey and Mrs. F. A. Fischer.

Mrs. B. G. Ryan and Mrs. B. Davies convened the doll stall. In charge of other stalls were: Fancywork, Mrs. R. Atkinson, Mrs. C. N. Sluggett and Mrs. C. Montague; post office, Mrs. R. Girard and Mrs. C. Rose; aprons, Mrs. J. A. McLellan, Mrs. J. D. Gillis and Mrs. O. D. Davis.

A candy stall was manned by Mrs. A. T. Jackson, Mrs. R. D'Amico and Mrs. A. Effa. Clothes were sold at a stall convened by Mrs. W. Rogers, Mrs. C. M. Kilgour and Mrs. M. Bealey.

Other stall conveners were: Lucky Seven, Mrs. T. Pye, Mrs. R. Kay, Mrs. W. L. Caldwell and Mrs. J. Fiddess; Christmas items, Mrs. T. Atkinson, Mrs. L. F. Sim and Mrs. Rudy Kullman; baby articles, Mrs. H. O'Neill Mrs. P. W. Semenchuk and Mrs. G. Bowes.

In charge of a tombola and receipts were Mrs. A. Finch, Mrs. H. Humber, Mrs. R. G. Helbron, Mrs. J. Souter, Mrs. L. Adams, Mrs. A. L. Robinson, Mrs. W. MacNamara, Mrs. T. C. Rogers, Mrs. H. Elliot, Mrs. L. Wilson and Mrs. D. Stewart.

Treasurer for the mammoth affair was Mrs. Arthur Cownden. In charge of tea receipts was Mrs. F. Stuart.

PROCEEDS $500

Colorful Decorations Seen At Esquimalt Gathering

Festive decorations of cedar boughs, sparkling with silver bells and arranged with red and white poinsettias, added a note of Christmas to the recent bazaar of the Esquimalt United Church Women.

The affair in the Christian Education building was opened by wife of the rector, Mrs. Hartwell B. Illsey, who was presented with pink carnations en corsage by social convener Mrs. A. Cuthbert. Greeting guests were Mrs. G. Mackay, UCW president and Mrs. J. Allison.

Mrs. Cuthbert was convener of the affair which realized $500.

Tiny red containers of holly centred guests' tables for the tea served by Mrs. J. Willock, Mrs. L. Karagianis, Mrs. T. Flannagan, Mrs. B. Riggs, Miss M. Ward, Mrs. R. Atkinson, Mrs. L. Galley, Mrs. D. Taylor, Mrs. H. Martin, Mrs. D. West, Mrs. R. Theriault, Mrs. C. Kelly and Mrs. K. Perkins

In charge of stalls were Mrs. R. Elphick, Mrs. T. Maitland, Mrs. R. Holt, Mrs. K. Steer, home cooking; Mrs. T. Cheston, Mrs. R. Wade, Mrs. A. Wise. Mrs. J. Owens and Mrs. R. Johnson, delicatessen; Mrs. R. Leach, Mrs. J. Duncan, Mrs. A. Potter and Mrs. G. Ball white elephant.

Supervising other stalls were Mrs. G. Stancombe, Miss J. Stancombe, Mrs. L. Ford, Mrs. D. Cooper, and Mrs. A. Howell, sewing; Mrs. J. Hatcher, Mrs. K. Lapham, Mrs. E. Durrant and Miss L. Moore, fish pond and post office; men's club president, Jim Murray, and Gordon Ball, nuts; Canadian Girls in Training, the Misses Donna Cheston and Francesca Ooievaar, candy; the Misses Janet Plume, Lynn Bannister, Francelyn Illsey and Lynn-Etta Woelfle, baby-sitting; Mrs. Ted Maitland and Mrs. G. Kraeling, decorations; Mrs. F. A. White and Miss W. Holden, tea tickets.

MME. VANIER IS CHANCELLOR

OTTAWA (CP) — Mme. Georges Vanier, wife of the governor-general, has been appointed first chancellor of the reorganized University of Ottawa, the university announced Tuesday.

Her installation is scheduled for mid-February.

The appointment is for four years, after which she will be eligible for reappointment.

Established in 1848 by the Oblate Fathers, the bilingual university was transferred last July to a board of governors composed predominantly of lay men.

The new charter maintained the post of chancellor, previously always occupied by the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Ottawa.

Organist Plays Hawaiian Song While Newlyweds Sign Register

"Hawaiian Wedding Song" was played by organist Mrs. Vera Barclay during the signing of the register at the recent ceremony uniting Carole Ann Coxworth and Terry Jay Higgins in St. Aidan's United Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Coxworth, 2608 Dunlevy Street, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jay Higgins of Parksville, B.C.

Rev. W. Van Druten officiated. The church was decorated with arrangements of white chrysanthemums and green ferns.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of ligoda. The softly-flared skirt, which featured lace rosette appliques outlined with seed pearls on the front, opened to a watteau train which extended from a bridal bow at the back. The fitted bodice featured the same appliques. Her tiered veil of silk illusion misted from an organza rosette. She carried a crescent cascade bouquet of white carnations and cerise rosebuds. An heirloom gold bracelet, belonging to her grandmother, was her only jewelry.

Matron of honor, Mrs. G. Bone, and bridesmaids, the Misses Sharon McClure and Marcia Berry, wore floor-length gowns of cerise French crepe, styled along empire lines, which featured lace bodices. They wore rosette headpieces en tone. They carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Junior bridesmaid Miss Susan Higgins, sister of the bride, wore a cerise floor-length gown of crepe-backed satin. Streamers extended to the back hem from a bow at the back of the empire waistline. Her colonial bouquet was of carnations in pink tones.

Ed Higgins was best man for his brother and guests were ushered by Gerry Bone and Sandy Horsland.

At the reception in the Uplands Golf Club, the bride and groom cut a three-tier wedding cake which was flanked with pink candles and silver candelabra and pink rosebuds and placed on a lace tablecloth made by the bride's grandmother.

A. Crawford proposed the toast to the bride.

Shares Her Bread With the Hungry

Whenever a Kitchener mother makes a loaf of bread for her married daughter, the purchase price for the loaf goes into a "bread box bank" in the daughter's kitchen. When the box is full, the proceeds are sent to the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada. This way, the daughter shares her bread with the world's hungry. USC headquarters is at 56 Sparks Street, Ottawa 4.

Accountant Found Dead In His Car

DUNCAN — No foul play is suspected in the shooting death Thursday of Donald J. Clark, 27.

Clark was found dead in his car at the side of Koksilah Road early Thursday afternoon.

Jack Ayres was on his way fishing when he saw the Clark car had blood spattered on the rear window.

SINGLE WOUND

RCMP were informed. They found Clark dead from a single shot wound.

A .22 rifle was found.

Clark, a married man with two children, was accountant with a local car sales firm which just changed ownership this week.

He lived at Eagle Heights, Duncan.

An inquiry will be held.

TEACHER SEEKS ELECTION

NANAIMO — Peter McLoughlin, a man who wants to see more sidewalks and closed ditches, has announced he will contest an aldermanic seat Dec. 11.

He is vice-principal of Woodlands Junior High School here.

"Roads are for traffic not pedestrians," said the 38-year-old candidate.

"In Nanaimo, we condition small children to the idea the road is the only place where they can walk.

"No wonder they develop a lack of respect for traffic," he said.

'PRIDE BUCKLES'

"I am proud of Nanaimo, but my civic pride buckles a bit when I show visitors around and they ask why we don't get rid of open ditches within the city limits."

Mr. McLoughlin is a past president of Nanaimo District Teachers' Association and a vice-president of B.C. Teachers' Federation.

His opponents for the three vacant seats are incumbents Ted Barsby, Walter Ticksou and Ken Alexander.

No one has yet challenged Mayor Pete Maffeo's seat.

Harwood Elected Golf Club Leader

CHEMAINUS — The 1966 president of Mount Brenton Golf Club will be Robert D. L. Harwood.

Other officers will be Edward Hess, vice-president; Mrs. H. Cook, secretary-treasurer; and directors E. F. N. Robinson, R. Bennie, A. Renfree, George Hemmingsen, George Vater, Fred Lewis, John Hicks, and Angus McEwan.

Fun Fair Tonight

PARKSVILLE — The local PTA's annual Fun Fair will be tonight at the junior high school.

On the program will be games, contests, a fish pond for the kiddies and a book stall.

Recreation Project Sought For Centenary on Salt Spring

GANGES — A park-recreation area is being sought by the local centennial committee.

A four by six foot model of the proposed project was unveiled this week by committee chairman Colonel M. F. Peiler.

The project, situated beside Ganges boat basin, includes a bowling green, outdoor checkers, children's playground and the cenotaph.

Salt Spring branch of the Royal Canadian Legion has agreed to move the cenotaph if the development is accepted by the provincial centennial committee.

At present it is situated beside the main road.

* * *

The Lions Club is interested in sponsoring the children's playground.

Discussing the park at a Chamber of Commerce meeting, members turned down a suggestion to build public washrooms.

It was pointed out that problems of maintaining such a service would rule out involvement of a non-taxing body such as the chamber.

Search: One Found, One Lost

PORT HARDY—One missing . . . one found . . . one lost.

That's how it went Thursday for a local search party.

The nine-strong party found prospector Bud Ditto, 47, in dense forest 16 miles west of this northern Vancouver Island town.

And that would have been that if someone hadn't bothered to count heads.

MINUS ONE

The search party was minus one man.

Pat Taylor, 21, an Alert Bay Indian, was still missing this morning.

Another party of searchers trooped into the woods at dawn to look for their own man.

He was last seen Thursday afternoon by fellow searchers.

In his enthusiasm to find Mr. Ditto he refused a lunch break and wandered off on his own.

When darkness fell he hadn't showed up.

RCMP, who are leading the search, are not too worried for the young man's safety.

When he disappeared he was carrying two lunch boxes and was dressed in warm clothing.

Another search party from RCAF Holberg will comb the woods later today if Mr. Taylor is not found.

Meanwhile, Mr. Ditto of Cranbrook and Vancouver was reunited with his wife in Port Hardy.

GOOD SHAPE

He was parted from fellow prospector Norman Dirks, 30, Wednesday afternoon.

He was found wandering along a creek bed by Port Hardy logger Ralph Webber, none the worse for his night alone.

She doesn't understand a thing about the space age technology that helps make RCA VICTOR television sets the finest you can buy or how the Ranger Satellite moon shot depended on RCA Solid Copper Circuits or how a special version of these circuits eliminates 200 common trouble spots found in the old-fashioned "hand wired" TV. She bought her RCA Victor 19" portable because she has more fun with a set that weighs less than her full scrub bucket. We have 27 other models that are just as much fun. (Many with the fabulous picture-pulling power of the exclusive New Vista tuner for the sharpest, clearest picture you've ever seen!) But you'll have to see them at your RCA Victor Dealer before you know for sure which one suits you best.

NEW BUSES FOR NANAIMO

NANAIMO — Two new buses will be added to Nanaimo Transit fleet next week.

The buses have been bought from London, Ont., at a cost of $33,000.

The city council has loaned the company money to make the purchase. The debt is payable over the next 10 years.

Water Price 'A Bargain' Wilson Tells Deep Cove

Deep Cove water users would be getting a bargain if the city imposes a rate of five cents per 1,000 gallons on domestic water, Mayor R. B. Wilson said Thursday.

He refuted the suggestion of B. W. W. Clowes, chairman of Deep Cove Waterworks District, that the city wants to impose a "tax" on water supplied from Elk Lake, without intending to increase service.

The water has been drawn by Central Saanich at no cost for several years, and Central Saanich in turn supplies parts of the northern Saanich Peninsula.

Mr. Clowes wrote to council complaining of the proposal, pointing out that users are already paying heavily for their water.

"It's not a tax," the mayor said. "They are paying for a commodity they are buying, and they are getting it reasonably; the city pays 12 cents per 1,000 gallons."

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow suggested the matter be turned over to waterworks committee to recommend whether to meet Sidney district representatives.

He referred to Mr. Clowes' letter:

"It is a pathetic letter. The chap should get his facts right, and I hope the other members of his water committee know more than he does."

REEVE UNOPPOSED

DEADLINE MONDAY

Seven Seek Six Saanich Seats

Seven persons have filed nomination papers for six vacancies on Saanich council in the Dec. 11 municipal election.

Deadline for nominations is noon Monday.

There are four two-year council seat vacancies, one one-year term plus the reeveship.

The extra vacancies were caused by the expansion of council to eight members from six, in addition to the reeve. One of the new seats is for two years and the other for one year.

Reeve Hugh Curtis is the only person thus far to seek the reeveship. The former councillor won a byelection just over a year ago when former Reeve Stanley Murphy resigned.

The only person seeking the one-year term is elementary school principal Alan Newberry.

Seeking the four two-year terms are Gordon Champion, Harry Shergold, Donald Mathison, Douglas Brown and William Noel.

Housewife Mrs. A. H. Gunning and Coun. William Campbell have said they are candidates but haven't filed nomination papers yet.

Coun. Gregory Cook announced earlier he will not seek re-election, while Coun. Douglas Crosby has been undecided.

Coinciding with the municipal election will be election of one school trustee for two-year term in both School District 61 and 63.

Saanich ratepayers also will be voting on the $2.4 million capital projects referendum, the $300,000 referendum for two swimming pools and two functions of the regional board.

REVERSED

These functions are financing of local hospital costs through a two-mill levy and regional parks.

Council earlier decided to put the current sewer survey to ratepayers, but reversed this decision Thursday night when final reading of the bylaw came up.

The question on the regional parks is whether ratepayers favor transferring this from the Parks Act to the regional board.

Saanich, with the city, Oak Bay and Central Saanich, are already part of a parks authority under the Parks Act.

TRAWLING ENDED AT ALERT BAY

Trawling came to an end today in the Alert Bay area off Vancouver Island's east coast.

The ban was slapped on trawl fishermen by the fisheries department in Vancouver.

The action was taken to conserve stocks of lemon sole caught in the area.

Earlier this year the area was opened to assist in scientific investigations being conducted by the fisheries research board. This has been the case for the past few years.

An annual quota of 50,000 pounds of lemon sole is allowed.

Up to Friday last week the current season's catch totalled 40,000 pounds.

Stars Send Items To Auction

Personal effects of entertainment stars will be among 200 lots auctioned Wednesday by the Queen Alexandra Solarium Junior League.

Tallulah Bankhead is sending a $900 dress from New York. Bob Hope is contributing a key-holder encasing his caricature. Bing Crosby has forwarded an address list-finder.

Other personalities who have answered an appeal by the league for personal contributions to their first auction include Don Messer. Personal articles from Sebastian Cabot and Jerry Lewis are also expected.

The items described as "priceless to fans," will be part of a general merchandise list ranging from a case of dog food to washing machines and a 1966 car (16 inches long).

Victoria auctioneer Dan Diamond will start the bids at 7:30 p.m. at the old Safeway building near the Oak Bay Junction.

"PRICELESS"

The league has not set a goal for the auction although "we hope for a good turn-out," a spokesman says.

"We don't go into anything just to make money, it is more important to us to earn the public's goodwil towards the crippled children our projects support," the spokesman says.

60 WOMEN

The league has 60 members, all women. In 1964 they raised $35,000 for the crippled children, mainly from sales of hot dogs at outdoor events. Their diner-trailer wil be parked at Goldstream Park Sunday to serve spectators at the salmon run up Goldstream river.

Hope Seen For Road To Ski Lift

COURTENAY — A new road may be built in the near future to Forbidden Plateau ski lift.

Hope for such a project came Thursday from Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell, MLA for the Comox-Courtenay area.

COST $25,000

He said cost of the road would be $25,000 and could be included in the forthcoming highways department budget.

In a letter to the local ski society, Mr. Campbell promised support for the extension and for reconstruction of the lower portion of the existing road.

Restaurateurs Re-Elect Webb

The Vancouver Island and Victoria branch of the Canadian Restaurant Association has elected W. E. Webb president for a fourth term.

Other officers elected at the annual meeting were Paul Arsens and Victor Watson, vice-presidents; Richard Porter, secretary-treasurer, and Dullina Guelpha, secretary.

Directors are Stanley Booker, Theodora Booker, Mrs. Ted Brand, Steve Chan, Thomas Hannah, Merl Kruzel, Kenneth Maclean, Lawrence Mudryk, William Prior, U. Schaddelee, Wayne Williams, Tim Tang, Duncan; and Charles Wong and Gordon Jennings, Nanaimo.

'No Competition'

EDMONTON (CP)—Highways Minister Gordon Taylor said Wednesday he will meet shortly with top executives of insurance companies to discuss auto insurance rates. "There is no competition in rates today," he told delegates to the Alberta Social Credit league convention.

REZONING ACTION STARTED

MAPLE BAY—Legal action has been started by Maple Bay Ratepayers' Association to rescind municipal rezoning of waterfront property near here.

Association president Tony Staples said today: "I understand a date has been set for a preliminary hearing."

MARINA, VILLAGE

The ratepayers' action stems from the rezoning of 27 acres at Genoa Bay to allow for a marina and mobile trailer village.

Mr. Staples said: "We haven't seen hide nor hair of the promotors for weeks.

"I wouldn't be surprised if they have thrown in the sponge."

Local counsel for the Calgary syndicate, Alistair Macdonald declined to comment on his client's plans.

$300 for Hospital From Church Club

DUNCAN — A $300 donation was made by Duncan United Church men's club Thursday evening to King's Daughters' Hospital board.

The money, raised by a recent variety concert, was presented to board chairman Claude Green.

It will go toward furnishing of the children's ward of the new $4,000,000 Cowichan District Hospital.

MILK PRODUCERS PUSH PRICE BOOST

Survey 'Delaying Action'

DUNCAN—A provincial government "fact-finding" survey now in process among milk producers is only a means of delaying an increase in price to farmers, Mrs. Margaret Whittaker of Duncan, said today.

She claimed the provincial government already had the facts justifying a 50 cents per 100 pounds increase to producers.

Mrs. Whittaker, a Cowichan director of the Vancouver Island Milk Producers' Association, denied Agriculture Minister Richter's statement farmers' prices had risen steadily since midsummer.

She said the price to farmers fluctuated until September when the government gave a 27 cents per 100 pounds increase.

MINIMUM

Mrs. Whittaker said: "We asked for 75 cents and feel that it is the minimum we should get.

"Otherwise milk farming will become too tough and people will be forced out of business.

"We were pleased with the 27 cents but now we are waiting for the balance."

Mrs. Whittaker said the results of the survey will be available at the beginning of the year—but would not be made public.

Mrs. Whittaker said: "I think the government realizes the need to give milk producers more money."

VIDEO INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN NEW TEACHERS

DUNCAN — Local school trustees here met new teachers to the district in a novel way Thursday night.

They were introduced over the new closed circuit TV in Cowichan Senior Secondary School.

The demonstration of educational TV was part of Cowichan school board's annual social get-together of trustees and new staff.

A biology lecture on television was conducted by teacher Jev Tothill who organizes the programs.

BRIDGE LESSON

By JACOBY and SON

When you are presented with a trick by the opening lead, should you go out after everything that is not nailed down or play with super-safety in order to be sure of a good score?

NORTH 26
♠ J
♥ 7 4 2
♦ A K Q 6 3 2
♣ 8 7 3

WEST (D) EAST

SOUTH
♠ A K 3
♥ A 8 6 3
♦ 7 4
♣ J 10 9 2

Neither vulnerable

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	2 ♦	Pass	2 N.T.
Pass	3 N.T.	Pass	Pass
Pass

Opening lead—♠ 5

West opens the five of spades against your three no-trump contract. Dummy's jack holds the trick and if diamonds break 3-2 you can run off ten quick tricks for a very good score. If you try this and someone is unkind enough to hold four diamonds, you will be down two tricks at three no-trump.

The odds favor a 3-2 break but a low diamond play is indicated in match-point duplicate.

The reason for this is that you have reached a rather high contract when you consider that an opponent has opened the bidding and your side holds 22 high card points only.

At least half the field will be playing the hand at a part score and you want to insure your contract to the best of your ability.

Of course, if West had opened a heart or if East had covered dummy's jack of spades with the queen, you would have had to play for the diamond break since you would need six diamond tricks to bring home the bacon.

This hand is also from the Complete Book of Duplicate Bridge and while the authors did not discuss the bidding, we want to call your attention to North's raise to three no-trump which is a very fine bid indeed. He expects to have six tricks for his partner at no-trump and is willing to gamble for game.

EQUITY

CAN MEAN

CASH IN YOUR HAND

That investment you have in your home is an asset in more ways than one. You qualify for the Associates' Home Owner's Loan Plan. Under this plan, you may borrow from $2,000 to $20,000 on the equity you've built up. The interest rate is reasonable. There are no hidden charges or obscure clauses. You completely repay the loan in equal monthly installments over a period of up to ten years. There are no "balance" or "balloon" payments. Interest is computed monthly on the unpaid balance. This means that each payment you make reduces the amount of interest you pay.

There are 101 reasons why you might need cash—financing a university education, buying a second car, remodelling your home. Keep the Associates' Home Owner's Plan in mind.

The Associates is one of Canada's largest financing firms with branch offices in principal cities across the country.

AN INTERESTING WIGGLY
CHARMING - RAMBLING SOLID ENGLISH COUNTRY COTTAGE
(Over 1,500 sq. ft. of intriguing charm)
4 Bedrooms Plus a "Whatsit Room"
Location On the Park!

Only those with romance in their heart are going to get the opportunity to view this charming old property . . . it has everything required for contentment and gracious living . . . It certainly is not for those who are looking for the modern, grotesque rabbit warren.

It looked as if it was failing down when I was a boy — (which was not just yesterday). And there was an elderly gentleman living there, who sported a long, snow white beard, and always remembered the paper boy at Christmas time—(Rest his soul).

It has since been renovated completely, and soundly, and also added to, so that it now comprises a large entrance "whatsis" room, huge "country modern" kitchen (WIRED), very large oak floored living room, three or four bedrooms, modern bathroom, and a large new garage. ELECTRIC heating installed at great expense (which is economical to operate) and copper plumbing.

The lot is a nice size, complete with a genuine ENGLISH fieldstone wall, and an assortment of fruit and MAY TREES (which look like ice cream cones in the Springtime.) There is 100 ACRES of unused parkland at your back door — yours for the using — and no taxes to pay on it. Raccoons and other wee forest animals about.

DRIVE BY AND LOOK at the outside if you wish — the interior viewing is by appointment only, and I mean by appointment only. . . if you knock on the door without an appointment you will probably be pursued at break-neck speed, down the highway, by a baying Mastiff. So please . . . no surreptitious knocking.

FULL PRICE $15,995
Reasonable Terms.
(I wouldn't trade this lovely old home for any or all of the salt boxes in which ever miserable subdivision you would care to mention.)

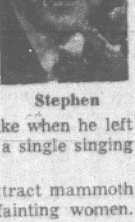
Andy Stephen Looks at TV

Frank Sinatra is in a class of his own.

NBC-TV's "Frank Sinatra—A Man and His Music" proved this beyond all question of doubt.



Stephen

For one hour Wednesday we closed our eyes and let memories flood back as he sang the songs that were our favorites gathered from his 25 years in show business.

His singing allowed complete relaxation, spurred by the styling and perfection of a man who has been the best and can still carry a challenge to any modern day singer.

When the eyes were opened to view this phenomenon, there was a man growing bald of pate, round of face and stout of body. He was thin as a rake when he left the Tommy Dorsey orchestra to launch a single singing career. He caught on like wild-fire.

In his early days, he was able to attract mammoth crowds of hysterical, screaming and fainting women. He was just one man. Today, it takes a minimum of four to carry out the same job.

Sinatra was the greatest. Even today there are very few who can compare, once he starts to sing.

Later in the same evening, ABC-TV presented a David Wolper special entitled "Mayhem on a Sunday Afternoon." It laid out the reasons why 20 million Americans and several million Canadians give up a part of their Sunday to watch professional football played by men "who love violence—who love their own power."

Van Heflin narrated the look at the world of pro football, from the 13th century when Britons used the skulls of Danish pirates as footballs.

Films showed early stars like Jim Thorpe, Red Grange and passing-wizard Sammy Baugh.

The big thing in its favor, though, was that the whole hour was updated to action in the early part of this fall.

But of all the information thrown out, the one bit we'll remember longest is that on a recent afternoon in Kezar Stadium in San Francisco, 49ers versus Cleveland Browns, the crowd ate four miles of hot dogs, drank 4,300 gallons of beer and left the stadium 53,000 pounds heavier.

There were no statistics on the bicarb consumption.

TID BITS: Bill Cosby, co-star of NBC-TV's "I Spy" series, is reported to be a possibity for a one-man special on that network next season. He's quite an accomplished comedian . . . Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor are expected to be guests on the debut of Sammy Davis' NBC-TV variety series Jan. 7.

NOTICE

To the owners of land in the VIEW ROYAL area and in the ISLANDS to the north-east of the Saanich Peninsula within School District No. 63 (Saanich).

Re: Proposed Regional District of the Capital of British Columbia

REFERENDUM

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given to the owners of land in those parts of School Districts No. 61 (Victoria) and No. 63 (Saanich), not within a municipality, that the Minister of Municipal Affairs has directed that a Referendum be held on Saturday, December 11th, 1965 in the electoral area of View Royal on the following question:

"Are you in favor of the View Royal electoral area sharing in the cost of the granting by the proposed 'Regional District of the Capital of British Columbia' of aid for purchasing, building, enlarging or equipping hospitals in the said proposed District on the following basis:

The annual cost shall be apportioned among the member municipalities liable to share in such cost as follows:

1. One-half such costs shall be apportioned on the basis of assessed values which may be taxed in the immediately preceding year for school purposes (excluding the property of the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority) in the case of the electoral areas and for general municipal purposes in the case of the incorporated municipalities and one-half on the basis of population.
2. The total annual cost to be requisitioned in any one year pursuant to this function shall not exceed the product of two mills levied on the total of the assessed values referred to above."

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN to the said owners that the Minister has also directed that a Referendum be held on Saturday, December 11th, 1965, in the electoral area of View Royal on the following question:

"Are you in favor of the View Royal electoral area sharing in the cost of the acquisition by the proposed 'Regional District of the Capital of British Columbia' of land for regional parks.

1. Such costs shall be apportioned on the basis of assessed values which may be taxed in the immediately preceding year for school purposes (excluding the property of the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority) in the case of the electoral areas and for general municipal purposes in the case of the incorporated municipalities.
2. The total annual cost to be requisitioned in any one year pursuant to this function shall not exceed the product of one-half mill levied on the total of the assessed values referred to above."

The electoral area of View Royal includes:

(1) that part of School District No. 61 which is not within a municipality;

(2) that area of School District No. 63 which is not within a municipality. That is, the Islands lying to the north-east of the Saanich Peninsula within School District No. 63.

Polls will be open at the following places on Saturday, the 11th day of December, 1965 between 8:00 o'clock in the forenoon and 8:00 o'clock in the afternoon:

For those owners in the VIEW ROYAL area:
View Royal Elementary School,
218 Helmcken Road.

For those owners in the ISLAND area:
Parish Hall,
1319 Mills Road, North Saanich.

The persons entitled to vote shall be British subjects of the full age of 21 years who and corporations which are owners of real property within the electoral area.

GIVEN under my hand at Victoria, British Columbia, this 24th day of November, 1965.

"A. K. McCABE,"
Returning Officer.

NOTICE

TO THE OWNERS OF LAND IN SCHOOL DISTRICT No. 62 (SOOKE)
Re: Proposed Regional District of the Capital of British Columbia

REFERENDUM

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given to the owners of land in School District No. 62 (Sooke) that the Minister of Municipal Affairs has directed that a Referendum be held on Saturday, December 11th, 1965, in the electoral areas of Langford, Colwood, Metchosin and Sooke on the following question:

"Are you in favor of the Langford/Colwood/Metchosin/Sooke (as the case may be) electoral area sharing in the cost of the granting by the proposed 'Regional District of the Capital of British Columbia' of aid for purchasing, building, enlarging or equipping hospitals in the said proposed District on the following basis: The annual cost shall be apportioned among the member municipalities liable to share in such cost as follows:

1. One-half such costs shall be apportioned on the basis of assessed values which may be taxed in the immediately preceding year for school purposes (excluding the property of the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority) in the case of the electoral areas and for general municipal purposes in the case of the incorporated municipalities and one-half on the basis of population.
2. The total annual cost to be requisitioned in any one year pursuant to this function shall not exceed the product of two mills levied on the total of the assessed values referred to above."

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN to the said owners that the Minister has also directed that a Referendum be held on Saturday, December 11th, 1965, in the electoral areas of Langford, Colwood and Metchosin on the following question:

"Are you in favor of the Langford/Colwood/Metchosin (as the case may be) electoral area sharing in the cost of the aquisition by the proposed 'Regional District of the Capital of British Columbia' of land for regional parks.

1. Such costs shall be apportioned on the basis of assessed values which may be taxed in the immediately preceding year for school purposes (excluding the property of the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority) in the case of the electoral areas and for general municipal purposes in the case of the incorporated municipalities.
2. The total annual cost to be requisitioned in any one year pursuant to this function shall not exceed the product of one-half mill levied on the total of the assessed values referred to above."

The electoral areas are generally described as follows:

COLWOOD—That area of land bounded on the north-east by Esquimalt Harbour; on the south-west by Metchosin Lagoon; and on the south-east by Royal Roads and Albert Head and on the north-west by Triangular Hill Colwood Golf Course and Goldstream Avenue.

LANGFORD—That area of land bounded on the south by Glinz Lake, Centre Mountain, Triangular Hill, Colwood Golf Course, and Goldstream Avenue; on the north Lubbe Lake, Wrigglesworth Lake and Squally Reach; on the east the western boundaries of the Municipality of Saanich and Thetis Lake Park and on the west by Goldstream, Mavis and Jack Lakes and Ragged Mountain.

METCHOSIN—That area of land bounded on the north by Glinz Lake, Centre Mountain and Metchosin Lagoon, on the south by Parry Bay, Rocky Point and Becher Bay and on the west by Becher Bay, Matheson Lake, Red Flag Mountain and Glinz Lake.

SOOKE—All that part of School District No. 62 lying to the west of Goldstream, Mavis and Jack Lakes, Ragged Mountain, Glinz Lake, Red Flag Mountain, Metheson Lake and Becher Bay.

A map outlining the boundaries of the above electoral areas is on file in the School Board Office, 2227 Sooke Road, Victoria, B.C.

Polls will be open at the following places on Saturday, the 11th day of December, 1965 between 8:00 o'clock in the forenoon and 8:00 o'clock in the afternoon:

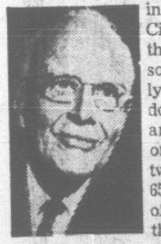
Patients Who Fail To Follow Orders

By DR. WALTER ALVAREZ

A recent study by the American Medical Association shows that about a third of all patients fail to follow the orders or suggestions of their physicians.

The study was made by Dr. M. S. Davis, Ph.D., of Cornell University Medical College in in New York City. He said that the persons least likely to take their doctor's advice are the older ones — between 45 and 65 — and more often women than men. In many cases, the person is poor and poorly educated. Often he has so little money that he cannot pay for the medicine.



Alvarez

I remember a retired saleswoman of 60 who came to me with symptoms strongly suggesting a cancer somewhere in her digestive tract. I told her to go to an X-ray lab and be studied, but she did not do it. When I remonstrated with her, she said that she had not been able to afford a complete study. I got her to have at least her stomach X-rayed. This was normal. I tried to get her to go to a free clinic, but she was too proud to do this. Some months later, she wrote to chide me for not having insisted that she go right away for a complete study, because when eventually she got her large bowel X-rayed, there they found a cancer.

Dr. Davis based his report on non-cooperating patients after summing up what had been learned during 27 previous studies of patient non-compliance. Also, he studied the answers given to questions put to 132 senior physicians and 86 junior physicians or senior medical students working in a medical school. What was found was that the orders most frequently ignored are those which require that the person change some habit or behavior, such as heavy smoking or heavy drinking, or too heavy eating, or going to bed very late.

* * *

Often the patient who is told he needs an operation puts it off. I have known women who put off on operation for cancer of the breast for more than six months. Many people are so afraid of surgery that they just won't go even to have a cancer cut out.

Some Smiles Leave That Vacant Look

By DOUG BAILEY

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Scientists have discovered tooth decay is a highly contagious disease, not a defect you inherit from your parents, says a University of Miami researcher.

That means if you have a good set of choppers but marry somebody with a mouthful of cavities, you are imperilling your ivory smile.

The researcher, Dr. Doran D. Zinner, said that "if an individual does not have a certain type of bacteria in his mouth, he will not get caries (cavities)."

You can eat all the candy, cake and soda pop you want if you don't have these bacteria, Zinner said, and your teeth won't decay.

If you do have the bacteria, every time you eat something with sugar in it, you are giving the bacteria food, allowing them to destroy your teeth.

The bacteria are transmitted by direct contact, said Zinner, a dentist-microbiologist who has been studying tooth decay with four colleagues for the last five years.

Four main types of bacteria have been found. Each destroys teeth at different speeds.

The best protection against tooth decay discovered so far is fluorides, Zinner said.

Not only do fluorides kill the bacteria but they also become part of the crystal surface of the teeth and act as a wall against new bacteria, he said.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Christina Gerber, age nine, of Williamsport, Pa., for her question:

Who invented paper?

Our world of today is full of man-made wonders. There are plastics to make bright Christmas toys, dresses of smooth dacron and even unbreakable cups. These and other man-made wonders are new. But let's not forget that our crispy paper is a man-made wonder that started long ago and far away.

Anyone can make a sheet of paper from shredded rags or stringy plant stalks. People started to write and read thousands of years ago, and in all that time they have found many different ways to make their paper. Long ago, the people of Egypt made stiff pages from rushes. They lived along the muddy banks of the Nile River where tall papyrus reeds grew in the swampy ground. The Egyptians dried these rushes, sliced them and pressed them flat. Then they pasted the flat layers together to make scrolls of stiff papyrus paper.

When Columbus set sail for America, all the countries of the Old World were making paper of some kind. Some used the stringy stalks of the blue-flowered flax plants. They dried and shredded the threads and mixed them with water and a gummy glue. Then they scooped up the wet mixture in a tray with a bottom of openwork net. Most of the water drained away and left a flat layer of tacky threads in the tray. This was dried out in an oven or in the sun, and it became a sheet of paper.

Other people shredded linen rags and mixed them with watery glue. They, too, sifted and dried their mixtures in wire trays. Some people did their writing on animal skins. After eating the meat of a sheep, they soaked its skin in a special mixture to stop it from rotting. Then they stretched it on a frame and dried it in the sun. The finished page was called vellum.

Wrote on Silk Scripts

The people of China did their pretty picture writing on strips of silk. This was long before the invention of papyrus, rag paper or vellum. We live in 1965 A.D., and the experts tell us that our kind of paper was made first in 105 A.D. It was made in China 1,860 years ago by a minister of public works whose name was Ts'ai Lun. He made a mushy pulp from mulberry bark, and his finished paper was a matted layer of woody threads. Most of our paper today also is made from wood pulp. The woody threads are shredded from chips of sturdy lumber.

Other countries one by one learned Ts'ai Lun's trick for making paper from wood pulp. The Arabs learned it from the Chinese prisoners of war and made it in old Bagdad, and the Crusaders found samples of their paper in the Holy Land. Shredding the wood to pulp was hard work, and for a long time most countries in Europe made their paper from shredded rags. About 100 years ago a machine was invented to chomp logs into woody fibers. And step by step people learned to make less costly paper from wood pulp.

Regiment Sets Annual Dinner

Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) will hold its 28th annual Game Dinner Saturday at Bay Street Armory.

Hosts for the affair will be Lt.-Col. D. R. Coell, commanding officer and the officers of the regiment.

Guest speaker will be Lt.-Col. C. L. Kirby, commanding officer of the First Battalion Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, who recently returned from a tour of duty in Cyprus.

Among the guests will be Col. The Hon. Frank M. Ross, former lieutenant-governor of British Columbia, Education and Labor Minister Leslie Peterson, and Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell.

Pride of 'Island Navy' Limps Home in Humiliation

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent

AUCKLAND (CP)—The Royal New Zealand Navy, a service with a fine war record and proud traditions, is writhing with mortification over a series of misfortunes.

Its dismay is the greater because it feels it has been given a hopeless task in carrying out a formidable program of operations with wornout ships so decrepit that they would have been condemned long ago by many navies.

Troubles began early this year when the 16-year-old frigate Rotoiti was condemned as not fit to go outside coastal waters because of serious deterioration in her hull. Soon after a sister-ship, the Pukaki, also was found to be in poor shape and not worth refitting.

To fill the gap, the navy was forced to bring out of retirement a 23-year-old minesweeper given by Australia to New Zealand 13 years ago as no longer useful to the Australians, and kept in mothballs in New Zealand since then. This slow and venerable craft was pressed into service as a training ship.

Meanwhile, a number of New Zealand naval ratings, lacking seagoing ships of their own, were sent to southeast Asia to man British minesweepers helping in the defence of Malaysia.

VOYAGE DOOMED

The crowning indignity came when the flagship of the New Zealand navy, the cruiser Royalist, began a voyage back from the Far East after a period of attachment with British vessels there.

The crew of the Royalist earned high marks for efficiency during the Far East tour of duty and in exercises with an American fleet won a rating of "outstanding" for gunnery.

However, the 23 - year - old cruiser was second hand when acquired by New Zealand from Britain and, like the frigates before her, was nearing the end of her useful life. She was due to be phased out in 1966, but did not quite last the distance.

On the way back to New Zealand she sprang a leak and had to be repaired at Hong Kong.

Then off the Solomons came complete disaster. Severe salt water contamination of her boilers brought the aging cruiser to a halt. She wallowed helplessly in the tropical swell for several days until a relief tug was able to take her in tow.

Later a New Zealand supply ship delivered engineering supplies which enabled the Royalist to be repaired sufficiently to limp home under her own steam, but she will not go to sea again.

FRIGATES TOWED

While the Royalist was under humiliating tow home, two of New Zealand's superannuated frigates were under tow in the opposite direction for wrecking by Hong Kong scrap merchants.

The total strength of New Zealand ships able to take a wartime operational role now is down to two modern frigates. Another is being built in Britain and the government has been negotiating to borrow another from the Royal Navy.

But the recently-retired chief of the defence staff, Sir Peter Phipps, has warned that even the new ships are in grave danger of breakdown within 12 months if they are worked as hard as at present. "The frigates are being run at war pace in peace time," he said.

The whole situation gives point to a bitter comment some time ago by Defence Minister Dean Eyre that New Zealand had tended to rely for defence on equipment "hired, borrowed, given away, left behind or acquired at bargain prices." Eyre has fought long and hard for larger defence funds for re-equipment.

COULD BECOME POLITICAL ISSUE

Johnson Faces Viet Criticism

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has another good reason — besides the obvious ones of ending the killing and preventing a Communist takeover—for wanting an early victory in Viet Nam. It's political.

Although Republicans generally support his Viet Nam policy, they already are warning the war may be an issue in the 1966 congressional election when all 435 seats in the House of Representatives and one-third of the seats in the 100-seat Senate are at stake.

At the rate the war is going it won't be over next year.

Johnson was in Congress during the Korean War and can hardly forget how the Republicans made that war an issue in the 1950 and 1952 elections.

In both wars the problem was basically the same: Communists in the northern half of a country attacked the southern half to seize it.

President Truman, like Johnson, got broad support from both parties in the beginning.

When North Korea attacked South Korea June 25, 1950, Truman sent American troops in. He used his presidential authority without first asking congressional approval.

TIME WAS A FACTOR

If he had done that, and there had been a long drawn-out debate before he got approval to act, South Korea might have been lost.

But Congress gave its approval immediately without making it formal. It extended the draft and backed him in other ways.

Nevertheless, Senator Robert A. Taft, Ohio Republican, got on Truman's back, accusing him of usurping Congress' authority. That was a congressional election year.

Within three months after the war began, the Republican national committee made it a campaign issue in a document that cited the Communist attack on South Korea as a Truman failure.

In the November election that year the Democrats lost seats in both houses. Korea continued to be an issue in 1951 and was a big one in 1952 when the Republicans captured control of Congress and Dwight D. Eisenhower became president.

Republicans, generally, have backed Johnson on his Viet Nam policy.

LEARNED A LESSON

He had learned a lesson from Truman's troubles and forestalled any attack such as Taft's on Truman by asking in 1964 for congressional approval beforehand on action he might think necessary in Viet Nam. He got it promptly.

But Republicans have pecked away at him. Last week former vice - president Nixon said he thought the Vietnamese war would become a major political issue if Johnson failed to take steps to win.

Nixon urged intensified bombing of North Viet Nam and shutting off supplies reaching it by sea.

The House Republican leadership also has had things to say about Johnson's conduct of the war.

Representative Gerald F. Ford of Michigan, Republican House leader who has repeatedly denounced "irresponsible criticism" of Johnson's Viet Nam policy but has called for heavier bombing of North Viet Nam, said the American people are confused and called on Johnson to be more candid.

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE
Beaumont Custom Sport Coupe
Buy a 1966 Beaumont

It's pretty tough to think of practicality when you're face-to-face with a car as impressive as Beaumont. There's excitement in every line. Luxury is there too. Beaumont interiors have rich, color-keyed upholsteries and wall-to-wall, deep-pile carpeting in most models. Performance? Beaumont's standard 120-horsepower thrift six is smooth and quiet with plenty of "go". For high-performance excitement, available engines range up to a 360-horsepower V8! Then you can get a four-speed floor shift or an automatic, in addition to the standard three speed transmission—now fully synchronized! So Beaumont's beautiful . . . luxurious . . . and a performer. So what's so practical? The price. And the roominess. And the trim overall size. And the economical operation. And like that. So don't be dazzled just by Beaumont's beauty. Check its practical side. Then buy one.

'Future Bleak Without Unity'

OTTAWA (UPI) — Gov.-Gen. Vanier warned Canadians last night that if they divide their country they will deprive it of a future "breathtaking in its promise."

Speaking to the 40th anniversary banquet of the Royal Canadian Legion, the distinguished soldier departed from his text and appealed to his countrymen to forget their differences and work together for Canada.

"Ours is a land of incredible wealth, both in its resources and its people," the governor-general said. "Our country has a future which is breathtaking in its promise. But this future is only held out to us if we approach it in brotherhood and unity.

"Divided, we will exchange our prosperity for poverty. Canada won't have her future unless she has unity. I count on each one of you to second me to further this cause."

The white-haired, 77-year-old Vanier has made national unity the subject of nearly every one of his speeches in the last year. The son of a French father and Irish mother, he is viewed as the personal embodiment of the Canadian unity he seeks.

The Royal Canadian Legion has a great role to play in reminding Canadians of the devotion and sacrifice they owe their country, he said.

"You have not forgotten the sacrifices made by those who fell beside us so that we and our children might live. You know what words like sacrifice and dedication and devotion to our country mean. Patriotism has been as much as part of you as living and breathing. But those who come behind must be reminded."

Mini-Auto To Replace Servicar

Three-wheeled cars capable of speeds up to 45 miles an hour will be used by city police for parking patrol work.

Police commissioners decided Wednesday to buy the first of these at a price of $2,575. They will replace three-wheeled motorcycle servicars used for many years.

Chief John Gregory reported that after a trial period recently, the men found the new mini-auto superior in performance to the servicars.

Drivers need not wear breeches and crash helmets as they must with motorcycles, he said.

Commissioners accepted a bid of $5,331 from Empress Motors to supply three new police cars to replace vehicles reaching the end of their service.

It was also agreed to continue an arrangement with Loyal Cafe to supply prisoners meals at an increase of 10 cents per meal next year. Total increase would be about $1,800.

RARE MANUSCRIPTS STOLEN AT VATICAN

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Thieves have stolen almost priceless manuscripts and other objects from the Vatican apostolic library, one of the greatest in the world, the Vatican announced today. The loss was estimated at well over 200,000,000 lire ($320,000).

The objects missing, the Vatican said, included Petrarch's Il Canzoniere, a book in the handwriting of the great Italian 14th century poet and scholar who is considered possibly second only to Dante.

'TURKEY WAS EXCELLENT'

Accused's Letter to Levy Read Into Benefit Trial

OTTAWA (CP)—A letter from Brig. John Baxter Allan to Ben Levy of Levy Auto Parts Co. Ltd. of Toronto thanking Mr. Levy for holiday gifts was admitted in evidence in court today.

The letter, dated Dec. 30, 1957, read in part:

"I was certainly in good spirits and the smoked turkey was excellent. I note that we got clobbered by our bookies on Sunday night's hockey games, but not enough to go out and get ourselves hanged."

Several letters from Brig. Allan, to various members of the Toronto Levy family dealing with subjects ranging from military equipment to Portuguese beer, were admitted in evidence today.

Brig. Allan, 51, former vice-quartermaster - general of the Canadian Army, is charged with accepting advantage or benefit to a value in excess of $8,000 while he was an official of the Canadian government.

His trial before a Carleton County court jury was in its ninth day.

The Crown contends the benefits arose from payment of hotel bills, for merchandise and transfer of stock in Levy Industries Ltd. from Morris, Mark, Edward and Benjamin Levy who, as directors or agents of three Toronto firms, had dealings with the federal government.

Cpl. Harold Kryhul of the RCMP read aloud documents he said he had taken from the accused's Ottawa office in April, 1964.

One letter from the accused sought employment by the Levy firms for a former Canadian Army captain who was "looking for something in the $10,000-to-$12,000-a-year" range.

A letter sent by the accused to Mrs. Morris Pep Levy in 1963 began "Dear Joyce" and offered "sincere thanks" for the Levys being "such hospitable hosts to me and my friends last weekend." It referred to "such friendly family circumstances"

Defence counsel R. K. Laishley objected to introduction of one letter and the jury was excluded while counsel argued on its admissibility.

A letter from the accused dated Dec. 9, 1957, addressed to Morris Pep Levy furnished information which Brig. Allan said he had obtained in connection with a uranium mine in British Columbia.

The letter noted that a $22,000,000 uranium contract was to be completed shortly with the Canadian government and expressed the opinion that at 56 cents a share the stock would be a good buy.

Malaria Hits Troops

SAIGON (Reuters) — A sharp rise in malaria attributed to a drug-resistant strain of the disease is causing grave concern among American military commanders in South Viet Nam, it was disclosed today.

Sources here said more than 500 cases were reported among United States servicemen last month and there was a sharp rise during the last seven weeks.

N-Ships Join Battle

Carrier, Frigate Off Viet Nam

(Times News Services)

SAIGON—Two nuclear-powered warships, including the biggest one in the world, today joined the U.S. 7th Fleet for use around Viet Nam as a lull in ground fighting stretched into its third straight day.

The huge aircraft carrier Enterprise and the guided missile frigate Bainbridge crossed the 160th degree of east longitude to bring them into the 7th Fleet area which covers a sixth of the globe, from the Arctic to the Antarctic and as far west as the Indian Ocean.

They are the first nuclear-powered ships to serve in the western Pacific.

They were en route to Viet Nam through the South China Sea on a voyage that started in Norfolk, Va., and took them through the South Atlantic and Indian oceans.

The 7th Fleet's Viet Nam striking force usually includes five carriers.

The Enterprise will replace one of the conventional - powered carriers.

JOIN FLEET LATER

The U.S. Navy's other two nuclear - powered vessels are scheduled to join the U.S. Pacific fleet next year, a U.S. navy statement said.

In the air, American attacks continued over both north and south Viet Nam. A reconnaissance plane Thursday night flushed seven large 40-foot motorized sampans out of hiding in the Mekong Delta 130 miles southwest of Saigon, and jet bombers promptly destroyed them. Two of them were loaded with fuel and burst into flames.

U.S. bombers hit a North Vietnamese communications centre and a nearby military storage area, northwest of Hanoi.

In the highlands about 160 miles north of Saigon, South Vietnamese troops on a search-and-destroy mission killed 22 Viet Cong and captured four, as well as 650 pounds of rice and salt.

FIGHTING TAPERS OFF

In the ground war, the heavy fighting of recent days tapered off and the U.S. command said the last two days were the quietest in November.

In the Vo Dat Valley, 75 miles east-northeast of Saigon, B-52 bombers blasted a suspected Viet Cong concentration menacing the joint ground operations of several thousand U.S., Australian and South Vietnamese troops.

A U.S. military spokesman indicated the B-52 strike took place on the eastern edge of the 90-square-mile area where the allied forces are trying to rid the valley of guerrillas and protect the rice harvest.

In the bombing raids on North Viet Nam, U.S. planes destroyed a communications site near Dien Bien Phu, a group of 22 small boats further east, and dropped the span of a bridge 105 miles west of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman reported.

'I Intend To Remain'

SALISBURY (Reuters) — Sir Humphrey Gibbs, Britain's representative in Rhodesia, said today he would not resign as Britain's governor of the territory nor vacate Government House as requested by the new breakaway government.

In a brief statement to reporters, Gibbs said: "I intend to remain at Government House as the lawful governor of Rhodesia until such time as constitutional government is restored, which, I hope will be soon.

VANDERPOLS FINALLY MAKE IT

'A Happy Day for Us' Says Newest Canadian

By JIM HUME

The Vanderpols are Canadian citizens.

To the whirr of television cameras and the flash of cameras, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Vanderpol, 2758 Grainger, today repeated the solemn affirmation pledging allegiance to the Queen and promising to observe faithfully the laws of their new country.

Ross Martin, registrar of citizenship in Ottawa, administered the affirmation as a scarlet-coated RCMP constable stood at attention beside a red-velvet draped painting of Queen Elizabeth.

Judge Montague Tyrwhitt-Drake, the county court judge who had earlier refused their application for citizenship because they refused to swear the oath of allegiance, watched quietly from the rear of the third floor courtroom in the Immigration Building on Government Street.

The Dutch-born couple had refused to swear the oath of allegiance because they do not believe in God.

Following taking of the affirmation Citizenship and Immigration Minister John Nicholson presented the Vanderpols with their certificates of citizenship.

"The granting of these certificates here today is of particular significance," Mr. Nicholson said. "This act represents the last of a series of incidents which has put to test our convictions regarding freedom of thought and religious belief."

UNDERSTOOD REFUSAL

Mr. Nicholson added that as a former lawyer he understood the rightness of Judge Drake's earlier refusal to accept the Vanderpol's citizenship bid.

He said that at the time of the Vanderpol application Judge Drake was unaware that the Supreme Court of Ontario had reversed two decisions of lower courts and in a three-judge ruling had stated "that lack of religious belief is not a ground upon which a citizenship court should decide against an applicant for citizenship."

"As a consequence Judge Drake felt that he could not administer the oath of allegiance to Mr. and Mrs. Vanderpol since they also admitted that they were atheists and could not conscientiously swear an oath in statutory form."

50 ATTEND

About 50 people, immigration officials, friends of the Vanderpols and members of the press were on hand to witness the brief ceremony.

"It's a happy day for us," Mr. Vanderpol said clutching his citizenship papers. "I'm so glad it turned out this way."

EXPLOSION BLACKS OUT COPPER BELT

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — An explosion early today wrecked an electric power pylon and blacked out the rich copper belt in neighboring Zambia. Rhodesia's rebel Premier Ian Smith called it sabotage and said it could have been caused by Communists, "Chinese or otherwise."

The explosion around 2 a.m. destroyed a tower on the line from the Kariba Dam power complex to Kitwe in northern Zambia and interrupted copper belt supplies. The dam is on the Zambesi River which forms the border between Rhodesia and Zambia.

Sugar, Tobacco Ban Effective Immediately

OTTAWA (CP)—A ban on the import of sugar and tobacco from Rhodesia was announced today by Prime Minister Pearson. It is effective immediately.

Last year Canada bought $2,500,000 worth of sugar from Rhodesia, representing about half of this country's total purchases of $4,200,000 from the African nation.

Mr. Pearson said no Rhodesian tobacco is normally sold here but the ban is designed to block any possible efforts to begin making such sales here or shipping tobacco to Canadian points for re-export.

He announced the decision at a press conference following a cabinet meeting.

Mr. Pearson said the cabinet also has banned the approval of federal insurance on exports to Rhodesia.

He said there has been a call for world oil sanctions against Rhodesia but Canada is not involved in this because it does not send oil or petroleum products there.

PLANNING to address the United Nations General Assembly Dec. 13 is President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakiston, who will also visit President Johnson in Washington.

Japanese Strike On

TOKYO (AP) — Last-minute negotiations to avert a major shipping strike, the worst in Japanese maritime history, failed today as the 134,000-member All-Japan Seamen's Union ordered a 10-day strike at 52 major Japanese seaports to begin.

THOMPSON RETAINS LEADERSHIP

EDMONTON (CP) — Robert Thompson beat back three challenges to his national Social Credit leadership, defeating Bert Leboe, H. A. (Bud) Olson

EDMONTON (CP) — Social Credit national convention delegates are scheduled to vote on the party leadership at noon today by secret ballot.

A nominations committee spokesman said Thursday party leader Robert Thompson and two other MPs, Bert Leboe, 56, and H. A. (Bud) Olson, 40, had been officially nominated.

A surprise move this morning saw H. J. Bruch, 45, Social Credit member of the B.C. Legislature for Esquimalt since 1953, nominated to contest the national president's position.

Georges Forest, of St. Boniface, Man., president of the Manitoba Social Credit League, said he nominated Mr. Bruch because "we have had organization and financial problems and these problems rest with the president."

Mr. Bruch, national vice-president of the organization in 1960-61, has campaigned extensively for the party in western Canada. He said he hopes to win considerable support from young delegates to the convention

300 TO VOTE

About 300 delegates will be voting for party officers including the leader, a national president and three vice-presidents.

If none of the leadership candidates wins more than 50 per cent of the ballots in the first vote, a second vote will be held immediately.

For the second vote, the man who polled the lowest number of ballots on the first vote will be dropped from the race.

Officially nominated for the vice-presidencies Thursday were Orvis Kennedy of Edmonton, president of the Alberta Social Credit League; J. M. Hattersley of Edmonton, J. E. Mackie of Toronto, Sam Otto of Chilliack, and J. C. Landeryou, Social Credit member of the Alberta Legislature for Lethbridge.

Jack Shaw of Penticton, Gilles Gregoire of Quebec, Creditiste MP for Lapointe, and Robert Kugland of Truro,, N.S., have resigned as vice-presidents.

86-Pound Satellite 'Working Normally'

PARIS (AP) — France sent a satellite orbiting around the earth today and joined the United States and Russia in the space race.

The defence ministry said the 83-pound satellite was launched successfully from the French base in the Algierian Sahara.

The satellite, called the A-1, is expected to relay radio signals on temperature and other atmospheric conditions for two weeks.

The space vehicle was launched by a three-stage Diamond rocket, under development for four years.

The satellite was first the French have tried to launch.

The Diamond rocket, with a thrust of about 28 tons, lofted the A-1 into an orbit whose apogee is 1,768 kilometres and whose perigee is 528 kilometres.

Each revolution of the satellite is to take one hour and 48 minutes.

An announcement relayed from the launching base at Hammaguir said "everything is functioning normally."

AUTOMATION PRIORITY

Unions Tune In On New Formula

By ROGER STONEBANKS
Times Labor Reporter

The automation formula in this week's settlement of the oil industry dispute in B.C. is attracting the attention of sections of organized labor.

There appears to be a move to keep the provincial government, author of the settlement formula, involved in the subject of technological change.

The International Woodworkers of America is reported considering giving high priority to a similar formula in next year's negotiations.

EXPIRES JUNE 15

The 26,000 IWA members covered by the coast agreement have a contract that expires next June 15.

A few months ago, the IWA said it intends to co-ordinate bargaining on technological change with other unions having jurisdiction in the lumber industry.

The union has also said it cannot rely solely on bargaining, but also public measures.

The oil industry settlement called for a standing committee on automation, six months' notice of automation changes leading to layoffs, government-management retraining of employees displaced by automation and a week's severance pay for every year of service.

EXPANSION

The secretary-treasurer of the 110,000-member B.C. Federation of Labour, E. P. O'Neal, said he hopes the committee proposed in the formula will be expanded into a provincial one.

Such a committee could then work in co-operation with the Manpower Consultative Service of the federal government. It would also work closely with the provincial departments of labor and education, together with labor and management, he said.

"I hope the government, now that it has recognized the problem of automation, will move to implement such a provincial committee," he said.

The oil industry settlement was called a victory in the field of automation by J. R. Duncan, national director of the Oil, Chemical and Aatomic Workers International Union.

RECOGNIZED

He said the B.C. formula recognizes automation is a subject for collective bargaining. The principle had hardly been recognized before.

In another development, an

'Change Image For East'

EDMONTON (CP) — Highways Minister Phil Gaglardi of B.C. says Social Credit needs to change its party image to increase its appeal in Eastern Canada.

He suggested at a public meeting Thursday night during the national Social Credit convention that "trainloads" of businessmen from Eastern Canada should be brought west to examine every facet of Social Credit administrations in Alberta and B.C.

"They'd go back with a different idea about Social Credit. I suggest we get off our fannies and stop monkeying around.

"Let's show these people we are not crackpots on some financial theory. We know the value of the dollar."

The Social Credit party did not need a change in name to appeal to the east. "What must be changed is the party image," he added.

U.K. Begins Big Push To End Viet Nam War

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Wilson pushed ahead today with a concerted diplomatic drive for a world nuclear pact and for a way to end the war in Viet Nam.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart flies to Moscow Monday to probe the Soviet Union's terms for a world pact to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

At the same time Stewart will seek to get the Soviet Union to join Britain and reconvene the 1954 Geneva conference which settled the French - Indochina fighting and divided the former French colony into Cambodia, Laos and North and South Viet Nam. Britain and the Soviet Union are co-chairmen of the conference.

Wilson's aims in the field of nuclear weapons were disclosed Thursday night by high British sources. His preparations for Viet Nam peace soundings were announced by the prime minister in the House of Commons.

After Disaster, New Hope

By CANDIDE TEMPLE

Fifteen years ago the Poombari district was like most others in southern India.

Disease and poverty were rife; hunger was an ever-present phantom haunting the people.

Then a typhus epidemic struck—and brought relief to the Poombari population.

For as the epidemic hit, and spread like wildfire through the district, pleas for medical aid went out.

When the news reached Unitarian Service Committee headquarters in nearby Kodaikanai, the call was answered immediately.

A doctor and supplies of medicine were sent into the district; volunteers, both Indian and Western, did what they could .

STAYED THERE

And USC workers remained in the area after the epidemic had passed, and have been there ever since.

Two-thirds of the budget of the rural medical program operating in Poombari is underwritten by the USC through help from Canadians.

Today the villagers in the area lead a vastly improved life, free from some of the ignorance and superstition

PRELUDE TO GREY CUP

Coach Attacked Me, Says Reporter

MONTREAL (CP)—The Star says in a sports page story that its football writer Ian MacDonald is recovering from injuries suffered in a beating in Toronto where football personalities and fans are gathering for Saturday's Grey Cup game.

The Star says MacDonald identified his assailant as Jim Trimble, deposed coach of Montreal Alouettes, and quoted Trimble in a telephone call today to Star sports editor Harold Atkins as saying:

"I am sorry for all this. I wanted to call you. I am sincerely sorry for what happened the other day. I wanted to tell you and I would like to talk to Ian."

The Star story adds:

"MacDonald with both eyes blackened, multiple bruises, rib damage and suspected kidney injuries is resting in his hotel room.

STARTED IN HOTEL

"The incident started in the hotel, and took place early Thursday morning between 1 and 2 a.m.

"It almost overshadowed the Grey Cup game for news value among media men.

"MacDonald explained that he exchanged his first words with Trimble in a hospitality suite of the Royal York Hotel.

"Then he grabbed me by the lapels of my jacket and pushed me against the wall a couple of times. I still don't know why."

"This incident was witnessed by Hal Walker, a Toronto public relations man.

"A few moments later the two left the hotel on a short taxi ride to the waterfront.

Defeat Forecast On Hospital Tax

Inadequate Time to Explain Issue To Voters, Edgelow Tells Council

By AB KENT
City Hall Reporter

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow Thursday predicted the Dec. 11 hospital bylaw will be defeated.

He made the statement as Victoria city council gave final approval for the question to be put to ratepayers at the civic elections.

Ald. Edgelow said the proposal is doomed because there isn't time to explain it to the voters.

Other members of council feel there are still many questions to be answered.

Ald. Edgelow suggested delaying the referendum to April, perhaps calling a special vote on the question then.

MEETING DEC. 3

Meanwhile, Mayor R. B. Wilson said a council meeting has been set for 3:30 p.m. Dec. 3. The meeting will discuss a letter from Municipal Affairs Minister Campbell in which he answers a number of questions on the issue.

After this discussion aldermen hope to be able to advise ratepayers how to vote.

So far, there is agreement only in principle that capital hospital financing should be on a regional basis, the most economic, logical way to provide services.

Greater Victoria councils have had no assurance that the ratepayer will not be the one stuck with a heavy portion of the tax burden to make the scheme work.

Solicitor T. P. O'Grady told council he is satisfied the interpretation of ballot wording suggested by the municipal affairs department embraces unorganized areas with municipalities.

Council had been afraid the basis of cost sharing—up to two mills per year—would be different in areas outside the municipalities.

"But hopes for a uniform ballot throughout the regional district are dashed. Mr. O'Grady said Oak Bay's form of ballot would be different from the city's, although Saanich would adopt the Victoria form.

He said any differences would only be in the wording and would not affect the intent.

The Victoria ballot will ask property-owning voters:

"Are you in favor of the city of Victoria sharing in the cost of the granting by the proposed 'Regional District of the Capital City of British Columbia' of aid for purchasing, building, enlarging or equipping hospitals in the said proposed district on the following basis:

"The annual cost shall be apportioned among the member municipalities liable to share in such cost as follows:

1. One-half such costs shall be apportioned on the basis of assessed values which may be taxed in the immediately preceding year for school purposes (excluding the property of the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority) in the case of the electoral areas and for general municipal purposes in the case of the incorporated municipalities and one-half on the basis of population.

2. The total annual cost to be requisitioned in any one year pursuant to this function shall not exceed the product of two mills levied on the total of the assessed values referred to above."

Empress' Tiara Gone

LONDON (AP)—A tiara presented by Napoleon Bonaparte to his second wife, Empress Marie Louise, was among jewelry worth an estimated £750,000 ($2,250,000) stolen in London last weekend, it was disclosed Thursday. Lady St. Oswald, wife of Lord St. Oswald, a former agriculture ministry official, reported she had left the £5,000 tiara at Carrington's, the royal jewellers, to be evaluated for insurance purposes.

HOUSEWIFE NOMINATED

An Oak Bay housewife, Mrs. Dorothy May Ellinor, 2427 Nottingham, has filed nomination papers for a seat on the Greater Victoria School Board.

Mrs. Ellinor will contest the seat now held by trustee Peter Bunn which becomes vacant in the Dec. 11 municipal elections.

FOR MONTREAL, TORONTO

Special Fraud Squad Formed

Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Stepping up its drive against fraudulent bankruptcies, the federal government will soon appoint special investigators in Toronto and Montreal.

The new investigators to be appointed in Canada's two largest cities will have power to make spot checks on records and inventories prepared by trustees. If necessary they will also have authority to seize files.

The men will be employed primarily as investigators. They will concentrate on inventories prepared by court appointed trustees in bankruptcies. They will make spot checks in large bankruptcies to ensure the inventories are properly valued an official said.

Third Trial Cancelled

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto police today were checking details of two earlier trials of four men charged with extortion following cancellation of a third trial Thursday.

The third trial of Pasquale Natarellie, 53, of Buffalo, N.Y., and the Volpe brothers of Toronto — Paul, 38, Albert, 40, and Eugene, 53 — was declared a mistrial by Judge Harry Waisberg after a juror said he had been offered a bribe.

The men are charged with conspiracy to extort 100,000 shares of Calvert Silver Mines Ltd., or $17,500 cash from broker Richard R. Angle, 40.

The Volpe brothers' bail of $250,000 was cancelled. The men were taken into custody and a new trial was set for Dec. 6.

Fraud Squad Studies Bond Lottery

By JIM HUME
Times Buisness Editor

It's incredible, but it works.

A gentleman with more than average larceny in his soul invites the holders of $50 Canada Savings Bonds to participate in a lottery with a grand prize of $6,000.

Hume

The system is simple. All you do is mail in the bond with your name and address. At some future date a draw will take place and, if you are the winner, you will be sent $6,000 in Canada Savings Bonds.

One elderly gentleman in Victoria responded to the invitation to make $6,000 overnight by sending in six $50 bonds. And he thought he was on to a good thing until he realized that several weeks had gone but that no receipt had been forwarded for the $300.

Thursday he telephoned the Better Business Bureau to ask manager Bill Tindall what could be done to get his money back.

NO RECEIPT

Sadly Mr. Tindall informed the gentleman that it might be as well to forget his $300. With no proof that he ever sent in the bonds in the first place, and no receipt from the illegal lottery operator, he's way out on a snapping limb.

The BBB did what it could. First it passed on the alert to the Vancouver office which in turn passed the report on to the Vancouver fraud squad.

"Why," I asked Mr. Tindall, "would a man part with $300 when he knows the lottery illegal in the first place, he has no guarantee that a draw will ever take place and no legal recourse if the organizer just pockets the money?"

"If I could answer that my job would be a lot easier," he answered. "But I can't. I don't know whether it's the climate or what but it doesn't appear too hard to get some Victorians to part with their money.

NO ASSURANCE

"This lottery business is typical. Here's a man with no idea of the character of the person he's dealing with, no assurance that he will even get his name in an illegal draw. All the fellow running this thing has to do is pocket the money and say nothing or, if he wants to carry the act a little further, to just inform the people who have sent in bonds that he's held the lottery and that they were unlucky."

During the hour spent in Mr. Tindall's office the ring of the telephone was almost constant.

A doctor called in. He had paid $27 for a book several months ago and had not yet received it. Could the bureau check.

An elderly gentleman with mortgage troubles. Would the bureau help him untangle what had the earmarks of some double-dealing.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

And a steady stream of ladies who during the past few days had signed for magazine subscriptions they didn't need.

This latter complaint would be funny if it were not so widespread.

Nobody forced these ladies to hand out cash or cheques for amounts from $10 to $20. They were just given a smart sales pitch which varies from door to door. At one time the neatly dressed young fellow is taking a public speaking course and has to give a two-minute speech to a householder. The speech starts smoothly on world affairs, switches to magazines and an awareness of world affairs and, presto, the unsuspecting lady has a five-year subscription to a half-dozen magazines.

RAISE MONEY

At other times the salesmen or salesgirls are raising money for a youth organization and sometimes they still trot out the ancient "working my way through college" routine.

The growing file of complaints on Bill Tindall's desk testifies to their eloquent efficiency.

"One day we are going to convince people that the time to telephone us is before they are committed," said Mr. Tindall. "If they would just ask the salesman for his credentials, ask him bluntly if he is selling magazines and then call us while he's still at the house we could do some good. But most complaints come in after a contract has been signed and the lady wants to know how she can get her money back."

The number is 386-6348. But do Mr. Tindall and his staff a favor. Call before you sign.

GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Trading in barley and oats dominated activity today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Export interest was good. Other commodities were moderately active.

However, today's action in barley and oats fell below the volume set Thursday when barley trade was estimated at about 9,000,000 bushels.

Shippers and exporters were reported to be making purchases in order to get in a position to offer feed grain in the winter season. The sale of a cargo of Canadian barley to Italy was also reported.

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat tumbled into stop-loss selling orders today and prices extended their recent declines another two cents or so in the grain futures market.

Broker said the continued weakness appeared still to have been related to the U.S. Government's offer to sell high protein grain from its surplus stocks to the milling industry. Speculators were fearful, too, they said, that the action would pul out more liberal offerings from producers.

Firm Wins Gas Pact

REGINA (CP)—A multi-million dollar contract to supply Saskatchewan with up to 700,000,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas during the next 25 years at a firm price has been awarded to Trans-Canada Pipelines Ltd., it was announced today.

D. B. Furlong, general manager of the Saskatchewan Power Corporation and D. G. Steuart, health minister and chairman of the SPC board of directors, made the announcement in a joint press release.

"The contract gives us the assurance of supply at advantageous prices," Mr. Steuart said.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Wall St. Has Scramble Look

Wall Street displayed a scrambled pattern late this afternoon although airlines, electronics, some aerospace defence stocks and rails were strong. Trading was moderately active.

AT VANCOUVER gains outnumbered loses on the mining section shortly before noon today with two issues touching 1965 highs.

Bornite moved up .03 to .52 for a new high and International Bibis gained .08 for the second high of $1.42.

Mt. Pleasant dropped to .50, a 1965 low. Dynasty gained .12 cents to $13.37 and Pyramid increased the same amount to $16.12.

Torwest put on .10 to .78. Rodstom rose .06 to .84 and Trojan put on .06 to .31.

In the oils, Royal American increased .12 to $1.37 and Prosper lost .04 to .91 on 115,800 shares.

AT NEW YORK volume for the day was estimated at 6.600,000 shares compared with 7,890,000 Wednesday.

A generally lower tone prevailed among chemicals, nonferrous metals, utilities and oils.

AT TORONTO industrials continued to hold fractional gains in moderately active mid-afternoon trading today.

Pulp and paper stocks paced the main list with Price and MacMillan, Bloedel ahead ½ each to 39 and 25¾, while Abitibi and B.C. Forest were both unchanged at 10¾ and 22. In other issues Trans-Canada Pipeline was up ⅞ to 37, Distillers Seagram ⅜ to 37, Quebec Natural Gas and Bell Telephone ¼ each to 13½ and 57, and Slater ⅛ to 14⅜. Moore Corp. and Du Pont ran against the trend, both dropping ⅝ to 79⅜ and 44.

AT MONTREAL papers were off but most other sections moved fractionally higher in moderately active trading.

FOR ACTRESS

It's 30 But Only The Start

By VEERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Are spring chickens on the way out? Yes, says Martha Hyer.

According to the blonde beauty, American men are finally catching up to Europeans in their taste for mature women. The young girl as a sex image is losing ground to her older sister.

"Women, not girls, are the style now," said Martha during a noontime interview. "I've certainly found it true in my case.

"I've just returned from making a movie in Italy where people think our movies and television shows are oriented for teen-age audiences. I tried to convince them otherwise.

"I was never a really successful actress until I matured. Now that I'm over 30 I'm playing more parts than ever — five movies in the past year and another one coming up next month."

Martha's busy schedule is enough for her that the male libido is indeed swinging away from youthful cuties to sophisticated females.

HAS POINT

And she has a point. Audrey Hepburn, Liz Taylor, Shirley MacLaine, Doris Day and most of the other top actresses have long since departed their 20s.

"Besides, there are more men than boys in this country, and when they go to a movie they like to see someone they can picture as a date for themselves, not as a partner for one of their young sons."

Missile Co-operation

OTTAWA (CP) — West Germany will join Canada and Britain in development of a Canadian-designed picture-taking jet missile, the industry department announced Wednesday. Germany will shoulder one-third of the cost.

LONGEST hair in Montreal is the claim of Gary Eisenkraft, 20, who sings in his own coffee house. He has been folksinging his way around college campuses and an assortment of cafes in Canada and the United States for the past five years.

TEACHING CHANGES ASKED

'Books Slanted Against Indians'

OTTAWA (CP) — An appeal was made this week for fair teaching of the history of the Canadian Indian.

It came from most of the dozen speakers invited to Indian Week sessions at Carleton University, which conclude today.

Several said text books are so derogatory their children come home ashamed to be Indians.

Indians were often depicted as savages.

"We had formed the Six Nations Confederacy 400 years before the League of Nations," said Howard Staats, 26, a Mohawk about to be admitted to the Ontario bar.

The Mohawks had probably gained their fierce reputation through the fact that in the confederacy of tribes, they were the "keepers of the eastern gate." They were defending their land against colonial invasion.

Rev. David Bauer of the University of Saskatchewan said this was the defence of a civilization.

The colonist adapted nature to man, but the Indian adapted himself to nature.

The Indians had been intimate with their natural environment, knew it perfectly and accepted it. Tribal life tended to be communal, not competitive.

The onslaught of the European destroyed the environment of this culture.

Father Bauer said the school system won't be doing the Indian much good until it takes his heritage and nature into account. Text books had to present a fair picture of Indian history.

"It isn't what is taught that creates prejudice but what isn't taught," Father Bauer said.

Another theme of the five days of discussion was how relations between Indians and whites can be improved.

Indian speakers consistently referred to the suspicion and distrust treaty Indians have for intruders.

Duke Redbird, 26, Chipewyan now living in Toronto, said forums like the one at Carleton were probably the best means to increase understanding.

Other Indians said student demonstrations and uninvited intrusions into reserves were probably the worst.

Allen Jacob, 32, of Alberta's Cold Lake reserve, said "do-gooders" only created more division and confusion on reserves.

VICTORIA, B.C., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1965—PAGE 21

Arthur Mayse

Back when television was first poking its puss into the Canadian scene, I predicted confidently that the newcomer would put radio out of business. So did a good many other people who saw the intrusion of a capsule motion picture theatre into the home as competition against which the voicebox couldn't survive.

That was a considerable time ago. Today, it seems to me that radio is not only gaining back lost ground, but frequently forces TV into second place.

Lest anyone be surprised that a newspaperman should speak well of another communications medium, let me make it plain that we are rivals only in a mild and rather amiable fashion.

While we tend to keep to our own turf, we have never had any real difficulty in co-existing.

Since my purpose here is to say mostly nice things about radio, I'll keep my criticisms brief.

With a very few exceptions, among which Barry Clark's show rates high, I don't like the way radio handles its openline programs. The basic idea of public participation is excellent — after all, we here set much store by our letters-to-the-editor — but too often, the commentator-referee simply isn't up to his job.

I also wish that radio hadn't followed television's lead and virtually dropped the good plays it used to give us. Those were once frequent, but today they're few and far between, and I think that's a pity.

★ ★ ★

Apart from these beefs, I have only kudos to offer.

Where TV today seems to be wallowing helplessly and hopelessly in a mess of audiovisual pablum, radio in general is quietly reaching toward a balanced maturity.

The loss to its big, noisy neighbor of the soap opera which was once its daytime mainstay has helped it enormously in that direction.

Soap opera, for any too young to remember it in radio version, got its name from the tendency of soap companies to back tear-drenched series of episodes based usually on the antics of a fictitious family or small town.

If you want to encounter soap opera in its new feathers, you have but to twirl a TV dial.

In its role of housewife's friend, radio now offers an infinitely more nourishing diet.

The CBC's afternoon programs are the best in the business, and the range of these is considerable.

In recent months, the ironing-board trade has been regaled with readings from the novel, "Tom Jones," out of which a hilarious motion picture was tailored, and with a lively and recent success titled "How to be a Jewish Mother."

There is music—good music—offered with explanations which add to the listener's appreciation.

A discussion of low-cost foods and how to use them may be interpolated between a study of the "Vinland maps" which trace viking exploration and settlement in North America, and a panel on parent-child relations.

★ ★ ★

And, of course, there are the open lines.

Evenings when I'm home I now find myself spending more time listening than viewing, and not merely because radio offers a pleasant accompaniment to any number of pokev round-the-house jobs.

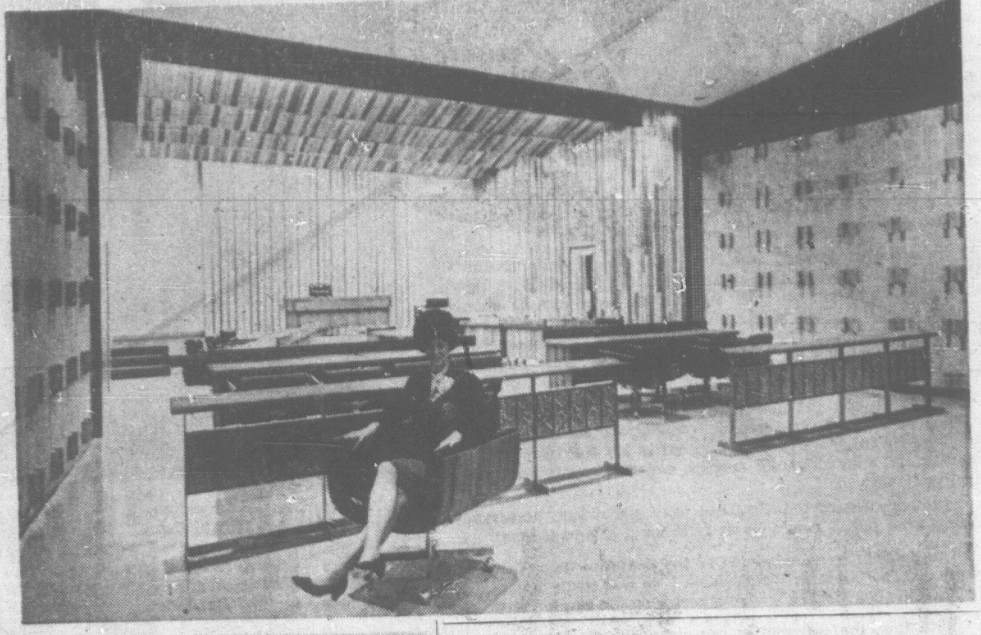
The plain fact is that a great many people want better fare than television offers them, and are receiving it in generous measure from the box that needs no picture tube.

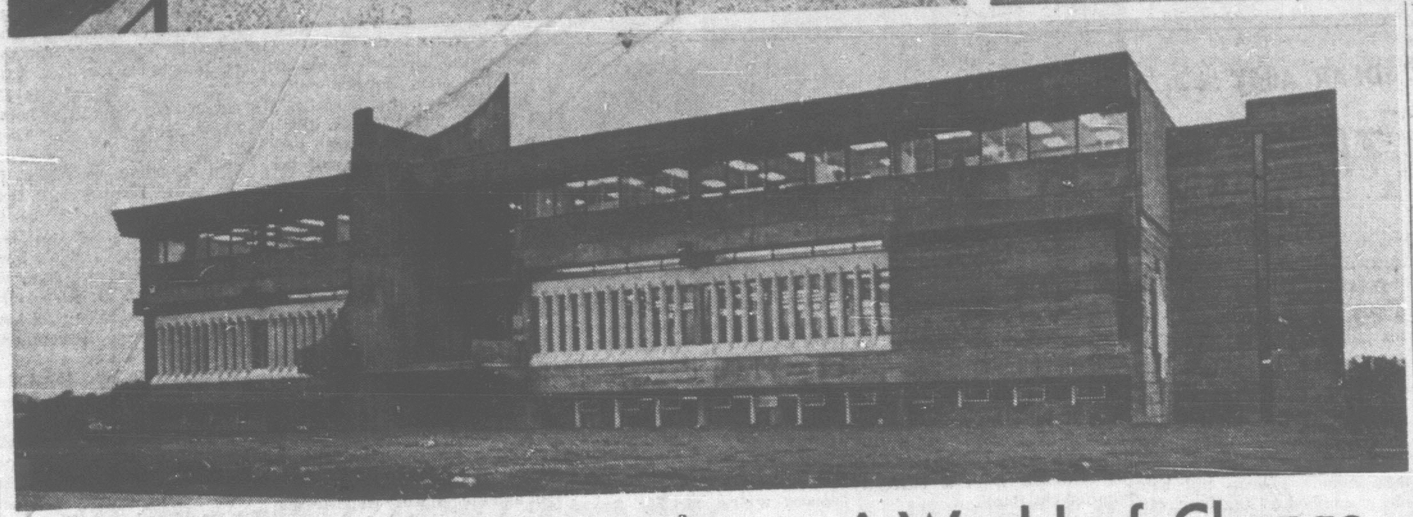
Radio isn't going to put television out of business; any such prediction would be nonsensical.

But it's more than holding its own — and superb though television can be on occasion, it betrays its early promise by getting worse each year.

Burning Bee Set For Francis Park

The intermediate section of the junior branch of the Victoria Natural History Society will meet on Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Douglas and Hillside for a burning bee at Francis Park.





Royal Oak to Swan Lake... A World of Change

The new Saanich municipal hall will be officially opened next Wednesday by Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes.

But the Vernon Avenue hall is already in use and being well received by the 150 employees who gave up cramped quarters at Royal Oak last weekend.

The new hall is between the health and welfare building and the fire-police station, just off Patricia Bay Highway.

The old hall and land is up for sale with one stipulation—the army huts moved there after the Second World War must be removed.

The new hall cost roughly $800,000, has three floors and looks out across Swan Lake.

The pictures above show some of its impressive features.

On the spacious main floor, deputy collector Ken Middleton and clerk Jane Kennedy (top left) display blazers and grey skirts/pants worn by staff.

Natural wood panelling is used extensively in interior.

New furnishings at the council chamber are demonstrated by Miss Kennedy (top right). Chairs and desks are of teak with lighting recessed in the ceiling.

The first council meeting will be held there Monday, Dec. 6. The chamber provides a vast change from the cramped and poorly-ventilated chamber at one end of an army hut at Royal Oak.

Landscaping will be added around the hall. View in lower picture is from Vernon Avenue.

Man Awakes Early, Flees Fire

Laziness saved Bruce Lloyd and his family today.

The 28-year-old Courtenay logging trucker was too lazy to get out of bed and take a tranquilizer Thursday night.

As a result he woke up at 6:30 as usual this morning—and found the house on fire.

Before flames engulfed the $12,000 home on Powerhouse Road, Mr. Lloyd was able to usher his wife and five children to safety.

But he was too late to save the dream home he has been modernizing for the past six years.

Said Mr. Lloyd at his father's Headquarters Road home: "It's lucky I never took that tranquilizer.

"My wife tried to talk me into taking one last night when I said I had a sore throat. But I could not be bothered."

The house was smoke-filled when Mr. Lloyd awoke.

His wife Verdelle, 25, bundled the children, aged seven months to eight years, out through the sunporch while Mr. Lloyd connected a hose to a tap in the basement.

Despite his efforts the fire, situated in the hallway, had a good hold by the time Courtenay firemen arrived.

Mr. Lloyd finished building a new bathroom only two days ago.

On Sunday he and his wife celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary.

The home was insured.

NEW PHONE DIRECTORIES OFF PRESS

New editions of the telephone directory are being delivered to customers on southern Vancouver Island including the Gulf Islands.

The B.C. Telephone Company said today it will take about six days to complete delivery of 82,000 copies.

The new book contains 66,000 listings compared with 59,360 in the old book. Ninety-five tons of paper were needed for all the new books.

The cover pays tribute to the union in 1866 of the colonies of Vancouver Island and mainland British Columbia.

'Bundles' Campaigner Dies at 86

Mrs. Letitia Jean Pease, a resident of Victoria for the last 57 years, died Thursday in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Mrs. Pease, 86, was the leading spirit in the establishment of the Women's Workroom during the hungry 30s and instrumental figure in the "Bundles for Britain" campaign during the Second World War.

The widow of the late Algernon Henry Pease, she had come to Victoria as a bride in 1908 and with her husband occupied the Cadboro Bay farm at the top of Sinclair Road for years.

Born in Nova Scotia, she was the granddaughter of Andrew Allan, head of the Allan shipping lines.

DANCE SPOT

In addition to her charitable work, Mrs. Pease and her husband won wide popularity in this community through their establishment of Hamsterley Lakeside, during the 30s the popular Elk Lake dance spot and recreation area for young Victorians.

She is survived by a son, Frederick, at one time an all-star Victoria rugby player, now residing in New York, a daughter, Mrs. Rosalind F. Terry, of Victoria, and one grandson.

Private funeral services will be conducted Saturday in Hayward's Funeral Chapel, with Rev. Dr. Emma Smiley officiating.

'GEORGE' LOCATES OWNER

George is back home.

Or rather Trix is back home.

George (Trix) is the dog who made headlines in Thursday's Times for his home-roving exploits.

As a result of the story, George (Trix) was reunited today with his rightful owner, army private Melvin Lewis.

Mr. Lewis, 25, of 2500 Garden, last saw his dog over a month ago when he moved to his present address from 524 Kelvin.

Said Mr. Lewis, father of two: "I guess he didn't like the new location. He just took off."

Since then the brown and white mongrel has adopted several families.

His last adopted home was that of Mrs. E. Schofield, 1065 Lodge. She named the two-and-a-half-year-old mongrel George.

Mr. Lewis revealed today that his real name is Trix.

Prowlers Hit Again In Oak Bay

Oak Bay had another outbreak of house breakins overnight Thursday.

Three homes were entered and cash and articles are missing.

H. L. Williamson, 787 Transit, lost a $100 women's watch and a .38 revolver valued at $25. Entry was made by an unlocked door.

Dr. D. E. Alcorn, 2620 Lansdowne, lost $25 to a thief who climbed in the house through an upstairs window from a balcony. Between $50 and $75 was taken from the home of W. J. Roper, 161 Beach, by a prowler who broke a window to gain entry.

Two weeks ago three other homes in Oak Bay were rifled by prowlers in one night.

Man Admits Burglary

City police have arrested one man for the break-in earlier this week at Economy Steam Laundry, 607 John Street.

Allen R. Badenoch, 900-block Pandora, pleaded guilty this morning in central court.

Detective - Constable Lorne Shandley said Badenoch entered the premises by a skylight and removed clothing and sheets valued at $1,500.

The officer said Badenoch threw away most of the stolen goods near a dump in James Bay and they were recovered. Police Thursday night recovered a further $90 worth of stolen articles from a home on Maple Street, he said.

Badenoch, who has previous convictions for theft in Nanaimo 12 years ago, was remanded to Dec. 4 for a pre-sentence report.

4 Esquimalt Ships Chosen For Caribbean Exercises

Four units of the Pacific Command will take part in massive spring manoeuvres of the Royal Canadian Navy and Air Force starting Jan. 4.

Code named "Maple Spring," the three-month cruise will involve approximately 14 ships. The fleet will conduct the majority of its exercises in the Caribbean.

Representing the Pacific Command will be the destroyer-escort HMCS St. Croix, the ocean escorts HMC Ships Antigonish and Stettler and the submarine HMCS Grilse.

The Esquimalt-based units will meet on location with the ships from the Atlantic Command, which will include the aircraft carrier HMCS Bonaventure, six destroyer-escorts, two supporting ships and a British submarine on loan to the Eastern Command.

Also taking part in Maple Sring will be 12 Maritime Command Argus aircraft from the East Coast.

The fleet and its air support will also exercise with United States naval forces from the Atlantic seaboard.

In addition to visiting various ports in the West Indies the ships will make informal calls at several South American east coast ports.

The joint manoeuvres will be the first held since 1956.

Major Revamp Facing 'Archaic' Act

Canada's Citizenship and Immigratoin Act will get a major revamping at the next session of Pariamelnt.

At a press conference here this morning Citizenship and Immigration Minister John Nicholson said that early in the new session his department would present a white paper on the existing act.

"Basically it was written in the time of Queen Victoria," he said. "Some changes are needed."

The only change the minister would discuss was the clause which bars an epileptic or any member of his family from becoming Canadian citizens.

"ARCHAIC"

"That is archaic and must be changed," he said. "With modern drugs and modern medical practices there is no reason why epileptics and their families cannot become good Canadian citizens."

Mr. Nicholson said that during the past year 17,500 men and women and children had come to B.C. as new immigrants.

Among them were 8,000 skilled workers to plug holes in the province's booming economy.

"A manpower survey in British Columbia revealed immediate shortages for 10,000 professional and technical workers," he said. "Before the year is over we will have brought 8,000 skilled workers in to relieve that shortage."

The minister said that even with the new arrivals British Columbia's demands for skilled men would be just as great next year.

The immigrants brought to B.C. this year mark the largest single group of immigrants to come west since the Hungarian and Suez crises of 1956-57.

$50 MILLION

Mr. Nicholson said that "value of training" brought to B.C. by the skilled workers was in the neighborhood of $50 million.

"That's what it would have cost had we tried to train people to do these jobs," he said.

Vote Delay Requested On Hospitals

Women Aren't Happy With Sales Tax Split

Organized women today added their weight to pleas for postponement of the regional hospitals vote next month.

They want the vote delayed until early in 1966.

Mrs. Hazel Hodson, president of the Association of Women Electors of Greater Victoria, wrote Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell expressing A.W.E.'s dissatisfaction with the government's explanation of how sales tax revenue is used.

"In view of the serious and irrevocable change in policy in this particular aspect of municipal-provincial as it pertains to the capital city area, the postponement seems all the more imperative," she wrote.

Two others have stated their support for a delay in putting a referendum to ratepayers—Victoria Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow and Oak Bay Coun. Frances Elford. Oak Bay Reeve Allan Cox felt there should be full negotiation of terms before a vote is taken.

AUTOMATIC

The minister's consent would be needed to withdraw the matter at this stage because without an area vote, the various municipalities become part of a regional hospitals district automatically after Dec. 17.

Mrs. Hodson said the association is under the impression that the whole electorate believes that since 1954, 2 per cent of the sales tax has been applied to hospitals.

Health Minister Eric Martin has said the revenues derived from the 2 per cent portion are applied to consolidated revenue to meet government needs.

He said if it were intended that the money should be earmarked for hospitals, legislation would have to state just that.

DIVERTED

Perhaps, as provincial government spokesmen say, the federal government should increase its share of hospital capital costs, now at about 11 per cent, Mrs. Hodson wrote.

"However, when the federal government started to pay one-half of the operating costs of hospitals (1957-58) it would seem that this relief was not passed on to the municipalities."

Topics of the Day

Cordova Bay PTA will hold a bake sale Friday Dec. 3 from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. at McMorran's Super-Valu store, Seaview Plaza Shopping Centre.

Four provincial cabinet ministers added their signatures Thursday to a petition seeking "mobile polling stations" to permit persons in hospitals and nursing homes to cast their votes in federal elections from their beds.

They were Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell, Education Minister Leslie Peterson, Land, Forests and Water Resources Minister Ray Williston and Mines and Petroleum Minister Donald Brothers—all who attended the cabinet session.

Mrs. Judy Nyquist, who organized the petition and stood outside the cabinet door, said she hoped to obtain Premier Bennett's signature along with at least 5,000 others before sending the petition to Ottawa.

Two youths each were fined $35 when they pleaded guilty in central court this morning to unlawful possession of liquor.

Gerald Patterson, 18, of 1503 Charlton, was caught with beer in a car and Raymond Atkinson, 18, of HMCS St. Croix, was found with three bottles of beer tucked under his belt when he was checked by police.

★ ★ ★

Three B.C. school districts today were given government permission to build vocational wings on high schools which will cost them only 10 per cent of the total $1,760,000 price.

Education Minister Leslie Peterson said the provincial government will pay 75 per cent and the federal government 15 per cent of the cost for wings estimated at $1 million for Prince George Senior Secondary; $600,000 for Vernon Senior Secondary; and $160,000 for Mission Secondary School.

A man who earlier pleaded guilty to assault on his wife was let off with a suspended sentence today in central court.

A condition of the sentence imposed on William Falconer, 3931 Rainbow, was that he stay off liquor for 12 months and be of good behavior towards his wife.

A Chemainus man fell to the ground when he got out of his car at a service station east of Sooke, Nov. 11.

He got back in and drove off but was stopped later by Colwood RCMP. He again fell to the ground when they asked him to step out of his car.

And today Cheslie Harris pleaded guilty in central court to impaired driving.

Crown Prosecutor Cecil Branson said Harris was in a state of intoxication.

Harris, who asked to keep his licence so he could drive to work, was remanded to Dec. 6 for sentence.

N-Ships Join Battle

Carrier, Frigate Off Viet Nam

(Times News Services)

SAIGON—Two nuclear-powered warships, including the biggest one in the world, today joined the U.S. 7th Fleet for use around Viet Nam as a lull in ground fighting stretched into its third straight day.

The huge aircraft carrier Enterprise and the guided missile frigate Bainbridge crossed the 160th degree of east longitude to bring them into the 7th Fleet area which covers a sixth of the globe, from the Arctic to the Antarctic and as far west as the Indian Ocean.

They are the first nuclear-powered ships to serve in the western Pacific.

They were en route to Viet Nam through the South China Sea on a voyage that started in Norfolk, Va., and took them through the South Atlantic and Indian oceans.

The 7th Fleet's Viet Nam striking force usually includes five carriers.

The Enterprise will replace one of the conventional - powered carriers.

JOIN FLEET LATER

The U.S. Navy's other two nuclear - powered vessels are scheduled to join the U.S. Pacific fleet next year, a U.S. navy statement said.

In the air, American attacks continued over both north and south Viet Nam. A reconnaissance plane Thursday night flushed seven 40-foot motorized sampans out of hiding in the Mekong Delta 130 miles southwest of Saigon, and jet bombers promptly destroyed them. Two of them were loaded with fuel and burst into flames.

U.S. bombers hit a North Vietnamese communications centre and a nearby military storage area, northwest of Hanoi.

In the highlands about 160 miles north of Saigon, South Vietnamese troops on a search-and-destroy mission killed 22 Viet Cong and captured four, as well as 650 pounds of rice and salt.

FIGHTING TAPERS OFF

In the ground war, the heavy fighting of recent days tapered off and the U.S. command said the last two days were the quietest in November.

In the Vo Dat Valley, 75 miles east-northeast of Saigon, B-52 bombers blasted a suspected Viet Cong concentration menacing the joint ground operations of several thousand U.S., Australian and South Vietnamese troops.

A U.S. military spokesman indicated the B-52 strike took place on the eastern edge of the 90-square-mile area where the allied forces are trying to rid the valley of guerrillas and protect the rice harvest.

In the bombing raids on North Viet Nam, U.S. planes destroyed a communications site near Dien Bien Phu, a group of 22 small boats further east, and dropped the span of a bridge 105 miles west of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman reported.

VANDERPOLS FINALLY MAKE IT

'A Happy Day for Us' Says Newest Canadian

By JIM HUME

The Vanderpols are Canadian citizens.

To the whirr of television cameras and the flash of cameras, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Vanderpol, 2758 Grainger, today repeated the solemn affirmation pledging allegiance to the Queen and promising to observe faithfully the laws of their new country.

Ross Martin, registrar of citizenship in Ottawa, administered the affirmation as a scarlet-coated RCMP constable stood at attention beside a red-velvet draped painting of Queen Elizabeth.

Judge Montague Tyrwhitt-Drake, the county court judge who had earlier refused their application for citizenship because they refused to swear the oath of allegiance, watched quietly from the rear of the third floor courtroom in the Immigration Building on Government Street.

The Dutch-born couple had refused to swear the oath of allegiance because they do not believe in God.

Following taking of the affirmation Citizenship and Immigration Minister John Nicholson presented the Vanderpols with their certificates of citizenship.

"The granting of these certificates here today is of particular significance," Mr. Nicholson said. "This act represents the last of a series of incidents which has put to test our convictions regarding freedom of thought and religious belief."

UNDERSTOOD REFUSAL

Mr. Nicholson added that as a former lawyer he understood the rightness of Judge Drake's earlier refusal to accept the Vanderpol's citizenship bid.

He said that at the time of the Vanderpol application Judge Drake was unaware that the Supreme Court of Ontario had reversed two decisions of lower courts and in a three-judge ruling had stated "that lack of religious belief is not a ground upon which a citizenship court should decide against an applicant for citizenship."

"As a consequence Judge Drake felt that he could not administer the oath of allegiance to Mr. and Mrs. Vanderpol since they also admitted that they were atheists and could not conscientiously swear an oath in statutory form."

50 ATTEND

About 50 people, immigration officials, friends of the Vanderpols and members of the press were on hand to witness the brief ceremony.

"It's a happy day for us," Mr. Vanderpol said clutching his citizenship papers. "I'm so glad it turned out this way."

EXPLOSION BLACKS OUT COPPER BELT

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — An explosion early today wrecked an electric power pylon and blacked out the rich copper belt in neighboring Zambia. Rhodesia's rebel Premier Ian Smith called it sabotage and said it could have been caused by Communists, "Chinese or otherwise."

The explosion around 2 a.m. destroyed a tower on the line from the Kariba Dam power complex to Kitwe in northern Zambia and interrupted copper belt supplies. The dam is on the Zambesi River which forms the border between Rhodesia and Zambia.

Sugar, Tobacco Ban Effective Immediately

OTTAWA (CP)—A ban on the import of sugar and tobacco from Rhodesia was announced today by Prime Minister Pearson. It is effective immediately.

Last year Canada bought $2,500,000 worth of sugar from Rhodesia, representing about half of this country's total purchases of $4,200,000 from the African nation.

Mr. Pearson said no Rhodesian tobacco is normally sold here but the ban is designed to block any possible efforts to begin making such sales here or shipping tobacco to Canadian points for re-export.

He announced the decision at a press conference following a cabinet meeting.

Mr. Pearson said the cabinet also has banned the approval of federal insurance on exports to Rhodesia.

He said there has been a call for world oil sanctions against Rhodesia but Canada is not involved in this because it does not send oil or petroleum products there.

'I Intend To Remain'

SALISBURY (Reuters) — Sir Humphrey Gibbs, Britain's representative in Rhodesia, said today he would not resign as Britain's governor of the territory nor vacate Government House as requested by the new breakaway government.

In a brief statement to reporters, Gibbs said: "I intend to remain at Government House as the lawful governor of Rhodesia until such time as constitutional government is restored, which, I hope will be soon.

PLANNING to address the United Nations General Assembly Dec. 13 is President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakiston, who will also visit President Johnson in Washington.

Japanese Strike On

TOKYO (AP) — Last-minute negotiations to avert a major shipping strike, the worst in Japanese maritime history, failed today as the 134,000-member All-Japan Seamen's Union ordered a 10-day strike at 52 major Japanese seaports to begin.

After Disaster, New Hope

By CANDIDE TEMPLE

Fifteen years ago the Poombari district was like most others in southern India.

Disease and poverty were rife; hunger was an ever-present phantom haunting the people.

Then a typhus epidemic struck—and brought relief to the Poombari population.

For as the epidemic hit, and spread like wildfire through the district, pleas for medical aid went out.

When the news reached Unitarian Service Committee headquarters in nearby Kodaikanai, the call was answered immediately.

A doctor and supplies of medicine were sent into the district; volunteers, both Indian and Western, did what they could .

STAYED THERE

And USC workers remained in the area after the epidemic had passed, and have been there ever since.

Two-thirds of the budget of the rural medical program operating in Poombari is underwritten by the USC through help from Canadians.

Today the villagers in the area lead a vastly improved life, free from some of the ignorance and superstition

83-Pound Satellite 'Working Normally'

PARIS (AP) — France sent a satellite orbiting around the earth today and joined the United States and Russia in the space race.

The defence ministry said the 83-pound satellite was launched successfully from the French base in the Algierian Sahara.

The satellite, called the A-1, is expected to relay radio signals on temperature and other atmospheric conditions for two weeks.

The space vehicle was launched by a three-stage Diamond rocket, under development for four years.

The satellite was first the French have tried to launch.

The Diamond rocket, with a thrust of about 28 tons, lofted the A-1 into an orbit whose apogee is 1,768 kilometres and whose perigee is 528 kilometres.

Each revolution of the satellite is to take one hour and 48 minutes.

An announcement relayed from the launching base at Hammaguir said "everything is functioning normally."

THOMPSON RETAINS LEADERSHIP

EDMONTON (CP) — Robert Thompson beat back two challengers to his national Social Credit leadership, defeating Bert Leboe and H. A. (Bud) Olson.

EDMONTON (CP) — Social Credit national convention delegates are scheduled to vote on the party leadership at noon today by secret ballot.

A nominations committee spokesman said Thursday party leader Robert Thompson and two other MPs, Bert Leboe, 56, and H. A. (Bud) Olson, 40, had been officially nominated.

A surprise move this morning saw H. J. Bruch, 45, Social Credit member of the B.C. Legislature for Esquimalt since 1953, nominated to contest the national president's position.

Georges Forest, of St. Boniface, Man., president of the Manitoba Social Credit League, said he nominated Mr. Bruch because "we have had organization and financial problems and these problems rest with the president."

Mr. Bruch, national vice-president of the organization in 1960-61, has campaigned extensively for the party in western Canada. He said he hopes to win considerable support from young delegates to the convention

300 TO VOTE

About 300 delegates will be voting for party officers including the leader, a national president and three vice-presidents.

If none of the leadership candidates wins more than 50 per cent of the ballots in the first vote, a second vote will be held immediately.

For the second vote, the man who polled the lowest number of ballots on the first vote will be dropped from the race.

Officially nominated for the vice-presidencies Thursday were Orvis Kennedy of Edmonton, president of the Alberta Social Credit League; J. M. Hattersley of Edmonton, J. E. Mackie of Toronto, Sam Otto of Chilliack, and J. C. Landeryou, Social Credit member of the Alberta Legislature for Lethbridge.

Jack Shaw of Penticton, Gilles Gregoire of Quebec, Creditiste MP for Lapointe, and Robert Kugland of Truro,, N.S., have resigned as vice-presidents.

AUTOMATION PRIORITY

Unions Tune In On New Formula

By ROGER STONEBANKS
Times Labor Reporter

The automation formula in this week's settlement of the oil industry dispute in B.C. is attracting the attention of sections of organized labor.

There appears to be a move to keep the provincial government, author of the settlement formula, involved in the subject of technological change.

The International Woodworkers of America is reported considering giving high priority to a similar formula in next year's negotiations.

EXPIRES JUNE 15

The 26,000 IWA members covered by the coast agreement have a contract that expires next June 15.

A few months ago, the IWA said it intends to co-ordinate bargaining on technological change with other unions having jurisdiction in the lumber industry.

The union has also said it cannot rely solely on bargaining, but also public measures.

The oil industry settlement called for a standing committee on automation, six months' notice of automation changes leading to layoffs, government-management retraining of employees displaced by automation and a week's severance pay for every year of service.

EXPANSION

The secretary-treasurer of the 110,000-member B.C. Federation of Labour, E. P. O'Neal, said he hopes the committee proposed in the formula will be expanded into a provincial one.

Such a committee could then work in co-operation with the Manpower Consultative Service of the federal government. It would also work closely with the provincial departments of labor and education, together with labor and management, he said.

"I hope the government, now that it has recognized the problem of automation, will move to implement such a provincial committee," he said.

The oil industry settlement was called a victory in the field of automation by J. R. Duncan, national director of the Oil, Chemical and Aatomic Workers International Union.

RECOGNIZED

He said the B.C. formula recognizes automation is a subject for collective bargaining. The principle had hardly been recognized before.

In another development, an

'Change Image For East'

EDMONTON (CP) — Highways Minister Phil Gaglardi of B.C. says Social Credit needs to change its party image to increase its appeal in Eastern Canada.

He suggested at a public meeting Thursday night during the national Social Credit convention that "trainloads" of businessmen from Eastern Canada should be brought west to examine every facet of Social Credit administrations in Alberta and B.C.

"They'd go back with a different idea about Social Credit. I suggest we get off our fannies and stop monkeying around.

"Let's show these people we are not crackpots on some financial theory. We know the value of the dollar."

The Social Credit party did not need a change in name to appeal to the east. "What must be changed is the party image," he added.

U.K. Begins Big Push To End Viet Nam War

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Wilson pushed ahead today with a concerted diplomatic drive for a world nuclear pact and for a way to end the war in Viet Nam.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart flies to Moscow Monday to probe the Soviet Union's terms for a world pact to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

At the same time Stewart will seek to get the Soviet Union to join Britain and reconvene the 1954 Geneva conference which settled the French - Indochina fighting and divided the former French colony into Cambodia, Laos and North and South Viet Nam. Britain and the Soviet Union are co-chairmen of the conference.

Wilson's aims in the field of nuclear weapons were disclosed Thursday night by high British sources. His preparations for Viet Nam peace soundings were announced by the prime minister in the House of Commons.

U.S. VIEW

(The Associated Press reported in a story by Jack Bell from Johnston City, Tex., where President Johnson of the U.S. is recuperating from a gall-bladder operation:

("The attitude here (in the administration) about Wilson's statement that he intends to

PRELUDE TO GREY CUP

Coach Attacked Me, Says Reporter

MONTREAL (CP)—The Star says in a sports page story that its football writer Ian MacDonald is recovering from injuries suffered in a beating in Toronto where football personalities and fans are gathering for Saturday's Grey Cup game.

The Star says MacDonald identified his assailant as Jim Trimble, deposed coach of Montreal Alouettes, and quoted Trimble in a telephone call today to Star sports editor Harold Atkins as saying:

"I am sorry for all this. I wanted to call you. I am sincerely sorry for what happened the other day. I wanted to tell you and I would like to talk to Ian."

The Star story adds:

"MacDonald with both eyes blackened, multiple bruises, rib damage and suspected kidney injuries is resting in his hotel room.

STARTED IN HOTEL

"The incident started in the hotel, and took place early Thursday morning between 1 and 2 a.m.

"It almost overshadowed the Grey Cup game for news value among media men.

"MacDonald explained that he exchanged his first words with Trimble in a hospitality suite of the Royal York Hotel.

"Then he grabbed me by the lapels of my jacket and pushed me against the wall a couple of times. I still don't know why.'

"This incident was witnessed by Hal Walker, a Toronto public relations man.

"A few moments later the two left the hotel on a short taxi ride to the waterfront.

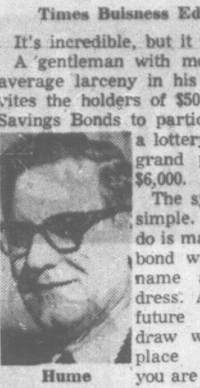
BUSINESS VIEWS

Fraud Squad Studies Bond Lottery

By JIM HUME
Times Business Editor

It's incredible, but it works.

A gentleman with more than average larceny in his soul invites the holders of $50 Canada Savings Bonds to participate in a lottery with a grand prize of $6,000.



Hume

The system is simple. All you do is mail in the bond with your name and address. At some future date a draw will take place and, if you are the winner, you will be sent $6,000 in Canada Savings Bonds.

One elderly gentleman in Victoria responded to the invitation to make $6,000 overnight by sending in six $50 bonds. And he thought he was on to a good thing until he realized that several weeks had gone but that no receipt had been forwarded for the $300.

Thursday he telephoned the Better Business Bureau to ask manager Bill Tindall what could be done to get his money back.

NO RECEIPT

Sadly Mr. Tindall informed the gentleman that it might be as well to forget his $300. With no proof that he ever sent in the bonds in the first place, and no receipt from the illegal lottery operator, he's way out on a snapping limb.

The BBB did what it could. First it passed on the alert to the Vancouver office which in turn passed the report on to the Vancouver fraud squad.

"Why," I asked Mr. Tindall, "would a man part with $300 when he knows the lottery illegal in the first place, he has no guarantee that a draw will ever take place and no legal recourse if the organizer just pockets the money?"

"If I could answer that my job would be a lot easier," he answered. "But I can't. I don't know whether it's the climate or what but it doesn't appear too hard to get some Victorians to part with their money.

NO ASSURANCE

"This lottery business is typical. Here's a man with no idea of the character of the person he's dealing with, no assurance that he will even get his name in an illegal draw. All the fellow running this thing has to do is pocket the money and say nothing or, if he wants to carry the act a little further, to just inform the people who have sent in bonds that he's held the lottery and that they were unlucky."

During the hour spent in Mr. Tindall's office the ring of the telephone was almost constant.

A doctor called in. He had paid $27 for a book several months ago and had not yet received it. Could the bureau check.

An elderly gentleman with mortgage troubles. Would the bureau help him untangle what had the earmarks of some double-dealing.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

And a steady stream of ladies who during the past few days had signed for magazine subscriptions they didn't need.

This latter complaint would be funny if it were not so widespread.

Nobody forced these ladies to hand out cash or cheques for amounts from $10 to $20. They were just given a smart sales pitch which varies from door to door. At one time the neatly dressed young fellow is taking a public speaking course and has to give a two-minute speech to a householder. The speech starts smoothly on world affairs, switches to magazines and an awareness of world affairs and, presto, the unsuspecting lady has a five-year subscription to a half-dozen magazines.

RAISE MONEY

At other times the salesmen or salesgirls are raising money for a youth organization and sometimes they still trot out the ancient "working my way through college" routine.

The growing file of complaints on Bill Tindall's desk testifies to their eloquent efficiency.

"One day we are going to convince people that the time to telephone us is before they are committed," said Mr. Tindall. "If they would just ask the salesman for his credentials, ask him bluntly if he is selling magazines and then call us while he's still at the house we could do some good. But most complaints come in after a contract has been signed and the lady wants to know how she can get her money back."

The number is 386-6348. But do Mr. Tindall and his staff a favor. Call before you sign.

CALLING on other western nations to join with the United States in studying means for promoting and expanding trade with developing countries at meeting in Paris today was Thomas C. Mann, U.S. under-secretary of state for economic affairs.

GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Trading in barley and oats dominated activity today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Export interest was good. Other commodities were moderately active.

However, today's action in barley and oats fell below the volume set Thursday when barley trade was estimated at about 9,000,000 bushels.

Shippers and exporters were reported to be making purchases in order to get in a position to offer feed grain in the winter season. The sale of a cargo of Canadian barley to Italy was also reported.

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat tumbled into stop-loss selling orders today and prices extended their recent declines another two cents or so in the grain futures market.

Broker said the continued weakness appeared still to have been related to the U.S. Government's offer to sell high protein grain from its surplus stocks to the milling industry. Speculators were fearful, too, they said, that the action would pul out more liberal offerings from producers.

Firm Wins Gas Pact

REGINA (CP)—A multi-million dollar contract to supply Saskatchewan with up to 700,000,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas during the next 25 years at a firm price has been awarded to Trans-Canada Pipelines Ltd., it was announced today.

D. B. Furlong, general manager of the Saskatchewan Power Corporation and D. G. Steuart, health minister and chairman of the SPC board of directors, made the announcement in a joint press release.

"The contract gives us the assurance of supply at advantageous prices," Mr. Steuart said.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Wall St. Has Scramble Look

Wall Street displayed a scrambled pattern late this afternoon although airlines, electronics, some aerospace defence stocks and rails were strong. Trading was moderately active.

AT VANCOUVER gains outnumbered loses on the mining section shortly before noon today with two issues touching 1965 highs.

Bornite moved up .03 to .52 for a new high and International Bibis gained .08 for the second high of $1.42.

Mt. Pleasant dropped to .50, a 1965 low. Dynasty gained .12 cents to $13.37 and Pyramid increased the same amount to $16.12.

Torwest put on .10 to .78. Rodstom rose .06 to .84 and Trojan put on .06 to .31.

In the oils, Royal American increased .12 to $1.37 and Prosper lost .04 to .91 on 115,800 shares.

AT NEW YORK volume for the day was estimated at 6,600,000 shares compared with 7,890,000 Wednesday.

A generally lower tone prevailed among chemicals, non-ferrous metals, utilities and oils.

AT TORONTO industrials continued to hold fractional gains in moderately active mid-afternoon trading today.

Pulp and paper stocks paced the main list with Price and MacMillan, Bloedel ahead ⅜ each to 39 and 25¾, while Abitibi and B.C. Forest were both unchanged at 10⅝ and 22. In other issues Trans-Canada Pipeline was up ⅞ to 37, Distillers Seagram ⅜ to 37, Quebec Natural Gas and Bell Telephone ¼ each to 13½ and 57, and Slater ⅛ to 14⅝. Moore Corp. and Du Pont ran against the trend, both dropping ⅝ to 79⅝ and 44.

AT MONTREAL papers were off but most other sections moved fractionally higher in moderately active trading.

A. W. RAFTER

PIRATE CACHE

Attack Intensified For Hidden Treasure

OAK ISLAND, N.S. (CP) — A 39-year-old fortune seeker from California, whose mechanized approach to the 170-year mystery of this tiny island has brought him further towards discovery of its fabled wealth than any other searcher, sharpened the teeth on the buckets of his digging machine Thursday for an intensified attack on layers of old wood slowing the operation.

Robert Dunfield is maintaining an exhausting supervision at the "money pit" where legend says a treasure thought by some to be worth about $50,000,000 was buried by pirates two centuries ago.

Two crews of four or five men work the digging machine that now has burrowed to at least 150 feet in the clay soil of this island off Nova Scotia's south-eastern shore. Dunfield toils more than 16 hours a day with few breaks.

His father, Robert Dunfield Sr., said Thursday the bucket teeth were welded to sharp points in an effort to claw away thick layers of old spruce and some oak, probably put there by some unknown engineer to guard whatever lies below or to shore up the original pit.

The blackened wood slowed Thursday's work, but the elder Dunfield said the digging should "pick up on the next shift."

He estimated the 70-ton machine, called a "digging clam," had reached a depth of 12 feet earlier this week, but had been held to "a foot or two" of headway in the last two days because of the wood. His son's first objective is 155 feet. A 180-foot depth is the deepest the young petroleum geologist is prepared to go.

Mr. Dunfield Sr., said the current operation has gone deeper in the money pit than any other treasure-seeking expedition, although a Texas oilman drilled to 190 feet before quitting. However, "it has been proved he was not in the money pit," he said.

The previous record level was 118 feet.

Adventists Create Rare Church Supper

The flavor of Chinese chow mein, Russian cabbage rolls and Australian nut-meat still lingers in the memory of parents who attended an international supper in Hill Memorial School, 1462 Hillside, Monday night.

Appetizing dishes originating from eight different countries were displayed on tables, each decorated with national flags, posters and souveniers.

The supper was cooked by members of Victoria Seventh-day Adventist Church and sold to parents in aid of Hill Memorial School, which is operated by the church.

Ireland was represented by shamrock, potatoes and gravy; Hawaii by leis, coconuts and pineapple; Canada by home-made rolls, totem poles, moccasins, baskets and Indian blankets; Australia by nut-meat pot pie, model kangaroos and a boomerang.

The U.S. table, decorated with the American Eagle and the Stars and Stripes, offered coleslaw salad. Chinese chow mein was served from a table decorated with lanterns and Chinese water lilies.

Germany was represented by various desserts, including a chocolate torte, and a pyramid turned by the heat of candles.

PARIS ART SALE SEES HIGH BIDS

PARIS (UPI)—The sale of 80 modern paintings, including works by Braque, Picasso and Modigliani, brought $2,345,500 in an auction last night at the Palais Galliera. Braque's 1914 canvas "Man With a Guitar" brought the highest price—$312,000.

ART OBSCENE

Eros '65 Show Was In Error, Court Rules

TORONTO (CP) — Former art gallery proprietor Dorothy Cameron was found guilty Thursday by Magistrate Fred Hayes on seven charges of displaying obscene pictures.

The magistrate fined Miss Cameron $50 on each charge. At defence request she was given two weeks to pay, with an alternative of five days in jail on each count to run consecutively.

In a 40-minute judgment, the magistrate said he considered that all the paintings, which had hung in Miss Cameron's gallery, unduly exploited sex.

MIDDLEMAN

The community standards by which the pictures must be considered, he said, are "the standards of the middleman," not those of people with an intense interest in art.

Miss Cameron declined comment on the verdict. Her lawyer, Meredith Fleming, said he hoped she would appeal, but "the decision is hers."

The magistrate said the human form is a legitimate subject for art but he felt the artists in question had portrayed attitudes involving male and female figures that went beyond the bounds of decency.

GALLERY CLOSED

Charges against Miss Cameron were laid by morality officers after the public viewing of her Eros '65 exhibition last May in her Yonge Street gallery, which has since closed.

The pictures that were the subject of the magistrate's ruling were by artists Robert Markle, Lawrence Chaplin and Fred Ross. The judgment said they "did not serve the public good."

You Can't Tell Boys From Girls ...And It's Dangerous (?): Stars

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Beatle-inspired hairstyles have been catching on with some teen-age boys, to the despair of their parents and teachers.

Those lads would be shorn, if a group of film stars had their way.

The stars, interviewed on sets of movies and television series, gave these opinions:

Elke Sommer (Boy, Did I Get a Wrong Number): "Long hair no a man is too effeminate. I think men should be allowed to do more than part their hair and comb it to one side; think of the things we women do with our hair! But men's hair should not get too long. I see to that by cutting my own husband's hair."

Patty Duke (The Patty Duke Show): "I think the length of boys' hair has been carried too far. I like a long cut on small boys like John Kennedy. But on bigger boys it just looks dirty."

Greer Garson (The Singing Nun): "I find long hair rather attractive on certain men—in the profession, that is. Next door to our set were Herman and his hermits, and they looked charming — like Tintoretto angels. But long hair must be cared for: Washed, combed, brushed. I'd hate to see the beauticians gain control of men, as they have of us women."

DOESN'T UNDERSTAND

Anne Francis (Honey West): "I don't understand it. I suppose girls find long hair on men a safe image; it removes the element of sex. But it's unhealthy for girls to admire men who are female-looking. I like thick, clean hair on a man, not a crewcut. I enjoy running my hands through a man's hair—but not down to his shoulders."

Jane Russell (Johnny Reno): "When a boy's hair hangs over his ears or is long enough for bangs, it's time for a cut. If my sons don't get it done, I'll cut it for them."

Julie Andrews (Torn Curtain): "I don't mind long hair on men, as long as they have a good comb."

Debbie Reynolds (The Singing Nun): "With a shortage of men still prevailing, it's unfair for them to wear long hair. That makes it tougher for girls to find them."

Janet Leigh (Three On A Couch): "If I were dating, I certainly wouldn't want to go out with anyone who had longer hair than I have."

Martha Hyer (guesting on Beverly Hillbillies): "Long hair looks too feminine on men. It's getting so bad that on the Sunset Strip these nights you can't tell which are the girls and which are the boys. It's not only confusing; it can be dangerous."

DIRTY-LOOKING?

Local Vocals Make It Big

Victoria record stores have received copies of the record just released across Canada featuring Bobby Faulds and the Strangers of Victoria.

The songs Walking Away and Where Can I Go are the first ones recorded by the local group for national sale. The songs will also be featured Dec. 6 on the CBC national television program Music Hop.

There's One That Got Away

There's one thief in town well-equipped to go fishing unless police net him first.

Somebody forced a basement window at 495 Obed and got away with three fishing rods and three boxes of tackle valued at $350.

ONE THIRSTY MAN ONLY ACTION

Cup's Just Not the Same Without Calgary in Town

By JIM CRERAR

TORONTO (CP) — Where's all the Grey Cup whoopee?

Toronto was wondering today if it will materialize at all.

There were a few signs Thursday night of impending merriment as fans arriving from out of town lined up at hotel desks to claim rooms.

But Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Winnipeg Blue Bombers clash in the East-West football final here at 1 p.m. EST Saturday and that means the fans will have to pack their pre-game high-jinks into tonight.

Youngsters peddling team ribbons hit downtown streets Thursday night and reported sales slow. They were about the only Grey Cup enthusiasts outside the hotels.

A man waving a white 10-gallon hat led a knot of luggage-laden western invaders into the Royal York Hotel and shouted: "Where's the bar?"

He found it and disappeared quickly, bringing an end to one of the few spontaneous outbursts of gaiety so far this week.

The Toronto Junior Board of Trade, organizer of the Grey Cup Festival which started Wednesday, staged a skating party in front of city hall Thursday night and attracted a crowd of about 1,000 which politely applauded world figure skating champion Petra Burka of Toronto.

It was a far cry from 1948 when Calgary Stampeder supporters set the pace for Grey Cup celebrating when they stormed Toronto and whooped it up, starting a couple of days before the game.

A special Air Canada flight from Winnipeg arrived Thursday night with 139 fans on board. Another, carrying 131 fans, is scheduled to arrive tonight. But special trains from Winnipeg, Hamilton and Ottawa aren't due until Saturday morning.

Western fans who drifted in before Thursday began lining up to claim game tickets they reserved with Western Football Conference clubs. The Blue Bombers had 3,040 tickets to dispose of and business manager Terry Hind said all but about 100 will be snapped up. Any left unclaimed will go on public sale at the stadium just before game time.

Rain hit Toronto Thursday afternoon and the weatherman said a storm could bring rain, or even snow, for Grey Cup day.

Groundskeepers at CNE Stadium got the tarpaulin down on the field just before Thursday's rain started and said it will probably stay there until Saturday morning.

Meanwhile, Toronto bookies reported a "load of money" was bet on the Blue Bombers Thursday but the odds on the game remained unchanged. The Tiger-Cats are favored by four points.

VOTERS WILL TRY AGAIN

DUNNOTAR, Man. (CP)—Voters in this resort community about 35 miles northwest of Winnipeg will go to the polls again Dec. 15 to elect a reeve. In the Oct. 27 civic elections, incumbent Reeve Fred Frogley and his opponent received the same number of votes. A recount failed to break the tie.

MISS CANADA, Diane Landry, of Winnipeg, will arrive in Dusseldorf, Germany, Tuesday, for a goodwill tour of hospitals and schools in West Germany.

'DEFORMED FOR AGNOSTICS'

Textbook Squabble Erupts in Quebec

QUEBEC (CP)—A new voice was added Wednesday to the verbal battle over whether Quebec school textbooks are processed correctly or placed in the hands of a "small group of agnostics."

Le Comite Catholique du Conseil Superieur de l'Education (the Catholic Committee of the Higher Education Council) said in a telegram it deplores the fact that authors of school textbooks do not show their books to the proper authorities before printing them.

The battle was touched off by a statement by Chief Justice Frederic Dorion of Quebec Superior Court who said "school readers have been deformed to please a small group of agnostics."

He attacked "the handful of agnostics who are trying to make children forget everything concerning religion and the existence of God."

First and second grade readers have been totally deformed, he said.

Education Minister Paul Gerin-Lajoie said the chief justice was engaged in a "witch-hunt" as the books referred to were modified this year to conform with "opinions and wishes" of the cathechism committee "created by the Roman Catholic bishops themselves."

But, the Conseil Catholique said in its telegram that it is supposed to approve books submitted to it by the department of education "from the moral, religious and teaching point of view" when the textbooks are intended for Catholic schools.

However, it could do nothing if the department and authors did not make the books available to them.

66% Engaged in Flying

OTTAWA (CP) — Of 4,308 qualified aircrew in the armed services, 2,862, or 66 per cent, are engaged in flying duties, the defence department said today.

The department issued a statement saying that it gave The Canadian Press erroneous figures earlier in the week on the number of fliers holding down ground jobs.

A Nov. 23 CP story from Ottawa, based on information from the department, gave the figure 4,308 for the number of qualified aircrew occupying ground jobs in the armed forces. The breakdown was RCAF 3,794, navy 308 and army 206.

"The figure of 4,308 in fact represents the total number of qualified aircrew in the three services," the department said in today's statement.

The statement said that its original information to CP reported there were 5,000 fully-qualified fliers in the RCAF but that 3,800 held ground jobs.

"In fact, the number of fully-qualified aircrew in the RCAF is 3,794. Of these, 2,589 are engaged in flying duties."

The navy had 308 aircrew, 199 of them on flying duties. The army had 206 aircrew, 74 of them on flying duties.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

Three Named To First Regional Board

Victoria's first regional board representatives were confirmed by city council Thursday.

The decision enables regional parks functions to get under way.

Mayor R. B. Wilson appointed aldermen Geoffrey Edgelow, Cecil Parrott and Clyde Savage to have four, four and three votes respectively as city representatives on the new board.

Advisory planning commission's recommendation with regard to viewpoint property off Fairfield Road was turned over to zoning committee for study.

The bid is from lawyers on behalf of owner Doretta M. Stewart, 1471 Faircliffe Lane.

She wants to turn the 2½ acres overlooking Ross Bay Cemetery and Dallas Road into an apartment site.

APC recommended buying the property to reserve it for park purposes, which was supported by Ald. M. H. Mooney and Ald. Lily Wilson.

Mrs. Wilson said there is a "gorgeous view from the top. All that property should be park."

Adjoining land up to Memorial Crescent already is city-owned. On the other side are private dwellings of recent construction, and Ald. Robert Baird said the acreage should also be zoned for single family use.

Council referred to the same committee for interim study an APC report on special commercial uses in Cathedral Hill Precinct.

The report suggests special uses for limited and public service buildings, apartments, offices, hotels, theatres and auditoriums, together with site, setback, building, parking and sign requirements.

Aldermen endorsed Greater Victoria school board's supplemental $1.7 million school expansion bylaw going before ratepayers Dec. 11.

Vote Cost $5 Million

NEW YORK (AP)—The officially reported cost of the 1965 election campaign for mayor of New York rose to nearly $5,000,000 Wednesday, making it by far the most expensive in history. Reports filed with the board of elections boosted the expense figures for the Nov. 2 election to: $2,577,212 for the winner, Republican John Lindsay; $2,174,118 for Democrat Abraham Beame; $245,003 for Conservative William Buckley.

DIRECT DIALING ONLY 2½ YEARS DISTANT NOW

Victoria will get its long-awaited Direct Distance Dialing system by mid-1968.

A. A. Higinbotham, district manager for B.C. Telephone Co., in Victoria, said the initial cost of the system would be approximately $500,000.

The equipment necessary for the change will be manufactured by Automatic Electric Company, Brockville, Ont.

It is scheduled for delivery early in 1968 and will take about five months to install.

Victoria is one of the last cities in North America to get DDD which enables telephone users to dial long distance numbers without the aid of an operator.

Three-Step Climbers Called Chosen People

"Good" people climb mountains.

Most people never get past the foothills.

Addressing a Rotary Club of Victoria meeting Thursday, Rabbi Marvin Hier of the Schara Tzedeck Congregation in Vancouver said "the 'chosen people' are those who have climbed three steps to the top of the mountain.

"Judaism describes these three steps as justice, righteousness and love. Jews, though, are not the only people who can be just, righteous and truly loving. Anyone, of any faith or even without a faith, can be of the 'chosen people.'

"But the 'chosen people' are few."

Rabbi Hier explained his allegory.

"The first step, justice, is a negative virtue, a restraining one. He who does not kill, or steal, is just.

Righteousness, the second step, is positive and active; it involves concepts like mercy and sympathy. If you give up your seat in a crowded bus, thinking often of what others will think of you if you don't, then you are at this second step.

"Love is at the summit of our mountain. If you give up that same seat on the bus selfelessly, not under the dictates of society, then you have made the third step."

Speaking specifically of the annual Jewish holiday of Hanukah, which this year will be observed from Dec. 18 to Dec. 26, the rabbi said man needs "emblems" such as religious holidays to remind him of "the classics of his faith."

"It is these classics," he said, "that will make a man a finer human being."

Fine Replaces Jail for Nazi

LONDON (Reuters)—A three-month prison sentence on Colin Jordan, leader of Britain's Nazi party, was quashed Thursday and replaced by a £50 ($150) fine. Jordan, 42, appealed against a conviction of using insulting behavior likely to cause a breech of the peace outside the prime minister's residence during last month's visit by Rhodesian premier Ian Smith.

TRAFFIC OUT, PEDESTRIANS IN

Square Plan Proceeds Unchanged

Bastion Square restoration project will proceed as planned originally, a closed session of Victoria city council decided Thursday.

The move rejects a bid by some business to have Bastion Street between Government and Langley retained as a dual vehicle-pedestrian entrance to the square, which is being redeveloped under the urban renewal program.

The street will be closed to traffic to make an attractive pedestrian mall leading into the square, where B.C. Maritime Museum, a restaurant, other commercial development and beautification will transform the historic site.

Mayor R. B. Wilson said he had been in touch by telephone with Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation executive following a square committee meeting earlier in the day.

It was established that CMHC would not likely accept the proposed change to permit traffic to remain in the pedestrian mall, having signed an agreement with the city to provide funds (at 50 per cent of cost) for the plans that were submitted.

In any event a change at this point in the planning would have delayed construction and completion by May 31 1966, in time for the tourist season.

Maritime Museum is also concerned about the project since it depends on the redevelopment for patronage.

Lowest tender for the work from R. A. Hall Ltd. is for $176,418. Total cost, including fees and contingency fund would be $199,000, or $70,000 over estimate.

Federal and provincial governments will be asked to share in the increased cost.

May Trial for $45,000 Kidnap

TACOMA (AP) — Trial of the three men accused of kidnapping Charles H. Hyde for $45,000 ransom a week ago probably will be held next May or June, prosecutor John Mecutcheon said Thursday. Tilford Baker, 34, James Evans 31, and Dean Bromley 20, all of Tacoma, have been charged with first degree kidnapping in connection with the abduction in which the 13-year-old boy was returned to his parents nine hours after he was kidnapped on his way to school.

N-Ships Join Battle

Carrier, Frigate Off Viet Nam

(Times News Services)

SAIGON—Two nuclear-powered warships, including the biggest one in the world, today joined the U.S. 7th Fleet for use around Viet Nam as a lull in ground fighting stretched into its third straight day.

The huge aircraft carrier Enterprise and the guided missile frigate Bainbridge crossed the 160th degree of east longitude to bring them into the 7th Fleet area which covers a sixth of the globe, from the Arctic to the Antarctic and as far west as the Indian Ocean.

They are the first nuclear-powered ships to serve in the western Pacific.

They were en route to Viet Nam through the South China Sea on a voyage that started in Norfolk, Va., and took them through the South Atlantic and Indian oceans.

The 7th Fleet's Viet Nam striking force usually includes five carriers.

The Enterprise will replace one of the conventional - powered carriers.

JOIN FLEET LATER

The U.S. Navy's other two nuclear - powered vessels are scheduled to join the U.S. Pacific fleet next year, a U.S. navy statement said.

In the air, American attacks continued over both north and south Viet Nam. A reconnaissance plane Thursday night flushed seven 40-foot motorized sampans out of hiding in the Mekong Delta 130 miles southwest of Saigon, and jet bombers promptly destroyed them. Two of them were loaded with fuel and burst into flames.

U.S. bombers hit a North Vietnamese communications centre and a nearby military storage area, northwest of Hanoi.

In the highlands about 160 miles north of Saigon, South Vietnamese troops on a search-and-destroy mission killed 22 Viet Cong and captured four, as well as 650 pounds of rice and salt.

FIGHTING TAPERS OFF

In the ground war, the heavy fighting of recent days tapered off and the U.S. command said the last two days were the quietest in November.

In the Vo Dat Valley, 75 miles east-northeast of Saigon, B-52 bombers blasted a suspected Viet Cong concentration menacing the joint ground operations of several thousand U.S., Australian and South Vietnamese troops.

A U.S. military spokesman indicated the B-52 strike took place on the eastern edge of the 90-square-mile area where the allied forces are trying to rid the valley of guerrillas and protect the rice harvest.

In the bombing raids on North Viet Nam, U.S. planes destroyed a communications site near Dien Bien Phu, a group of 22 small boats further east, and dropped the span of a bridge 105 miles west of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman reported.

Talks Resume

NEW YORK (UPI)—Contract negotiations resumed today between the Daily News and the American Newspaper Guild under the shadow of a strike threatened for 6 p.m. which could shut down six major city newspapers.

VANDERPOLS FINALLY MAKE IT

'A Happy Day for Us' Says Newest Canadian

By JIM HUME

The Vanderpols are Canadian citizens.

To the whirr of television cameras and the flash of cameras, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Vanderpol, 2758 Grainger, today repeated the solemn affirmation pledging allegiance to the Queen and promising to observe faithfully the laws of their new country.

Ross Martin, registrar of citizenship in Ottawa, administered the affirmation as a scarlet-coated RCMP constable stood at attention beside a red-velvet draped painting of Queen Elizabeth.

Judge Montague Tyrwhitt-Drake, the county court judge who had earlier refused their application for citizenship because they refused to swear the oath of allegiance, watched quietly from the rear of the third floor courtroom in the Immigration Building on Government Street.

The Dutch-born couple had refused to swear the oath of allegiance because they do not believe in God.

Following taking of the affirmation Citizenship and Immigration Minister John Nicholson presented the Vanderpols with their certificates of citizenship.

"The granting of these certificates here today is of particular significance," Mr. Nicholson said. "This act represents the last of a series of incidents which has put to test our convictions regarding freedom of thought and religious belief."

UNDERSTOOD REFUSAL

Mr. Nicholson added that as a former lawyer he understood the rightness of Judge Drake's earlier refusal to accept the Vanderpol's citizenship bid.

He said that at the time of the Vanderpol application Judge Drake was unaware that the Supreme Court of Ontario had reversed two decisions of lower courts and in a three-judge ruling had stated "that lack of religious belief is not a ground upon which a citizenship court should decide against an applicant for citizenship."

"As a consequence Judge Drake felt that he could not administer the oath of allegiance to Mr. and Mrs. Vanderpol since they also admitted that they were atheists and could not conscientiously swear an oath in statutory form."

50 ATTEND

About 50 people, immigration officials, friends of the Vanderpols and members of the press were on hand to witness the brief ceremony.

"It's a happy day for us," Mr. Vanderpol said clutching his citizenship papers. "I'm so glad it turned out this way."

AUTOMATION PRIORITY

Unions Tune In On New Formula

By ROGER STONEBANKS
Times Labor Reporter

The automation formula in this week's settlement of the oil industry dispute in B.C. is attracting the attention of sections of organized labor.

There appears to be a move to keep the provincial government, author of the settlement formula, involved in the subject of technological change.

The International Woodworkers of America is reported considering giving high priority to a similar formula in next year's negotiations.

EXPIRES JUNE 15

The 26,000 IWA members covered by the coast agreement have a contract that expires next June 15.

A few months ago, the IWA said it intends to co-ordinate bargaining on technological change with other unions having jurisdiction in the lumber industry.

The union has also said it cannot rely solely on bargaining, but also public measures.

The oil industry settlement called for a standing committee on automation, six months' notice of automation changes leading to layoffs, government-management retraining of employees displaced by automation and a week's severance pay for every year of service.

The secretary-treasurer of the 110,000-member B.C. Federation of Labour, E. P. O'Neal, said he hopes the committee proposed in the formula will be expanded into a provincial one

Such a committee could then work in co-operation with the Manpower Consultative Service of the federal government. It would also work closely with the provincial departments of labor and education, together with labor and management, he said.

The oil industry settlement was called a victory in the field of automation by J. R. Duncan, national director of the Oil, Chemical and Aatomic Workers International Union.

RECOGNIZED

He said the B.C. formula recognizes automation is a subject for collective bargaining. The principle had hardly been recognized before.

After Disaster, New Hope

By CANDIDE TEMPLE

Fifteen years ago the Poombari district was like most others in southern India.

Disease and poverty were rife; hunger was an ever-present phantom haunting the people.

Then a typhus epidemic struck—and brought relief to the Poombari population.

For as the epidemic hit, and spread like wildfire through the district, pleas for medical aid went out.

When the news reached Unitarian Service Committee headquarters in nearby Kodaikanai, the call was answered immediately.

A doctor and supplies of medicine were sent into the district; volunteers, both Indian and Western, did what they could .

And USC workers remained in the area after the epidemic had passed, and have been there ever since.

Two-thirds of the budget of the rural medical program operating in Poombari is underwritten by the USC through help from Canadians.

Today the villagers in the area lead a vastly improved life, free from some of the ignorance and superstition

Freighter Breaking Up

SEATTLE (AP) — A relayed message from the North Pacific said the 10,000 - ton freighter Oduna, with 40 men aboard, was on the rocks on Unimak Island off the tip of the Alaska Peninsula and was breaking up, the U.S. Coast Guard here said today.

The message said:

"Oduna advises aground . . . breaking up . . . unable to get off."

Hunger Strike?

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Cuban exile leader Orlando Bosch threatened a hunger strike today to protest charges he attempted to extort $20,000 from fellow exiles in Florida.

Dr. Bosch, 39, a one-time provincial governor in Cuba, denied the charges. He labelled them "completely ridiculous."

Gagnon Sentenced

QUEBEC (CP)—Jean-Jacques Gagnon, convicted last month, was sentenced to five years in prison today on five counts of arson and conspiracy to commit arson.

He was earlier found criminally responsible by a coroner's court for the deaths of two of four persons whose bodies were recovered following a massive investigation into arson frauds in Quebec province.

In one charge he was found guilty of conspiring with businessman Moise Darabaner, 43, to set fire to a house in St. Lambert de Levis, Que. Darabaner faces a number of fraud and arson charges.

FORMER PREMIER Moise Tshombe may be called back to help form a government it was speculated today in The Congo. Joseph Kasavubu, ousted as president in a bloodless coup Thursday, was a rival of Tshombe's.

'Change Image For East'

EDMONTON (CP) — Highways Minister Phil Gaglardi of B.C. says Social Credit needs to change its party image to increase its appeal in Eastern Canada.

He suggested at a public meeting Thursday night during the national Social Credit convention that "trainloads" of businessmen from Eastern Canada should be brought west to examine every facet of Social Credit administrations in Alberta and B.C.

"They'd go back with a different idea about Social Credit. I suggest we get off our fannies and stop monkeying around.

"Let's show these people we are not crackpots on some financial theory. We know the value of the dollar."

The Social Credit party did not need a change in name to appeal to the east. "What must be changed is the party image," he added.

Defeats Two Challengers

EDMONTON (CP)—Robert Thompson beat back two challenges to his national Social Credit leadership today, defeating Members of Parliament Bert Leboe (Cariboo), and H. A. (Bud) Olson (Medicine Hat), on the first ballot at the party's convention.

THOMPSON
. . . passes test

Mr. Thompson, 51, has been leader since 1961, and has represented Red Deer in the Commons since 1962.

The number of votes polled by each leadership candidate was not revealed, but to win on the first ballot Mr. Thompson needed the support of 50 per cent of those voting.

Mr. Thompson was confident of a win before the voting by 283 delegates, an aide said.

The aide added: "In the last 24 hours the support for Leboe and Olson has waned."

CANDIDATES SPEAK

Each leadership candidate spoke for five minutes before the voting, with Mr. Olson, 40-year-old Medicine Hat MP, winning the draw to speak first.

Mr. Olson, a farmer touted as a possible choice as agriculture minister in the Liberal cabinet, told the convention: "In the past few years I think we have made some mistakes and we must change direction in some areas.

"If the pattern that has been set is going to continue the future is not too bright."

Mr. Olson said this is the only "realistic" conclusion that can be drawn from Social Credit's steady decline in Commons strength from 30 in 1962 to five today.

He said there is a need for "conciliation and compromise" among Social Crediters in all provinces, not just Quebec.

"We must change the image of Social Credit in the House of Commons."

A surprise move this morning saw H. J. Bruch, 45, Social Credit member of the B.C. Legislature for Esquimalt since 1953, nominated to contest the national president's position.

Georges Forest, of St. Boniface, Man., president of the Manitoba Social Credit League, said he nominated Mr. Bruch because "we have had organization and financial problems and these problems rest with the president."

Mr. Bruch, national vice-president of the organization in 1960-61, has campaigned extensively for the party in western Canada. He said he hopes to win considerable support from young delegates to the convention

300 TO VOTE

About 300 delegates will be voting for party officers including the leader, a national president and three vice-presidents.

Officially nominated for the vice-presidencies Thursday were Orvis Kennedy of Edmonton, president of the Alberta Social Credit League; J. M. Hattersley of Edmonton, J. E. Mackie of Toronto, Sam Otto of Chilliack, and J. C. Landeryou, Social Credit member of the Alberta Legislature for Lethbridge.

Jack Shaw of Penticton, Gilles Gregoire of Quebec, Creditiste MP for Lapointe, and Robert Kugland of Truro,, N.S., have resigned as vice-presidents.

PARIS (AP) — France sent a satellite orbiting around the earth today and joined the United States and Russia in the space race.

The defence ministry said the 83-pound satellite was launched successfully from the French base in the Algierian Sahara.

The satellite, called the A-1, is expected to relay radio signals on temperature and other atmospheric conditions for two weeks.

The space vehicle was launched by a three-stage Diamond rocket, under development for four years.

The satellite was first the French have tried to launch.

The Diamond rocket, with a thrust of about 28 tons, lofted the A-1 into an orbit whose apogee is 1,768 kilometres and whose perigee is 528 kilometres.

Each revolution of the satellite is to take one hour and 48 minutes.

An announcement relayed from the launching base at Hammaguir said "everything is functioning normally."

'I Intend To Remain'

SALISBURY (Reuters) — Sir Humphrey Gibbs, Britain's representative in Rhodesia, said today he would not resign as Britain's governor of the territory nor vacate Government House as requested by the new breakaway government.

In a brief statement to reporters, Gibbs said: "I intend to remain at Government House as the lawful governor of Rhodesia until such time as constitutional government is restored, which, I hope will be soon.

PRELUDE TO GREY CUP

Coach Attacked Me, Says Reporter

MONTREAL (CP)—The Star says in a sports page story that its football writer Ian MacDonald is recovering from injuries suffered in a beating in Toronto where football personalities and fans are gathering for Saturday's Grey Cup game.

The Star says MacDonald identified his assailant as Jim Trimble, deposed coach of Montreal Alouettes, and quoted Trimble in a telephone call today to Star sports editor Harold Atkins as saying:

"I am sorry for all this. I wanted to call you. I am sincerely sorry for what happened the other day. I wanted to tell you and I would like to talk to Ian."

The Star story adds:

"MacDonald with both eyes blackened, multiple bruises, rib damage and suspected kidney injuries is resting in his hotel room.

STARTED IN HOTEL

"The incident started in the hotel, and took place early Thursday morning between 1 and 2 a.m.

"It almost overshadowed the Grey Cup game for news value among media men.

"MacDonald explained that he exchanged his first words with Trimble in a hospitality suite of the Royal York Hotel.

"Then he grabbed me by the lapels of my jacket and pushed me against the wall a couple of times. I still don't know why."

"This incident was witnessed by Hal Walker, a Toronto public relations man.

"A few moments later the two left the hotel on a short taxi ride to the waterfront.

. . . COACH

"Montreal Star photographer Adrian Lunny saw the men leave in a taxi.

"It was at the waterfront, according to MacDonald, where Trimble struck him several times.

" 'I really didn't know what was happening to me,' " MacDonald said.

" 'I couldn't understand it, I asked him (Trimble) why he was doing this. He didn't answer. He hit me again.' "

"According to MacDonald Trimble forced him back into the waiting taxi and the two returned to the hotel. Trimble made it clear to MacDonald that he was taking him to the suite occupied by the former Alouette coach.

"MacDonald said: 'There were a few people with us on the elevator, but I didn't appeal to anyone for help. Maybe I should've. What I did though was to run off the elevator when it stopped a couple of floors below Trimble's suite. I was scared. I ran down a few flights of stairs, went through the exit door—and ran right into Trimble who had followed me by another route.' "

'KEPT HITTING ME'

It was in Trimble's suite, The Star says, that a major part of the beating took place.

" 'He hit me and kept hitting me,'' said MacDonald. 'When I fell he kicked me and I covered my head with my arms as best I could, but a lot of punches landed on my face, my arms and my body.' "

"At one point, according to MacDonald, Trimble promised to knock out all of the writer's teeth. Once MacDonald tried to crawl from the room. Trimble hauled him back.

" 'I kept asking him why he was doing this to me,' " said MacDonald. "But he would not answer, all he did was hit me. I guess he finally got tired of it after about 15 minutes of the beating. He threw me into the bathroom and pulled me up to wash the blood from my face. He warned me not to tell anyone about what had happened.' "

The Star says that in his telephone conversation with Atkins Trimble was asked if he had any animosity against MacDonald. Atkins quoted Trimble as replying:

"No (referring to animosity), I really don't know. I had been with some friends. I decided to go back to the hotel and that's where it happened. I want to apologize. I would like to talk to Ian and let him know."

TORONTO (CP)—It's still anyone's guess what the weather will be for Saturday's Grey Cup game.

The weatherman says a rain disturbance from Michigan should pass through Toronto this evening and overnight, with cloudy skies and colder temperatures following Saturday.

There is no longer the terrible feeling of isolation they had known before, the sense of being cut off from the rest of an uncaring world.

In 1955 a USC jeep ambulance was sent in to replace a broken down vehicle previously in service.

conduct Viet Nam peace soundings on his trip to the United Nations and in discussions with Johnson was that the prime minister meant the remarks for 'domestic consumption'—to placate British anti-war elements.

("The administration attitude is that Wilson knows very well where Johnson stands—that the president is determined to do everything necessary to halt aggression in South Viet Nam but at the same time holds himself in readiness to enter unconditional discussions aimed at negotiating a peaceful settlement."

When Wilson goes to Washington to meet President Johnson Dec. 17, he hopes to be able to put before the president the first results of British probings of Moscow's views.

FEARS MAJOR WAR

As far as the Viet Nam war is concerned, Wilson made it clear to the Commons that he believes North Viet Nam remains the major stumbling block to the holding of any peace conference.

He said the peace soundings to be made in Moscow and Washington have the aim of staving off "a major war in Asia, or worse."

"In our desire to get negotiations," Wilson said, "we shall continue to probe for any change of attitude which can bring the parties to the conference table."

Fighting Erupts In Athens

ATHENS (AP)—Police were called into the Greek Parliament at dawn today when an outbreak of fighting among deputies threatened the safety of the president of the House.

The incidents occurred toward the end of an all-night sitting on a routine matter of appointing minor Parliament officials.

About 100 members of the parliamentary guard were called by Parliament President Dimitrois Papaspyrou when leftist deputies took away the ballot box.

A melee broke out among government and opposition deputies.

Papaspyrou told reporters later that United Democratic Left (EDA) and Centre Union deputies threatened to drag him from his speaker's seat and beat him.

All deputies of George Papandreou's Centre Union and of the EDA parties walked out.

B.C. SYNOPSIS—An active weather disturbance was responsible for rain and snow along the coast Thursday night. Gales were whipped up by the storm on the north coast with winds of up to 48 miles per hour reported at Cape St. James. Temperatures overnight were generally milder in coastal areas as a result of the disturbance. The interior continued mostly clear and cold. Overnight temperature at Prince George of 23 below and Fort Nelson 30 below were the coldest in the province. Showers were expected behind the disturbance on the south coast today with some clearing in the evening. Snow flurries will accompany the disturbance through the southern interior.

Deadline Listed On Heavy Water

One Drawback, They Must Get Hair Cut

LONDON (Reuters) — A British army regiment—the 17-21 Lancers—is trying to recruit some of Britain's out-of-work rock 'n' roll musicians to fill 42 empty places in its band.

Regimental Sgt. Maj. George Graham thinks many of them could easily "stop strumming and learn to blow."

Recruits are promised concerts all over the world with the band, which is claimed to be the best dance group in the British army.

But there are drawbacks—they have to do three months of training and get their hair cut.

These Chaps Travel On Stamps

Victoria Y's Men's Club has a bathtub full of postage stamps.

"Not just a bathtub," says club president Jim Clark, "but pots, pans, sinks and basins" — all full of used stamps.

"We soak the glue off them that way, dry them, and send them to YMCA stamp headquarters in New Brunswick where they're packaged and sold to stamp dealers."

Mr. Clarke explains: "The money is put in the Y Bishop's Fund, which is a fund for travel expenses of foreign Y's club members in North America.

"As far as that goes," he said, "Y's club delegates go everywhere on stamps. They travel to and from 700 clubs in 43 countries. The Victoria club put up a Y's club member from Sweden last year with stamp money."

"We have collecting competitions within our own club and have accepted a challenge from the Seattle club."

"We've got a good chance," said Mr. Clark. "As long as we keep getting letters, and have friends in business with a volume of international mail."

All the Y's Men's Club will need then is bigger bathtubs.

CALGARY (CP)—A Monday deadline for Dynamic Power Corporation Ltd. of Calgary to submit a draft agreement to Atomic Energy of Canada for construction of a heavy water plant at Estevan, Sask., was confirmed today.

Frank Brown, Dynamic Power president, confirmed in a telephone interview from Ottawa that the Monday deadline has been set but said he would be in a better position to comment on the matter Monday afternoon.

He was commenting on a Halifax report which said Dynamic was running into difficulty in raising money for the proposed Estevan project.

Dynamic received a federal government order last July asking the company to supply 1,500 tons of heavy water—used as a coolant in nuclear reactors—over a five-year period.

The Halifax report had said that if Dynamic failed to go ahead with the project, there was an improved chance the deal would go to Nova Scotia's Deuterium of Canada Ltd. for expansion of a heavy water plant now under construction at Glace Bay, N.S.

REASONABLE OFFER

Gordon Grant, Saskatchewan minister of industry and commerce, has been quoted as saying: "We are interested in any reasonable offer. We will go to almost any limits. But we want to see the color of their (Dynamic's) money."

It is believed Dynamic has run into a shortage of equity capital to put into the project.

Harold Husband, president of Western Deuterium, declined comment. Last August, the Victoria-based company withdrew its bid for the Estevan project.

Margaret 12 and Lanny, 10, just grinned.

Mr. Nicholson said that it was his hope affirmation of loyalty to the crown and the country will be accepted by all citizenship court judges.

"Such affirmations have been accepted by numerous courts in the past," he said. "It is my hope that, in the light of the events that have transpired, they will continue to be accepted without difficulty and without prejudice in every part of Canada."

Following the ceremonies the courtroom took on a tea party air as the Vanderpols were flooded with congratulations and the immigration department served coffee and iced cakes.

Magistrate Quits Post Over Pension

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver senior magistrate Gordon Scott announced Wednesday he is quitting his post in a protest over what he described as an inadequate retirement pension.

His departure from the bench will be effective Dec. 1.

His decision to leave his $17,000-a-year position came after city council refused to guarantee him a $500-a-month pension when he reached retirement age of 75 in 1968.

A lawyer, he was appointed to the city magistrate's court bench in 1953 and if he had remained until retirement age would have received a pension of $261 a month.

Magistrate Scott said he will return to private practice.

oil industry source said any price increase likely will take place regionally as wage settlements are made, then level off nationally.

Part of the settlement formula was an extra 35 cents an hour over two years. One oil company called this inflationary. Union spokesman said any increase is unnecessary.

The formula is expected to provide the basis for settlement in other parts of Canada.

But in Clarkson, Ont., a union spokesman said the B.C. agreement would reduce job security if applied to British-American's refinery there.

The 419 union workers at Clarkson have been on strike more than two months, but supervisors have kept the refinery running.

Mothers.
Now an Effective Cough Syrup That Children Love to Take

JACK and JILL
COUGH SYRUP
Children's COUGHS COLDS

Pleasant-tasting Jack & Jill Cough Syrup with added Vitamin C Works wonders—children love it.

One of the most disturbing sounds a mother can hear is her child coughing at night. A nagging cough from a cold seems so much worse when it's irritating a child. The throat membranes of children are more sensitive, more easily hurt.

This is why W. K. Buckley spent years perfecting his special cough syrup for children. His time and trouble have been well rewarded. Today, Jack & Jill Cough Syrup helps more children's coughs than any other product in Canada. There are a number of very good reasons why Jack & Jill Cough Syrup is preferred by most Canadian Mothers.

The carefully selected ingredients in Jack & Jill Cough Syrup are double-acting. They relieve the congestion that causes so much trouble, and they relieve irritated throat membranes, making it easier for the child to swallow. Jack & Jill eases the irritation and lets your child rest comfortably.

Children like Jack & Jill. The mild, wild-cherry taste gives this cough syrup the pleasant flavour that children like so well. Jack & Jill Cough Syrup is both a treat and a treatment. And every dose of Jack & Jill contains added Vitamin C . . . the vitamin children specially need when they are feverish.

Jack & Jill Cough Syrup for children is sold everywhere. Ask for it by name.

LIBERALS STRANGLING CANADA

EDMONTON (CP) — Highways Minister Gaglardi of British Columbia said on Thursday Canada is being "strangled," despite its vast natural resources, by a lack of proper leadership in government.

"The time has come that the people of Canada should take a page out of the histories of Albert and B.C. and elect a Social Credit leadership," he said.

Alberta has had Social Credit administration for 30 years and B.C. for 13.

Back No-Confidence If 'Morality Matter'

EDMONTON (CP) — Social Credit leader Robert Thompson said Thursday his group in the House of Commons will not support any non-confidence motion designed only to promote a party's political fortunes.

Thus, he said, if the Progressive Conservatives move a motion of non-confidence in the Liberal government on grounds that the Liberals won't raise old age pensions to $100, the five Social Credit MPs will vote against the motion.

He said that in such a situation it would be clear that the Conservatives were only trying to promote their own political fortunes, perhaps through another election.

He said Social Credit would support any motion of non-confidence based on the issue of morality in government.

SOCRED RESOLUTIONS

Handicapped Aid To Help Parents

EDMONTON (CP)—Financial aid for parents of handicapped children is advocated in two resolutions to be considered today by the national Social Credit convention.

Both resolutions say parents of mentally or physically-handicapped children are faced with unusual costs for medicine, education and other items.

One recommends a doubling of the family allowance paid by the federal government in cases where children are handicapped. The other recommends a special income tax exemption of $1,000 for parents of handicapped youngsters.

The Social Credit convention also will consider a resolution asking that panels of "legal advisers" be set up in major cities to provide legal aid "for a nominal fee."

These panels would ensure that justice is not denied a person solely because the individual can't pay legal costs, the resolution says.

The legal advisers would be "persons familiar with court procedures who could, after passing a test of competency, plead both criminal and civil cases for their clients."

Another resolution asks that contributions of children to their parents' incomes be made tax deductible up to a level of $1,500 a year.

Prison Expansion

OTTAWA (CP) — Stevenson Construction Co. Ltd., Vancouver, has been awarded a $118,600 contract for the construction of additions to Mountain Prison, Agassiz, B.C. the public works department annuonced Wednesday.

MARTIN SCORES FEDERAL STAND

EDMONTON (CP) — Eric Martin, British Columbia health minister, Thursday said the federal government discriminates against Canadians suffering from mental illness and tuberculosis.

Speaking at the national Social Credit party convention, Mr. Martin said the federal government had "stubbornly refused" to bring mental and tubercular patients under the federal-provincial hospital insurance plan.

"It doesn't make sense. Why discriminate against anyone?" Mr. Martin asked.

Sluggish Kidneys May Bring Restless Nights

If you "fight the pillow", toss and turn all through the night and don't really know why—perhaps here's news and help for you! One cause of such restlessness may be traced to sluggish kidney action. Urinary irritation and bladder discomfort may follow. The result can be backache and restless nights. This is when Dodd's Kidney Pills can help bring relief. Dodd's stimulate kidney action, helps relieve the irritated condition that causes the backache. Take Dodd's, and see if you don't feel better, rest better. Used successfully by millions for over 70 years. New large size saves money.
